OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR THE

Finlay yesterday was given a majority of nearly six hundred. The two Conservatives in the last Legislature went down in defeat. A. J. Robertson was beaten in Nanton by J. M. McDougall, and C. Herbert lost his deposit in Didsbury, where Jos. Stammer was elected. The one Liberal member in the last Legislature who was not returned was Mr. Moore, in Red Deer, where E. Mitchell, Independent Conservative, was successful. Mr. Moore attributes his defeat to the meeting in Red Deer last Thursday, at which the Premier and Attorney-General Cross were advertised to appear, but at which neither was able to be present. This meeting was arranged by Mr. Moore's committee without consulting the Premier or the Attorney-General.

In Stony Plain, John McPherson, the late member, was successful over Dan Brock, another Liberal candidate. The majority was a narrow one. In the constituencies along the Canadian Northern Railway, the majorities for the Liberal candidates were all large. In the south, the contests were close. W. A. Buchanan, editor of the "Edmonton Herald," was elected by a majority of 63 over W. C. Ives, Conservative.

Messrs. McKinnon and Day, who did much of the hard work of the campaign in the city, resigned an ovation upon mounting the platform. "This, May in his remarks said: 'I feel just as proud tonight of our magnificent victory as if it had been myself that was elected instead of Mr. McDougall.'"

Joseph Adair: "My part in the campaign has been a passive one; the credit is due to Messrs. McKinnon and Day and the other hard workers. I supported the government because they passed the Compensation Act in the interests of the betterment of the people of the Province."

Each speaker was greeted with cheers and applause. It was at length decided that there were hundreds of people on the streets who would like to hear the Liberal candidates' addresses adjourned to the front of the Windsor hotel.

Not a Vain Fight. He believed, however, that the fight carried on in this election by the Liberal party was not in vain if Conservatives would but continue in the future to carry the high the street and after a brief interval during which they were receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends, they were conducted to a double-seated carriage and were put at the head of a procession which marched up and down Jasper avenue accompanied by the Edmonton band and a great following of people. The celebration was in every way a fit accompaniment to a two-fold victory such as Edmonton had never seen before.

The Day's Work. The day began at 8 o'clock in the morning and continued to the last stroke of the minute at six o'clock when the polls opened and closed. The one thing which was everywhere apparent and at all periods of the day was the unflinching confidence and courage of the Liberal party. The Liberal committee rooms had effected. So pronounced was it that it fairly dumfounded the Conservative workers and deprived even the most sanguine of any ray of hope for the success of Candidate Ewing. Many of the men who were most closely allied with the Conservative party were seen on the street displaying no disposition to assist in getting out the vote. It was a lost cause with the Conservatives from the very first dawn of the election day.

The Liberal candidates sped in an auto car from poll to poll and felt the pulse of the organization at work. At all times it was found to be working to full capacity and the elected candidates quite fairly credit their victory to the standard they had hitherto displayed. The defeat of those who now held power—rather, who abused the power they now hold—must inevitably come to pass. He could not say what the result of the elections throughout the province had been, but he entertained the hope that there would be such a strong opposition in the new legislature as would make the government realize that it could not again precipitate an election in the high-handed manner in which this one had been projected.

Railway Policy a Scheme. He characterized the railway policy of the government as a scheme whereby the government was to be more amply secured, and closed his address in an eulogy of the ability and energy of the workers who had supported him during the contest. He felt sure that at another time, under other circumstances and with another candidate, the cause of the Conservative party would meet with better success.

Domestic Moral Victory. J. D. Hyndman and other speakers followed, each and all finding solace in the results of the day's voting in the sentiment that it had been a great moral victory for the Conservative party. In Strathcona, with 13 polls heard read the returns from all the provincial constituencies as soon as they came over the private wire which was installed in the hall. The contest in Calgary proved as interesting as that in Edmonton. As one account followed another it showed Hon. W. H. Cushing rolling up a safe majority with R. B. Bennett a rather close second. It was soon conceded that Messrs. Cushing and Bennett would be returned. The good vote polled by Dr. Ebert won for him many plaudits from the crowd.

Although the survey of the province was made and found to be even better than general expectations, especially in regard to the southern constituencies where the sectional cry was so persistently sounded, the citizens of Edmonton turned their attention especially to their victorious candidates. At the call for speakers a number of short but happy addresses were given.

Hon. Mr. Cross and John A. McDougall spoke briefly thanking all sincerely for the hard work that they had done on his behalf. Mr. Cross then suggested that a number of the workers during the campaign be honored. Among those who spoke were Jas.

partisan administration. If they succeed in doing so they may appear before the court four years hence on a non-partisan election. "I thank you from the bottom of my heart," concluded Mr. Cross, "for the support which you have given me and my colleagues today."

The ring of sincerity in Mr. Cross' words brought him tremendous applause as he retired to give place to Mr. McDougall.

Mr. McDougall Speaks. Mr. McDougall said that such a magnificent crowd as he saw before him was proud of the city, the day he was elected mayor but he felt a greater pride and confidence in the city when he found himself called to represent it in the Legislature.

"I thank every one of you from the bottom of my heart," said Mr. McDougall, "the ladies as well, because I think that they worked for me too."

The alarm bell of an approaching street car drowned the speaker's voice for a minute and a mighty cheer went up when some one remarked "That's one of your street cars, sir."

The victory today continued Mr. McDougall, "was due to the united efforts of the splendid lot of young men who were pushed aside by the Liberal organization in its appeals to the mercenary and meaner motives of the electioneering party. It was not upon terms of campaign literature, by the aid of hirelings, who were paid from $4 to $6 per day, was the chief means of this 'conquer' victory. It is conceded to the Government, the Liberal organization had throttled the voice of conscience."

BLACK HAND IN MILWAUKEE. House of an Italian Who Refused Demands For Money, is Dynamited.

MILWAUKEE, March 19.—The "Italian colony" is terror stricken over the appearance of a band of Black Hand extortionists, who have threatened instant death to residents if they refuse to accede to the demands for money. In fulfillment of a promise to kill because Frank Spicuzza refused to leave $400 under the sidewalk near his home, desperadoes dynamited the Spicuzza home. That no one was killed was due, it is said, to the fact that the Spicuzza family were not familiar with the proper use of them. As it was the back porch was blown to pieces, the rear of the two-story structure was blown out, and Spicuzza, his brother, wife and children escaped to the street in their night clothes, fast in time to avoid being trapped by the flames in their apartments. It was the second attempt made to kill Spicuzza and his family. Three weeks ago a huge stick of dynamite was found hidden on the porch and it was believed that it might be used to destroy his family and home. The house of C. C. Canilo, a relative of Spicuzza, caught fire under mysterious circumstances a month ago, a day after he ignored a third letter demanding the delivery of several hundred dollars to a stranger.

united efforts of the young Liberal supporters in the city. The polling was distributed fairly well during the day but many voters took advantage of the early hour between eight and nine o'clock to register the choice of candidates. The same could be said of the hour between five and six o'clock, thus demonstrating that the extension of the hours of voting under the new Election Act has been greatly appreciated by the public.

The heavy roads beyond the limits of the macadamized area made travelling heavy but horses, as well as men, knew no rest until the work was done. Throughout the day the best of good spirits was displayed and even the merchants whose sales were below the average jested good naturedly in the general conjecture as to what the results of the election would be.

At Conservative Headquarters. At the Conservative headquarters an utter exhaustion appeared to have taken possession of the members as a result of the day's struggle. At half-past eight W. A. Griesbach, who was defeated by the Hon. C. W. Cross in 1905, attended the platform and announced that the Conservative candidate and others would address the gathering. He said that although half-past ten the Strathcona band serenaded the Premier at his home on Main street north, where they were given a brief speech by Dr. Rutherford.

665,000 FOR SURVEY OF LINE TO PORT NELSON

House of Commons Passes Estimates For This Purpose—Hudson Bay Railway to Be Built By Government—Two Cent Fares and Question of Holding Elections on Same Day in All Constituencies Discussed.

Ottawa, March 19.—The House of Commons spent practically the whole day voting supply; the last two hours being spent on harbor and river votes for Manitoba. The Conservative members under the Minister of Public Works with questions which were wide of the matter in hand, but good headway was made. G. H. Bradbury entered a protest because the vote for a pier at Winnipeg Beach, which appeared in last year's estimates, had been dropped.

A brief discussion on the question of a two cent fare on railways was introduced early in the day by W. E. MacLean, the discussion being confined to Mr. MacLean and Hon. Geo. F. Gribble.

Hudson Bay Railway Survey. In supply on the railway estimates an item of $65,000 for the Hudson Bay railway survey was called, and E. S. Lake (Conservative, Qu'Appelle) inquired as to the government's plans. Hon. Mr. Graham replied that the vote would be spent for a survey to Port Nelson, to which the line would be six miles shorter. Mr. Lane asked if the line would be a government road. Mr. Graham replied that the Premier had announced at Niagara that it would be built by the government, and that at present he was unable to give any details.

Mr. Lane urged that the Hudson Bay railway should not stop at Pas Misison. That would make a feeder of the Canadian Pacific alone. It should also connect with the G.P. and C.N.R., declared Mr. Lane.

Await Engineer's Report. In the Upper House, Senator Cartwright today that the government would not undertake to state its intention as to the building of the Hudson Bay railroad beginning this spring until further reports have been received from the surveying engineers now in the field.

Fire Invades Fashion. New York, March 18.—A fierce fire swept through the fashionable six-story apartment house at No. 24 West 57th street, next door to the Hotel Plaza, at midnight. About twenty families were asleep in the building at the time. Fifteen persons were injured or affected by the smoke.

TORTURED BY RHEUMATISM? Zam-Buk Will Give You Ease!

Just at this season when the cold dry winter is giving way to a milder yet more humid season, the germs of rheumatism, sciatica, and allied ailments come upon their victims with renewed force.

As soon as you feel any deep-seated pain in the joints, back, wrists, or elsewhere, place a liberal supply of Zam-Buk on the fingers or on the palm of the hand, and rub it well into the part affected. The penetrating power of this "embrocation-balm" is exceedingly great, and once having reached the seat of the pain it removes it speedily. It also cures the stiffness which is so unpleasant.

Frequent rubbings of the afflicted parts with Zam-Buk will not only drive out all pain, reduce swellings, etc., but will strengthen the skin and tissues and enable them to resist cold and damp. The following case will show how Zam-Buk brings ease to those tortured by rheumatism.

Mr. P. G. Wells, of 335 Queen Street, Port William, Ont., says: "Following my duties in attending to passenger trains I often get wet through with rain and steam (the latter in winter). This with hours of duty in inclement summer was no doubt the cause of my contracting rheumatism in both knees, left arm and shoulder. This got so bad that I could no longer work, and was laid off on three different occasions for several weeks, during which I was under the treatment of my doctor. I seemed to get little if any better, no matter what I tried, and this was my state when Zam-Buk was recommended to me. I laid in a supply, and to my great joy began to cure me. I rubbed it well in every night, and when a few boxes had been used, found I was free from the pain and stiffness of rheumatism. I have had no more trouble from the disease and unhesitatingly recommend Zam-Buk to all who suffer from rheumatism, muscular stiffness, etc."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for eczema, ring-worm, ulcers, abscesses, piles, bad leg, suppurating wounds, cuts, burns, bruises, chapped hands, cold-cracks, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. per box, plus postage from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.
