A WEAK ADMINISTRATION.

An exchange very aptly summarizes the result of Hon. MacKenzie Bowell's cabinet making, with the remark that it is the same old government, without Sir John Thompson, and with Messrs. Dickey, Ferguson and Montague added, but all three new appointees combined, do not aggregate the ability of the deceased Premier. The position of Minister of Justice held and filled by Sir John Thompson, has fallen to Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper, who before entering political life, young politician, but his knowledge of law is rather restricted for so important a position. There has been a shuffling of hang on. The Premier and Ives exchange positions, the former becoming president of the Council and the latter, minister of trade and commerce. Costigan is the new minister of marine and fisheries, and Dickey, of Cumberland, N. S., one of the new men succeeds him as secretary of state. He is the only minister who will have to seek re-election. Dr. Montague and D. Ferguson, of P. E. Island, come into the cabinet without office, and Car-

These are the changes, and they do not go to strengthen the Cabinet before the people of Canada. We have referred in another article to the new Premier's weakness. The only men of ability he has around him, are Foster, Tupper and Haggart, but none of these three are personally popular. Mr. Foster is probably the most intellectual man in the cabinet, but he has no following, and is not expected to carry his own constituency in the next election. Mr. Costigan is a singularly fortunate man; premiers and cabinets may come and go, but he goes on forever. It is understood that the cabinet shuffling is not at all satisfactory to New Brunswick Tories. Mr. Hazen is ambitious for position, so is Mr. Wood of Westmorland, and Dr. Weldon, of Albert, and they cannot see why their claims are not allowed. The administration as a whole, is weak in ability, the corrupt gang are still predomthe public feeling, when they meet at the polls and "turn the rascals out."

THE NEW MINISTERS. Arthur R. Dickey, Q. C., member for Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, and the new Secretary of State in the Dominion Cabinet, is a son of Senator Dickey, and was born at Amherst in 1854. He was educated at Windsor, N. S., and graduated a B. A. at the University of Toronto in 1874. He was called to the bar of Nova Scotia in 1878, and was appointed a Q. C. by the Deminion Government in 1890. He was first returned to parliament in July, 1888. on the resignation of Sir Charles Tupper. The election was declared void, and a new election was held in December, when he was re-elected. He was re-elected for the seat at the last general elections. Mr. Dickey resides and practices law in Amherst. He is a temperance man.

Senator Ferguson, member of the cabinet without portfolio, was born at Epset River, P. E. I., of Scotch parents, in 1839. He was married in 1873 to Miss Scott of Charlottetown. He has served his province in various capacities. He contested Queen's county, first division, for the Legislative Council unsuccessfully in 1873 and 1874, and was defeated for the Fort Agustus district for the Assembly in 1876. In 1878 he was returned by acclamation for at 11.30. the third district of Kings. On the resignation of the Davies ministry in 1879 he became a member of the Executive Council and Commissioner of PublicWorks; was elected by acclamation at the general election of 1879. After serving as Provinciał Secretary and Minister of Crown Lands, he was elected in 1882 and reelected in 1886. In 1887 he was re-elected and re-appointed a member of the Executive Committee and Provincial Secretary, also Commissioner of Public Works. He went out of office when the McLeod government resigned on April 11, 1891, ran for the House of Commons the same

There are 12 spans, of which 8 average 183 feet, or a total of 1464: one span is 186 feet long; one 225 feet long; one 50 feet and one 100 feet - making the grand total, 2025 feet. criticism, that in this bridge the people had The height of the centre of the long span is 31 feet, and at the centre of nine spans is 27 feet. The clear head room of all spans is 17 ft. 6 in., allowing the largest load of hay could obtain, there was not a bridge of its and a man standing on same to pass with ample clearness. The weight of the estimated material in the superstructure was 534 tons, while the actual weight was 537 as shown by the certified weights of the inspector at the works before shipment from Montreal. (Applause.) This shows that the contractors furnished three tons more than ontracted for, and the inspection here shows that every pound of the iron Was Used in the Work.

Owing to the arrangements made by the Government with W. G. Ferris & Co., professional bridge inspectors of Pittsburg, the inspection was the most thorough, perhaps, that was ever made upon any bridge in America. That was a strong statement to make, but he believed it was a correct one. That company's representatives at Montreal and Woodstock were W. H. Arnold and John Stulen. They had certainly done their work well - much, perhaps, to the regret of Mr. Came's company who, while they have done their work so well, will perhaps not make so much money out of the work as if the inspection had been less thorough. (Laughter.) The inspector of the lumber and flooring was Albert Brewer. The price of the superstructure was $42,487 and he thought he was safe in saving that the extras on that account would not exceed one per cent of that amount. He must no forget to mention that a great deal of the credit in connection with the magnificent structure was due to the ability, skill and care of their own engineer, A. R. Wetmore (Applause.)
