has even been alluded to as "the candidate with a square jaw." This is a serious charge, but of the two the electors prefer "a square jaw" to a supple spine and an itching palm.
Toronto has arrived at a stage in its history when the Insinuating Smile has ceased charm and the Cordial Grasp has lost its ancient force. Independence of character is essential to respect, the man who is another man's echo is his satellite and lackey Emerson says: "I hate, where I looked for a manly forbearance, or at least a manly desist ance, to find only a mush of concession." In assessing the value of men all except the values of us rate them according to the degree in which they quietly hold their own when they have an own to hold.

and Fleming are two small planets that alternately pass between each other and the Sun, and cause a sickening shadow to fall upon them, either in his turn. And how upon them, either in his turn. And how these little spheres are hurling "cuss words" in the approved planetary vocabulary at one another! The very first letter in Osler's name is like the golden orb of day for him, and presages the goose-egg that -Robert J. and Honest John will find in their, mit on Monday night.

Osler's majority will not be surprised to see it 2500. And for this reason: The yoter invariably puts the question to himself thus: Shall I vote for Osler or Fleming, or for Osler or McMillan, or for Osler or Beaty. In every case it is Osler or one of the other three and in more than half the cases he will select Osler. Not more than half the total vote will be distributed among F., M. and B.
