Winnipeg Soldier Added to Canadian Death Roll.

London, May 4.—The Telegram's special cable from London says: Lieut. C. S. Wilkie, Tenth Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, an officer of "C" Company Royal Canadian Regiment infantry, has been killed home from South Africa. He was a comrade in the British army, and was one of the men who were killed on Cape Coast, bound for England.

Capt. Pelletier of F. Co. Quebec in England suffering from the effects of sunstroke.

Lieut. Weldon McLean.

The Illustrated London News of May 5 contains a very fine photograph of Lieut. Weldon McLean. Speaking of the young Canadian who has received from Lord Roberts a commission in the British army, is the son of Lieut. Col. Hugh H. McLean, who was in England last year in command of the Canadian rifle team. The lieutenant in the Royal Field Artillery was only eighteen last August. He was educated at the Royal Military College, Kingston, and was one of the first officers appointed to the first Canadian contingent in South Africa, leaving St. John, New Brunswick, to join the G. Company. Lieut. McLean made a great impression on Lord Methuen as a cartographer.

Good Men and True.

Toronto, May 4.—The Globe's special cable from London says: Rudyard Kipling in today's London Daily Mail, referring to the desirability of colonial settlements in South Africa and the lack of inducements offered by the home government, says: "Among the various hospitals lie three hundred Canadians of the very stamp and breed we require, young, sound, clean, intelligent, well educated. Three hundred heads of sane and capable families. Shall we let all these beautiful men go back to their own place and never lift a finger to save them?"

Afraid of the Boer.

London, May 4.—The Daily News has the following from Thaba N'Chu, dated Wednesday:

"In yesterday's flanking movement Captain Towne and fifty Gordon Highlanders were surrounded by 250 Boers, who demanded their surrender. Captain Towne ordered his men to fix bayonets and charge. With a wild cheer the Gordons rushed at the enemy and swept them away with great slaughter. Capt. Towne was blinded in both eyes by the enemy's fire, and throughout he saved most heroically."

Another Canadian Dead.

Ottawa, May 4.—A cable received at the Militia department today announces the death of Pte. B. Liston, Winnipeg first Canadian contingent.

DIED OF BROKEN HEART.

Dreary End of the French Yoo Consul at New York.

New York, May 4.—Count Dolpex French vice consul in this city is dead, under most distressing circumstances.

He was the husband of Mme. Marie Oelli, the famous teacher of singing, and son of the late Count de Dolpex.

At her death the Count looked himself in the room with his dead wife and refused to allow the body to be removed and at length his intimate friends had to use force. Later he was removed to the insane asylum and was expected to remain there until he died April 10th.

He refused food and last night his dead body was brought back to the city for burial.

STREAMSHIP LOST.

An Elder-Demster Liner Bound for Montreal

LOST IN THE FOG AND PROBABLY A TOTAL WRECK.

Crew Reached Land Safely this Morning.

St. John's, Newfoundland, May 4.—The British steamer, Montserrat, of the Elder-Demster line of Liverpool, from Cardiff, April 17, and Los Palmas, April 28, for Montreal, while bound up the St. Lawrence estuary last night in a dense fog at Duck Island, three miles from Cape Ray at the entrance to Cabot Strait.

Nothing has been heard of the crew or passengers.

The ship is probably a total loss.

The Montserrat struck at 9 o'clock last night and beat out her bow and bottom on the rocks. She is breaking to pieces today.

The crew landed today, from the steamer's boats in which they spent the night, lying off the coast waiting for daylight. The crew had many narrow escapes while launching the boats in the darkness.

Lieut. H. C. Blair, the crack marksman of the 78th Highlanders, Truro, N.S., joined the school today for a special course of instruction. Lieut. Blair took a course last spring and made many friends, who are now departing in the way of military dress, and the "dick" is being complimented upon his originality.

The short course men at the barracks are making excellent progress with the drill under the tuition of Drill Sergeant Brewer.

HARVEY STATION.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald.)

May 3.—Mr. Robert H. Robinson with his wife and family, left last evening by the Pacific express for Vancouver, where they intend to reside in future. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have resided at the station for the last sixteen years and were most respected by all who knew them, and we feel that the community has sustained a severe loss by their removal.

Last Saturday evening the members of Court Harvey Glen, I. O. F., of which Mr. Robinson is a member, presented him with a handsome set of silver table cutlery accompanied by the following address: Mr. H. Robinson.

Dear Sir and Brother.—As you are about to go out from among us we desire in some degree to give expression to our high regard for you, and to thank you for your efficient and faithful service to this court, and to the order. During the years that you have filled the office of financial secretary, we have always found your work well done, and it is with deep regret that we part with you. We feel that your departure will leave a place in the court which will be very hard to fill as well as you have filled it. Wherever you go we assure you that you will have our best wishes for the success and happiness of yourself and your estimable wife. May the supreme chief of the universe in whom we trust ever be with you to guide and protect you.

We desire you to accept this set of table cutlery as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us. We hope that you will have much pleasure in its use and that it will often bring to your memory pleasant recollections of Court Harvey Glen. (Sgd.)

CONAN DOYLE

Describes the British Soldier.

"TOMMY IS A GREAT MAN," THE NOVELIST WRITES FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

London, April 18.—Dr. Conan Doyle, who went out as a volunteer doctor, pays a glowing tribute in the Daily News to the British soldier and at the same time tells of some remarkable wounds.

"Tommy is a great man," writes the novelist. "I want to write you yesterday and saw him in various stages of mutilation and torture, and I take my hat off to him. Heroic he is in his non-stentorian patience and persistent sense of humor. One poor fellow, shot through both optic nerves—some hope of saving the left eye was pleaded and quiet.

"The bullet that went through me, sir, hit Gen. Knox afterward, says another, proudly.

"Yes, sir, my corps did very well at Paardeberg," says a broken Canadian.

"Another Highlander was wounded at Magersfontein, healed up, and had just come back, wounded again at Paardeberg. The coincidence seemed to amuse him.

"Yes, sir, the bullets are all over you. If once you begin to mind them in action you might as well not be here at all.

"The bone is healing, sir. I can hardly hold myself, I feel so pleased about it. One poor fellow was crying—his delicate nerve had been paralyzed by a bullet and he had been plowed up and night. Nature will in time accommodate itself.

R. car shops at Moncton, and was a farm laborer, working near Moncton. When the call to arms came he and his brother Ernest both enlisted in the first Canadian contingent.

St. Mary's School Trouble.

The statement is denied that the St. Mary's school trouble was settled by the little girl, Eva Clary, making an apology, upon which she was reinstated. The truth is that the trustees after hearing the evidence said the matter ought to be dropped. The little girl made no apology and insisted on her innocence, but said she had seen the boy, making an apology before or not, she would give no cause of complaint in the way of military dress, and the "dick" is being complimented upon his originality.

The short course men at the barracks are making excellent progress with the drill under the tuition of Drill Sergeant Brewer.

An Academic Eater.

The April number of the Atlantic Monthly contains a poem "An Academic Eater" from the gift pen of F. J. Sherman, our former townsmen, now in the Merchants' Bank agency at Havana. The poem tells the story of the blockade of Lady La Tour by Seigneur d'Antony Charney at the mouth of the St. John River in 1645; the capitulation of Lady La Tour and her death of grief at Charney's refusal to respect the terms of the truce. The story is beautifully told in alternate pieces of monologue and narrative.

He Was a Banker.

Pt. Cotton, of Ottawa, who was killed near Thaba N'Chu, Tuesday, was a clerk in the Bank of Montreal when he enlisted in the first Canadian contingent, and for two years was employed in the Kingston branch with W. H. Norton-Taylor, accountant of the Bank's agency in this city. Cotton was an athlete, and Mr. Norton-Taylor says he was a young man of good habits and very popular. His father is Col. Cotton, D. O. C. of Ottawa.

Letter Written by King Agrippa to Christ.

END OUR SAVIOUR'S REPLY THEREON.

New York, May 2.—The Herald, and the Journal and Advertiser print today special cables from London and Rome respectively, which say that two letters have been found one from King Agrippa to Christ and the other from the Saviour to the King, in reply.

Letters referred to by Eusebius in the fourth century have been discovered after being lost for 1800 years.

The letter from King Agrippa to Christ reads: "I have heard of Thee and the cures wrought by Thee, without herb or medicine, for it is reported that thou re- storest sight to the blind, and maketh the lame to walk, cleanseth the leper, raiseth the dead, casteth out devils and unclean spirits and healeth those that are tormented of disease of a long continuance.

"Hearing all this of Thee I was fully persuaded that Thou art the very God come down from Heaven to do such miracles, and that Thou art the Son of God and performest them, wh- before, I have sent Thee a few lines entreating Thee to come hither and cure my disease besides. Hearing that the Jews murmur against Thee and continue to do Thee mischief I invite Thee to my city, which is but a little one, but is hearty and sufficient to entertain us here."

Christ's reply to the above reads: "Blessed are thou for believing me whom thou hast not seen, for it is written of me, that they that have seen me shall not believe, and they that have not seen me shall believe, and be saved. But concerning the matter thou has written about, this is to acquaint thee that all things for which I was sent hither must be fulfilled, and then I shall be taken up and returned to Him that sent me. But after my ascension I will send one of my disciples that shall cure thee of thy distemper and give life to all them that are with thee."

The Journal and Advertiser says: "The special cable from Rome purports to prove the truth of a tradition that is almost as ancient as Christianity. Of course the Journal cannot vouch for the truth of the statements which were made on April 30th by Prof. Bohrmann of Vienna university to the archaeological congress in Rome, but they are of intense interest.

The cable message continues to "Professor Bohrmann announced that these letters had been discovered carried in stoneware of the gate way of the old palace of the kings of Eusebius, and that they were undoubtedly the letter referred to by Eusebius in another letter written according to whom they were written in Syria (on Palestine) character originally discovered under a stone eighty four miles from the city of Jerusalem in the year ninety-seven and then fragments purporting to be of the originals were declared spurious by Pope Leo III. Professor Bohrmann says the discovery proves that such letters were written and supplies the full text.

A special cable from London is also printed in which Professor Robert M. Murray, keeper of the department of botany and natural history in the British Museum, is quoted as saying that the inscription was a genuine. Prof. Murray had been shown a fac simile."

Capt. Mahon, the distinguished American naval officer and writer on naval subjects, after receiving the honorary degree of D. C. L. at McGill University, spoke of the American war. He declared that it had given him great pleasure to be able to side with Great Britain in the present momentous struggle. He had done so because he believed she was in the right. (Applause.) Had he not believed so he would never have given his voice and pen to her cause. He rejoiced, as an American, in the growing greatness of the British Empire, and he was pleased at the manner in which colonial assistance had been sent forward. (Applause.) He recognized in the empire a rival and a competitor to his own country, but he believed that such rivalry and competition would in the end redound to the advantage of the English-speaking race.

LaPatric referring to the attempted political reconstruction of Sir Hector Langgavin, says:

"The Tories are whispering that Sir Hector Langgavin will return to the political arena at the coming elections, and that he will stand for Quebec Centre. This is a man who was compelled to resign on account of misdemeanors in his department and of scandals almost unnumberable. He undertakes dealings with his old friends, McGrovey and Connolly were such that these two men were sent to prison. Sir Hector himself surrendered his portfolio, retired covered with shame, loaded with dishonour and has since expiated in silence and remorse the iniquities of his career. And this man, so fallen, would dare to defy the public conscience and feeling of honest electors! The Tory party must in very much abused and very poor in men to make a Langgavin!

Brandfort which Lord Roberts announces as being occupied by the British, is north of Bloemfontein on the direct road to Pretoria, and is said to command the road by which Gen. Buller may bring his forces with the main British army. The Boers have apparently trekked out of the southern portion of the Orange Free State and are concentrating on the Vaal river, the Transvaal boundary, to prevent further British advance. Their excursion in the Ladybrand and adjoining districts was evidently to replenish their depleted stores.

The trial of the conspirators who dynamited the Welland canal locks, promises to be a sensational one. The men under trial are alleged to be Fenians from Dublin, and one of them, Nolan, is identified as having been tried at Dublin for murder, and as long known as an ardent Fenian. The government of Canada, evidently anticipating further Windsor, have ordered the Essex county militia battalions to be at their quarters at Windsor, Ont., to be under arms ready for active service.

It is understood that among those who are to receive the honorary degree of LL. D. at the University of Toronto, will be Governor McLean, Premier Emmerson, Chief Justice Tuck, Judge Landry, Rev. Canon Roberts, W. P. Dole, Rev. Canon Devereux, Rev. Mr. Milligan, of Newfoundland, Principal Peterson and Dr. Adams, of McGill University, and other visiting representatives of sister colleges. Dr. Rand and William Crockett, former superintendents of education in this province.

In the course of his speech at the London banquet, Hon. Mr. Tarte in proposing The British Empire League, said: "Speaking as a minister of the crown and a French Canadian, I desire to say that my countrymen are as loyal to the empire as the people of London." Mr. Tarte was accorded a magnificent reception, and his remarks were warmly applauded. During the evening the chief guest, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, chatted with Mr. Tarte and Col. Denison.

The London Times (April 17) declares that "It is thoroughly satisfactory to know that the Canadian Dominion is prospering, that the finances are managed on sound principles, and that the public credit stands higher than at any former period." Our Canadian Tory friends will be stopping their subscriptions to the Thunderer, if it talks much in that way.

Liberals carried Portsmouth Thursday in a bye election, returning their candidate, T. A. Brandon, by 610 votes over his Conservative opponent, who represented the new imperialistic sentiment, which, it was thought, would have a strong hold upon a seaport constituency like Portsmouth.

The report of Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice, shows the penitentiary population of Canada to be 1,445, of whom 59 are left convicts. Of these only 151 are total abstainers, 449 being registered as intemperate. There are 254 illiterates.

The budget debate in the house of commons closed Thursday, and the government was sustained by a vote of 88 to 48, a majority of 40 in a slim house. All the independent voted with the government. The debate commenced forty-one days ago.

Mr. Blair is doing well with the Inter-colonial. Last year the excess of earnings over expenditures was $28,545, against an excess of expenditure over earnings of previous years of $209,978, or a betterment of $272,623.

The Klondike clean up for this season is estimated at $18,000,000.

Rev. Mr. Lodge's Mistake.

A slight fire occurred Wednesday morning in the Central Methodist parsonage, Moncton. The blaze originated in Rev. Mr. Lodge's study and did considerable damage to his library. His loss will probably be $200 or $300.
