My Pa.

My pa's a preacher. People say That common folks can't teach. That only men too "good" to work At other trades kin preach. But pa, he's like most other men. Who's good and kind and sweet, And seems to have a likin' fer Mos' all that's good to eat.

Pa has his troubles, like the rest O' poor humanity; Fer preachin' ain't the snap some folks Imagine it to be; And when I don't behave myself, And pa he finds it out, When he "lets up," I feel so good, It almost makes me "shout."

My pa's a preacher, but he don't Believe in picklin' down Yer feelin', since 'tis healthier To Preserve a smile than frown; And when the people say that I'm A model preacher's son, It tickles pa, till he can't help Just "modelin'" me fer fun.

Yes, there are lots o' preachers who Kin "lay pa out" maybe; But I like him, and me, she says Pa suits her to a "T." And when Accountin' Day comes round, And "Elder D'" 's on hand To hear reports, you bet my pa 'Way up in front will stand.

Conditions Under Which Przemysl Was Surrendered.

Summary of Stipulations Which Preceded the Capitulation.

Geneva, March 24.—A summary of what purports to be the conditions upon which the Austrian garrison at Przemysl offered to surrender to the Russians is printed by the Tribune. The following stipulations are said to have been made:

"First—Full honours of war for the garrison.

"Second—Special treatment for the prisoners providing that officers shall be paroled and that none of the troops shall be sent to Siberia.

"Third—The right to transport to Austria those killed and wounded during recent attacks.

"Fourth—Complete liberty for the civil population with the right to leave or stay in the city.

"The defenders of the fortress marched out of Przemysl to Russian headquarters with colors flying" says the Tribune in its account of the surrender.

"The Austrian garrison surrendered its sword to the Russian commander, while thousands of Austrian troops piled their arms and ammunition in front of the Russian regiments drawn up in line. The Muscovite troops cheered the unarmed Austrians after their last parade."

"The fall of Przemysl has made a profound impression in Hungary as the flower of the Hungarian infantry was included among the defenders of the city, which was considered impregnable."

SPRING SICKNESS.

This is the season when the blood, according to the learned physician, is thick and flows as slow as mud, which puts a man in a bad condition. Spring sickness is a fell disease, according to our notions, and having it, the victim feels, to blow himself for dopes and potions. "I have to thin the sluggish stream," he says; "which through my system passes; it's thicker now than cheap ice cream, and flows like New Orleans molasses." From all spring ills he'd have release, if he would tramp his potions under, and get a jar of Ellow Graise, the medicine that's cheap as thunder. To get out doors where breezes blow, and tinker round to beat the ditches, would make a lot of ailments go, and thin the blood that winter thickens. Instead of taking pale pink pills which are resigned for purple parties, go, plant the spuds in shallow hills, and you'll be feeling fine, my hearties! We are too fond of taking dope, while in our easy chairs reclining, when we should shed our coats and slope out yonder where the sun is shining.

Chicago, March 24.—Wheat prices underwent a setback to-day, owing largely to the fact that the Liverpool market failed to respond to yesterday's strength in America. There was a good deal of selling here on the theory that the bulge yesterday had in the main eliminated the short interest. Some attention was given reports that British Government had seized all wheat in India and would endeavour to prevent inflated prices. After opening quarter to 7-8 down the market rallied somewhat, but then sagged lower than this.
