

Would Make Ideal New Year Gifts! CHIPPENDALE COLONIAL GLASSWARE

Simple in its beauty, and beautiful in its simplicity.

The highest exemplification of Colonial Art in Table Glassware—simple in its beauty and beautiful in its simplicity. It adorns the tables of people of refinement and taste.

The Chippendale Design—Made in all the various articles for table use, also Candlesticks, Vases, and many other things. The one Colonial Glassware that is distinctly different from all others.

It has many features which separate it from others, advantages which are peculiarly its own:—(1) Its straight lines. (2) Its squared handles. (3) Its simple beauty. (4) Its superior strength. (5) Its great brilliancy. (6) Its amazing economy.

Krys-Tol is the product of a newly discovered process of annealing a method of tempering glass at a high degree of heat heretofore believed to be impossible. By this means the public may now buy the same beautiful finish and irradiant brilliancy of the most expensive and high grade imported crystal ware at about One-Twentieth the Cost.

Aside from reducing the cost to an astonishingly low figure, the new process of manufacture not only adds to the brilliancy of the ware in a remarkable degree but also serves to increase its strength, making Chippendale Krys-Tol the most sturdy, durable ware of the kind ever produced. It withstands every use, and resists every abuse—is less liable to breakage and the incessant cost of constant renewals.

For Gift Purposes—Imagine a beautiful crystal ware so low in price that it is readily in the reach of all, and yet so beautiful in design that one would never associate it with any idea of "cheapness." For this reason Chippendale "Krys-Tol" is admirably adapted for New Year, wedding and birthday gifts, etc. Have no fear of cheapening the sentiment of your gift—rather will it prove your good taste in choosing and good sense in giving.

Look for the trade-mark "Krys-Tol" which is in the glass on every piece. Look for it—take no other. Else you will miss much, and gain—nothing.

Bank of England Notes.

Notes Which Prevent Their Being Counterfeited Successfully.

In the year 1810 a great outcry was raised against the Bank of England for issuing a style of note which was easily counterfeited. At the time the period was common for the forgery being so common that it had become necessary for the government to appoint a commission to investigate the matter. The commission found that the notes were easily counterfeited and recommended that the bank should issue notes of a different design. The bank then issued notes of a different design, and the forgery was prevented.

The Portia Arrives.

The s.s. Portia, Capt. T. Fitzpatrick, arrived here at 12:30 p.m. Saturday from the westward. She left here on the 9th (Friday), and landing her full freight along the coast went to Sydney to bunker. Leaving there at 7 p.m. Wednesday she arrived at Bay of Islands 7 p.m. Thursday, and remained there all night in a blinding snow storm. Friday week at noon she arrived at Bonne Bay in the midst of a N. E. blizzard. By midnight she was again ready to proceed home, but a snow storm from the N.W. prevented her and she was delayed till daylight Saturday, though she left the place and had to return. The ship had a deck load of heavy spars, lumber, barrels, puncheons and bales of herring for Rose Blanche, and as a big sea ran this would have been swept off the decks and would have rained with it if the ship proceeded. The ship sailed again at noon, but was again forced to return and did not get away till 2 p.m. Sunday. At 8 a.m. Monday she arrived at Port aux Basques. At 3 p.m. that day the ship left Rose Blanche, was overtaken by a S. E. storm and arrived at Bonne Bay at 8 p.m. and lay there all night riding the gale out with two anchors down. She left at daylight Tuesday and went over to Ramea, but it was too rough to move around the coast, the sea being the highest the captain had ever seen in that section. When the wind moderated a dense fog set in and the ship remained in port all night. From that time the ship had fine, steady weather. She brought a full cargo of fish and oil mostly and a lot of venison from Hermitage Bay and Ramea. Her passengers were: Messrs. W. Kelly, Constable Tobin, Constable Gardiner, F. Miller, A. B. Sarsy, R. Peel, W. Foote, T. Murphy, T. Kelly, Devereaux (2), T. Sutton, Mrs. Curtis, Misses Whelan, Lundrigan, Roach, Winsor and 45 second class.

Prospero in Port.

The s.s. Prospero, Capt. A. Keen, arrived in port at 8 p.m. Sunday from the northward. She left here Wednesday week and had alternate storms and fine weather going north and arrived at Griguet Monday night week, and went to Battle Harbor Tuesday, where after a short delay she left at 2 p.m. That night she had a gale of S. W. wind with heavy rain and thick fog, and she anchored near Quirpon all night. She left there Wednesday morning and had a fairly good run to port. She reports very little snow and not much frost north. It is fairly mild at Battle Harbor and the ship reports no seals there or on the French Shore. She brought a full cargo of fish, oil, etc., and these passengers: Messrs. Moore, Ford, Adams, Strong, Diamond, Thistle, Quirk, Freeman, French, Knight (2), Osmond, Lockyer, Templeman, House, Capt. Randall, Fowles (2), White, Fenelon, Roberts, Wells, Newell, March, Avery, Bursey, Hopkins; Messdames Haddon, Parsons, Templeman, Gordon; Misses Parsons (2), Briffett and 49 steerage.

Fire Sunday Morning.

Early Sunday morning the chimney of Mr. Maher's residence on Adelaide Street caught fire and burned fiercely for a while. A fire had been started in the stove in the kitchen and Mr. T. Malone's sons living next door were awakened by getting the smell of burning clothing. Investigating, they found that the fire had ate through and had ignited a coat and vest, owned by Mr. John Malone, and other articles hanging in the attic near the roof, through which hole had also been burned. The fire was quenched quickly by water brought along in pails. The apparel alluded to was rendered useless.
