"Poobah" in Samoa.

LONDON, June 8 .- The Times publishes letter from Robert Louis Stevenson describing alleged misgovernment in Samoa. Mr. Stevenson asserts that Chief Justice Cedercanz and Baron Pilsach, president of the Municipal Council of Apia, have made their salaries preferred claims upon the Samoan treasury, which is usually found empty after the two officials have got through with it. In order to enable them to secure this cinch on the national finances the chief justice and the haron overthrew a decision requiring that customs receipts shall be paid to the municipal authorities of Apia. Mr. Stevenson adds that "Baron Pilsach, as adviser of the King, wrote a letter to himself reprimanding himself as president for consenting to the decision, got the King's signature to scribing alleged misgovernment in Samoa this letter, and brought an action against himself before Justice Cedercranz. Nobody was present at the trial but the judge and Baron Pilsach. Judge Cedercranz reversed his decision, and thus enabled Baron Pilsach to demand that the municipal authorities surrender the money to the Government. The Municipal Council protested, and Baron Pilsach, with humorous candor, proposed that the dispute be tested, and Baron Pilsach, with humorous candor, proposed that the dispute be brought to the notice of the powers." From other Samoan advices it is learned that King Malietoa has been in severe straits for some time past owing to the irrequarity in the payment of his own salary of $25 a week, and has eked out a living by having his wives do washing for some of the well-to-do white residents of Apia. At the conclusion of the conference it was noticeable that the McKinley boom had in some mysterious way received a quiet impetus, and the Governor's elegibility was freely discussed in all quarters.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Music in the Park—A Denial.

To the Editor of the ADVENTISER:

For some time a rumor has been floating about, charging the W. C. T. U. with having made an attempt to suppress the summer band concerts in the parks. The statement does not contain a shadow of truth and has been manufactured from whole cloth. The W. C. T. U. never thought of interfering with those very pleasant and innocent sources of amusement and should be sorry to hear of their discontinuance. By order of the executive, discontinuance. By order of the executive F. Carson, Cor. Sec. W. C. T. U. London, June 8, 1892.

[It would really be interesting to know who was mean enough to put such a state ment in circulation. The ADVERTISER heard of it, but put no reliance in it. EDITOR ADVERTISER.
