Government's Intentions Towards the Lords-Mr. Gladstone's Course-A Budget Deficit.

(Copyright 1894"by the United Press.) LONDON, March 24.-The draft of th registration bill which is to be introduced in the House of Commons, confirms the im-pression which has lately obtained that the Government will bring about a dissolution of Parliament next autumn. The bill pro-vides simply for a half yearly registration. with a three months' residence qualification and that all elections shall take place instead of spreading over several weeks instead of spreading over several weeks The one man, one vote principle upon which the Opposition relied as a pretext for demanding the redistribution of the electorate areas will form a separate mea-sure. The decision to introduce this mea-sure as a distinct bill has taken the Opposi-tion by surprise. The Liberals aim at the destruction of the system of plural voting, which will be accomplianed by the estab-lishment of the system of

The Unionists will not take kindly to this The Onionists will not take kindly to this device, which completely takes the wind out of their sails. No other leading mea-sure will be introduced until the Registra-tion bill is out of the way. The programme of the Government is designed to put the House of Lords still further on record as and it is difficult to see how it can fail of its purpose. Before the appeal to the country the electors will be given several new illustrations of the hoatility of the House of Lords to popular legislation. The evicted tenant's bill will contain clauses which will insure its rejection, and the one man one vote proposal will be introduced after the passage of the registration bill, and be of a character calculated to secure for it the condemnation of the Lords. Then there are the Welsh Church Disestab-lishment bill and the proposal to relegate Soottish measures to a Scottish grand com-mittee. A decisive exposition of the atti-tude of the maj rity of the House of Com-mons towards the House of Lords has been arranged, and this will put be forth very much and it is difficult to see how it can fail of Ireland to the United States promises to reach unprecedented figures during the spring and summer months. Emigration touts have been hard at work both in the agricultural districts and in the manufactur-ing regions of the north since the opening of the anew year, and despite the reports of the discoursging commercial conditions pre-vailing on the other side of the Atlantic they have succeeded in establishing the er-roneous impression that however unsatis-factory matters may be in the United States they are infinitely better than at home, and that there is room and welcome for all who will seek it. As a result several thousand names of intending immigrants, including families, young unmarried men, and a large oontingent of girls available for domestio work have been secured. The exodus will begin about the middle of April.

Information has reached the government on excellent authority that during the past season there has been a significant turn in the tide of emigration from Canada to the United States. Mr. Bargees, the Deputy Miniater of the Interior, says he thinks he is correct in stating that for the last two years there has been no general migration from the rural districts of Canada towards the United States of persons who propose to continue to engage in agricultural pursuits, and that such movement as has taken place has been confined to the laboring classes and to clerks and to professional men. Several hundred dollars damage was done by fire in the folding room of the printing bureau, Wednesday evening. The entire building had a narrow escape. Its origin is unknown.

TROM THE U. S. TO CANADA. The rapid increase of the emigration of farmers from the United States to Canada goes to prove two important facts : First, that unfortunately for themselves many Canadians who originally went there look-ing for farms did so under serious misappre-hension as to what awaited them, no leaves. There were six inches ef anow in the last season to people from the United States than 238 of 818 homestead entrics granted last season to people from the United States that unfortunation, have been point-the subject their attention, have been point-the limit of the free land of that country which was fit for ordinary farming purposes has been reached, and that now the Cana-dian Northwest contains the only extensive tract of productive land on the North Amer-ican continent which is open for free home-stead. The streem of land seekers from the United States to Cauada may consequently be expected to grow. AGE OF THE FARM demonstration, over forty soldiers were in-jured. Thirty-six students were arrested. The police have forbidden the people to assemble in the streets under penalty of arrest. Early this morning a number of students attempted to get upon the bridge, near which the royal palace is situated, for the purpose, it is supposed, of placing a mourn-ing flag on the palace, but they were re-pulsed by the soldiers. TURIN, March 24.—The coffins containing the remains of the. wife and daughters of Kossuth were exhumed at Genoa yesterday. They will be brought here, and the bodies, with that of Kossuth, will be taken to Hungary.

The Big Bend is attracting attention this

The Big Bend is attracting stiention this spring. The wrecked steamer Idaho, to be known henceforth as the Alberta, has been put in first class order at Kaslo. She will be ready to run again in the spring. The Idaho has ceased shipping ore. At the present time the output would yield a net profit of $50 per ton, according to H. H. St. John's own statement. The Surprise is employing twelve men at present. The owners will build an ore house at Bear Lake, where they will store their output until it can be shipped from Three Forks by rail. T. Abriel has received a surprise in the shape of a request from Deputy Postmaster-General White and Inspector Fletcher for him to assume the postmastership of Nak-uap. That was the first intimation that Mr. Abriel had received of his having been recommended for the position, which every-one hopes he will accept. Just what answer he has made to the authorities will not be learned for a few weeks.
