In the meantime Joris reached his store in that mood which apprehends trouble, and finds out annoyances that under other circumstances would not have any attention. The store was in its normal condition, but he was angry at the want of order in it; the mail was no later than usual, but he complained of its delay. He was threatening a general reform in everything and everybody, when a man came to the door and looked up at the name above it.

"Joris Van Heemskirk is the name, sir?" and Joris went forward and asked a little curtly: "What, then, can I do for you? "I am Martin Hudde, the fisherman. 'Weff, then?" "It you are Joris Van Heemskirk, I have a letter for you. I got it from the Dauntless last night, when I was fishing in the bay."

Without a word Joris took the letter, turned into his office, and shut the door, and Hudde muttered as he left, "I am glad that I got a crown for it, for here I have not got a 'thank you.' It was Katherine's writing, and Joris held the folded paper in his hand and looked stupidly at it. The truth was forcing itself into his mind, and the slow-coming conviction was a real physical agony to him. He put his hand on the desk to steady himself. and nature, in great drops of sweat, made an effort to relieve the oppression and stupor which followed the blow. In a few minutes he opened and laid it before him. Through a mist he made out these words:

"My Father and My Mother,—I have gone with my husband. I married Richard when he was ill; and tonight he came for me. When I left home I knew not I was to go. Only five minutes I had. In God's name this is the truth. Always, at the end of the world, I shall love you. Forgive me, forgive me, myn vader, myn moeder. Your child,

"KATHERINE HYDE." He tore the letter into fragments, but the next moment he picked them up, folded them in a piece of paper, and put them in his pocket. Then he went to Mrs. Gordon's. She had anticipated the visit, and was in a measure prepared for it. With a smile and outstretched hands she rose from her chocolate to meet him. When were they married?" "In faith, I have forgotten the precise date. It was in last October, know it was, because I had just re ceived my winter manteau, my blue velvet one with the fur bands."

'Who married them?' "Oh, indeed? It was the Governor's chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Somers, a relative of my Lord Somers-a most estimable and respectable person, I assure you. Col. Gordon and Capt. Earle and myself were the witnesses Governor gave the license, and in consideration of Dick's health the ceremony was performed in his room. All was perfectly correct and regular,

"It is not the truth! Pardon, madam! Full of trouble am I; and it was all irregular, and very wicked, and very cruel. If regular and right it had been, then in secret it had not taken place.

OTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher.

That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined? Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest :
