A Splendid Record.

It is a customary British privilege to gumble at the slowness of the authorities, and just now the blunder of sending supplies to General Middleton by the North-west, now stranded in the shallows of the Saskatchewan, is very freely commended. But as far as the forwarding of men and material to points on the C. P. R. is concerned, the Militia department does appear to have made a splendid record in the month following the fight at Duck Lake. From Ontario, Quebec, and Nova Scotia there have been carried during that time, around the north shore of Lake Superior, 2997 men, 132 horses, and 6 guns, besides rifles, ammunition, blankets, tents, rations, and supplies of all kinds in large quantities. Rifles and ammunition ordered by cable on April 1st arrived in Halifax on the 19th, were forwarded thence by special train, and were in store on the 25th. The overcoming of the difficulties caused by the gaps in the Lake Superior section of the railway were tremendous, but the thing was done, after all, and certainly in less time than had been expected by anybody.

Of course this could not have been done but for the Canadian Pacific railway, the immediate importance of which in a military point of view, is but beginning to be understood. But the energy of the railway authorities, displayed since the first alarm in pushing to completion what was then lacking, is something to remark upon. Then the gaps counted eighty miles altogether. Now the announcement is made that by Monday next the last rail will be laid, and thereafter only ballasting is needed to lay tracks up through to the Northwest without any gaps at all. On Wednesday (29th) Mr. Van Horne called Sir Charles Tupper that by the middle of May the Pacific railway company will be in a position to carry British troops from Halifax to Vancouver, on the Pacific coast all the way through Canadian territory, in seven days. We fancy this will be well some news to the authorities in England, and it may be looked for that soon the military and imperial importance of Canada's great transcontinental railway system will be admitted on all hands in the mother country, and acknowledged in the most substantial manner besides.

The report that an alliance between England and Italy has been established looks well for our side; we only hope it may be promptly confirmed. Perhaps it may mean merely that Italy has positively refused to join any alliance which might interfere with England's action in the Dardanelles.

On Thursday the war and his advisers held a council, the sitting of which is reported to have lasted for several hours. It is added that a general mobilization of the army was decided upon. If the man who stood at the head of the door is not fooling us, this means war.

The Northwest rebellion to the contrary notwithstanding, the emigration movement to our shores has already begun. Seventy arrived in Montreal on Wednesday, and after a short delay proceeded on their journey to the west and northwest. They were chiefly well-to-do farmers, so says the Herald.

The London Standard goes into details showing that the Russian fleet is much more formidable on paper than on the open sea. Her great ironclads are not likely to be very dangerous in fair fight against our own; but she has some swift unarmored cruisers that might do much damage to British commerce.

If the halfbreeds and the redskins now on the warpath could only read the New York Herald every day these times they would see it as clear as daylight that they are just on the eve of smothering Gen. Middleton's whole force, setting up a strong government, and giving the finishing blow to the fabric of the Canadian dominion.

Owing to the Federal bank bill having received assent yesterday the bank is enabled to pay the regular half-yearly dividend on the 1st instead of the 15th of June.

Coal is reported scarce at Russian ports, and there is much anxiety to obtain supplies, all which we can readily believe. But that the Muscovites should actually try to buy supplies at Newcastle is something that should be resented by every Briton as an insult. It is as much as to say—"You Britons are such a stupid set that it is quite to be expected of you that you will sell us all we want, for money, no matter what the consequences may be soon afterwards." The first Russian agent who tries to buy coal in Newcastle should be promptly flogged in the Tynes, to begin with. "The 'cheek' of the thing is simply amazing.

Martial Law for the Northwest. Editor World: I think all men agree with the Qu'Appelle Vindex that you note this morning. Martial law should be proclaimed in the disturbed districts. All Indians found off their reservations should be disarmed, and all suspicious characters (halfbreed or otherwise) arrested, searched, disarmed, and if necessary confined. Otherwise the government (the party of law and order) fight at an immense disadvantage. COMMON SENSE.

Editor World: As we read the report of Friday's fight of our forces with the enemy in the west we cannot help thinking there is something wrong in leading our men out to the enemy where they are entrenched in good hiding places, such as bluffs and timber, where they can take a terrible advantage, by having the first deadly shot at our men while well under cover and where they repeat the charge a dozen times and then scamper off into the bush to take another advantage. Would it not be better to watch and catch them out of their lurking places? A READER.

Prison-Made Brooms. Editor World: In to-day's issue of The World a broom maker complains of the injustice of prison labor and there is a great deal of cause for such complaint. If all brooms made in the prison were stamped "prison labor," as is done in the United States, it would give an honest workman a chance to compete with them, as it is a well known fact that brooms made by practical workmen are very much superior to prison work. A member of our profession depend on the working class for a living, and when buying brooms we think they should give the preference to the labor of an honest workman. A BROOM MAKER.

This Evening's Record. Editor World: An extract from a letter written by P. S. E. Elliot appeared in the columns of your paper, and has since been copied by others. It is needless to say that it is as scandalous and untruthful as possible.

Editor World: I am sorry to hear that the ladies of Brandon treated the Q.O.R. corps to a slight repulse by writers of the neighborhood of Swift Current, but certainly shall not in Brandon. A man who calls himself a volunteer and who dares to slander the ladies of any place as did the ladies of Brandon, is too contemptible to live.

Brandon, Man., April 23, 1885.

Guard's Duties Makes a Deal. Editor World: Will you have the kindness to give the following a space in an early issue of your paper? In the Evening News of the 30th ult., a letter over the signature of "R. W. Costello," contains a number of unqualified falsehoods relative to my conduct as regards the central prison, a position I have filled for six years. I am a regular guard in the north wing, where all the Roman Catholic prisoners are. I was brought up a Catholic, but for the last eight years have attended the Episcopal church and have been a member of the same since that time. I am a Protestant by profession and belief, and public will put its own construction upon and estimate the value and motive for the attacks made on me by writers of the Morning Star, and the Evening News, and further into particulars were such not rendered unnecessary by the coming investigation. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, M. GARDNER.
