GOLD FISH FAMILY RETURN TO LILY POND IN VICTORIA PARK

Spent Winter Months in the Pumphouse at Spring-bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Gold Fish and family have returned to Victoria Park Lily pond for the summer season after wintering in the warmer latitudes of the pumphouse. While there have been no arrivals in the family, there have also been no deaths. As well as some of the younger branches of the family, so far as the needs of the household remains about the same, and their summer residence at the park is still amply big enough to accommodate them for another season at least.

Superintendent Graham, who had the direction of the Gold Fish family's removal, reported today that the summer residence was given a thorough overhauling before its occupants moved in, and that everything possible had been done to see that the supply of good, clean drinking water is assured, as the family having for years beyond count been in the habit of demanding that their supply of this beverage shall be unlimited.

HERE'S AN IDEA FOR LONDON BUILDERS

That the local firms engaged in the various phases of building work and the equipment of the home should follow the example of the city of Winnipeg firms engaged in similar work, and construct a modern home, the different trades represented each bearing its share of the cost, on some central site where the citizens of London interested in the problem of home building would have an opportunity of studying it, is a suggestion made by the head of a large local firm engaged in the manufacture of plumbingware, to the chamber of commerce, through Gordon Philip, and to General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the P. U. C.

The letter points out that in Winnipeg the building, a bungalow dwelling, which cost about $4,000, was offered as a prize in a contest organized amongst the citizens, and proved a splendid advertisement for the building trades of that city. The house was constructed without foundations just outside the fair grounds, so that the winner could remove it to his own site with the least possible trouble and cost.

It is understood that the chamber of commerce for some reason did not take up the suggestion. Mr. Buchanan in a brief interview today expressed the opinion that the idea was a good one, but that the city of London was a big enough city to make practicable the offering of such a house as a prize. The building and full equipment of such a house would, he thought, be of distinct value to many intending home-builders in the suggestions which it would offer in layout, equipment and furnishings.

MEXICAN RADICALS MURDER CHIEF OF POLICE AND MAYOR

Mexico City, May 27.—Radical elements seized the municipal government of the village of Jacana, near Zamora, state of Michoacan, yesterday and in fighting with the village authorities, killed the chief of police and wounded the mayor and several other civilians. Red flags were hoisted above several buildings, but when the radicals attempted to force their way into churches the populace resisted so strongly that the disturbers withdrew. The people of Zamora, hearing of the outbreak, took up arms and rushed to the aid of the authorities at Jacana, but before fighting began federal forces intervened.

Less serious demonstrations were held by radicals yesterday afternoon at Uruapan, about 55 miles southeast of Zamora. There was some fighting, but there were no casualties. Mordant, a capital of the state of Michoacan, was the scene of a tragic clash between radicals and Catholics about two weeks ago.

MRS. MARTIN ELECTED PRESIDENT TECUMSEH AVE. 'MOTHERS' CLUB

Splendid Progress Reported
At Annual Meeting Held
Thursday Evening.

Mrs. S. J. Martin was elected president of the Tecumseh Avenue Mothers' Club at the annual meeting held at the school Thursday night. This club has made splendid progress during the year, increasing its membership to 120—50 more members than last year. The speaker was Mrs. A. E. Tull of the Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club, who gave a most interesting history of mothers' club work in the city. The club has a small amount of money still in the treasury, which it will expend in treats for the children at the annual school picnic in June. It has been the custom of this club to make all the sandwiches for the school, and the women, as well as helping the teachers care for the children, and supplying them with some treat such as ice cream.

The officers elected last night were: Honorary president, Mrs. Bright; president, Mrs. Martin; vice-presidents, Mrs. S. Wilson and Mrs. McKay; secretary, Mrs. Holte; and treasurer, Mrs. Knowles.

WAS ONCE HOTBED OF POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

Old Collins Hotel in West
London Being Demolished.

With the beginning of the work of demolishing the old Collins Hotel, at the corner of Blackfriars Street and Wilson Avenue, there will disappear one of the city's oldest landmarks. Built more than 50 years ago, it was the centre of stirring events in the days when West London was a separate entity, with its own elective council, which in the opinion of not a few of the older residents, was far more efficient, at least so far as the needs of the household were concerned, than the bigger council under which its public affairs came when the community was merged in its bigger neighbor across the river.

The double distinction of supplying the strong liquor refreshment with which the men of passed days delighted to tickle their palates, and being the centre of the municipal government of West London, the hotel was notorious as the centre of intense political activity, and its walls witnessed many notable verbal battles, sometimes enlightened by fistic bouts, and more than once occasion having yielded the platform to Reform speakers, which had previously been engaged for the use of the would-be exponents of Toryism.

ANNUAL EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS OF DIOCESE IS VERY IMPRESSIVE

Attendance Required Mass To Be Celebrated in Churchyard.

Mount Carmel, on the boundary line of Stephen and McGillivray townships, in Huron County, was the scene yesterday for that impressive ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church, the annual eucharistic congress of the clergy of the Diocese of London. Right Rev. M. F. Fallon, bishop of London, and more than fifty priests of the diocese participated.

The attendance reached such proportions that it became imperative to celebrate high mass in the churchyard where the little church was inadequate to accommodate the several hundred who were attracted to the spot. While the reverent communicants knelt for the apostolic blessing the host was carried in solemn procession about the grounds. The eucharistic congress is a feature of the year and always takes place in one of the smaller parishes of the diocese.

CITY ENGINEER WILL HAVE MAP OF LONDON AND VICINITY WHICH MEASURES 2,000 BY 3,000 FEET

Will Be Among First Cities in Canada To Possess Topographical Map Showing With Absolute Accuracy Even the Smallest of City's Natural and Artificial Features.

Through the initiative of City Engineer Brazier and the local Chamber of Commerce, London will be among the first cities in Canada to possess a huge topographical map, showing with absolute accuracy even the smallest of the city's natural and artificial features, and their relation to one another. Such a map is now being prepared by the Geodetic Survey of Canada, and in time, it is expected, copies of it will be available for all who may need them.

In a communication received today by the Chamber of Commerce, specifications and details of the map were given. When put together it will measure 2,000 feet east and west, by 3,000 feet north and south. Each foot of the map will represent 1,000 feet of city territory. The map will be published in sheets in book form.

Not only will every building and every road and sidewalk in the city be shown, but every tree, hydrant, electric street light, sewerage pipe, man-hole and letter-box, and other similar features will be distinctly indicated. It will also show the modelling and the configuration of the surface of the grounds by lines and contours.

The minute details of the map must be done with great accuracy, and care must be taken to show permanent marks for future reference. The recent photographs taken from the air by the geodetic survey will assist in fixing the natural and artificial features of the city.

Photographing from the air is still in the experimental stage, and so it was undertaken by the Government without cost to the city. If it proves helpful

Injects "Woman Into Case" And Peace of Springbank Hill Is Greatly Threatened

Harry McCann Started Something When He Placed the Beautiful K-K-K-Katy Out On Reservoir To Compete With the Red-Lipped Hazel for Affections of Romeo, the Big Black Bass.

Stung by the manner in which Hazel, the newly and fairly painted decoy duck, has been treating Romeo, the big black bass that patrols the reservoir on Springbank Hill, Harry McCann, who rules the hill, decided to bring "another woman into the case" and, if possible, make the beautiful red-lipped Hazel insanely jealous.

The genial Harry made known his plans to Harry Struthers, who motioned down to Springbank with a regular "duck of a duck," as the society editor would say. The "ducky-doddies" was all of more than one occasion done away with a few years ago.

in making the map of London it will be permanently adopted by the geodetic survey as part of its work.

In making the plan of the city, in preparation for the survey over the city, it served the purpose of locating a number of points around and in the city. The distances and bearing between them were calculated with high accuracy. These points serve to locate copper bolts which are being set in the concrete sidewalks on one of the corners in every street intersection. From these copper traverse bolts the houses and other features will be located.

Next, a precise level was surveyed, establishing a number of bench marks in and around the city. These bench marks will be copper plates, giving the exact elevation and mean sea-level at different points.

The map will be a great boon to architects and engineers who undertake work in this city. At the present time, before any work can be done, an actual survey must be made on the site. This entails great expense and considerable work. With such a map all data can be secured with but little trouble.

London is one of the first cities in Canada to undertake the work, and because of the city's progressiveness along these lines the Government is bearing one-half of the expense. The city will be in possession of the pictures taken from the air by the geodetic survey within the next two weeks.

A pocket-size book giving the tabulations of elevations in London has been already received by the Chamber of Commerce.

INVESTED ALL HIS MONEY IN WHISKEY CARGO

Ford City Taxpayer Was
"Strapped" When
"Pinched."

RED EYE VALUED AT $585

William Suprenant Was Worried Man—Magistrate Gives Him Liberty.

William Suprenant of Ford City was worried this morning as he faced Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in the local police court. He had invested all of his worldly goods, amounting to $585 in cash, in 18 cases of whiskey, which, he believed, with reasonable care would carry him far into the coming dry spell. As the result of his arrest while transporting the liquor through the southern portion of the city Thursday evening he was in grave danger of losing it, and what was nearly as bad he faced a three months' term in prison.

Suprenant's plight was stronger than his judgment, because he had invested all his money in liquor and had nothing left to engage counsel. Gordon Elsie, his brother-in-law, who was also in Suprenant's car, was captured by Police Constables P. W. Harpur and Roy Venner, was almost badly fixed. He told the magistrate that he was married and had two kiddies, therefore he had no money to engage a lawyer to defend him.

The two men pinned their whole faith to three or four bits of paper which Suprenant, as owner of the whiskey, produced to prove that the liquor was a legal shipment, which he was carrying in a legal manner from Waterloo to Ford City. The magistrate was suspicious of the story and the two bits of papers, for in some manner the date and figures had been juggled, but through the lack of sufficient evidence, he was forced to let the men go.

Suprenant claimed that he ordered the liquor through a firm in Detroit, and the magistrate wondered why he did not have it delivered through an express company, he said that, as it had been a long time since he had been on a pleasure trip, he decided to kill two birds with one stone by driving to Waterloo. He invited Elsie to come along for company. The prisoner admitted that he was out of work, but claimed that he had worked as a machinist with many firms in Ford City and Detroit. He did not own his house and no longer did he have a bank account, although he claimed his "woman" had $150. He insisted on the police calling the chief of police in Ford for character references.

Elsie denied that he had any interest in the liquor. He was Suprenant's brother-in-law, he said, and had just gone on the trip for pleasure. He, too, was a machinist, and out of work. The two men were arrested when they drove a car loaded with 18 cases over the Vauxhall bridge at 8 o'clock Thursday night. The police had received a tip and were watching for them.

ALD. HARLEY TO ASK THAT SCHOOL SITE BE USED AS PLAYGROUND

High School Property On Tecumseh Avenue Available, He Declares.

Acting Mayor F. E. Harley stated today that he will ask the playgrounds committee of the public utilities commission to improve the high school site on Tecumseh Avenue, South London, so that pending its use for a high school it may be used as a public playground. It is already a favorite resort for the youth of South London, and many a Homer game of baseball is played on the diamond constructed by the boys themselves.

Mr. Harley will ask the committee through General Manager E. V. Buchanan to level the ground, fix up the diamond, and place a backstop. "This ground is not likely to be used for the purpose for which it was bought for some years to come," remarked Mr. Harley, "and it could not be put to better use than as a playground for the boys and girls of that part of the city."
