very pretty weddings on Tuesday morning, October 27th.

The first of these pleasant events took place at Mrs. Lettic Messinger's, when her second daughter, Leura E., was united in marriage to Mr. Stuart Marshall, agent of the Commercial Bank of Windsor, Middleton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Brown, of South Farmington. The bride, becomingly attired in a costume of gray eloth and satin, with a handsome wreath of tulle roses and fuschias, was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Messinger, gowned in fawn color with cream lace. The groom was attended by Mr. M. A. Shaffner, of Calkin & Shaffner, Middleton. After the ceremony some twenty-five guests sat down to a splendid wedding breakfast served in a recherche style. The bride was the recipient of many elegant presents, that of the groom being a handsome piano. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The second event was the marriage of Miss Kate, daughter of Rev. W. C. Brown, of South Farmington, to Mr. Wimburne Laurie, only son of H. M. Phinney, Eaq., also of South Farmington. The oeremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Gaetz and Howe. The bride looked charming in a going-away gown of navys blue cloth with a tasteful wreath of natural flowers. Her attendant, Miss Eva Phinney, sister of the groom, was becomingly gowned in pearl crepon. The groom's attendant was Mr. James Whyte, of Wilmot. After the happy twain were made one a number of guests were served with a sumptuous refection. The evening shades were stimulated by darkening the rooms and artificial illumination. This added much to the uniqueness and beauty of the occasion. The many elegant presents evinced the esteem in which the bride and groom were held by their friends.

Both the happy couples, amid a shower of good wishes, departed for a two weeks' tour through the martitime provinces.

CHIPMAN—SHAFFNER.

A brilliant wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Lawrencetown, on Wednesday morning, when Miss Annie May Shaffner, only daughter of Mr. John Shaffner, and Rev. Owen Nott Chipman, of Great Village, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Harry King, assisted by Rev. Avery Shaw, of Windsor. About seventy guests were present and consisted almost entirely of the relatives of the bride and groom. The wedding gifts were very numerons and elegant. After lanch was served Mr. and Mrs. Chipman left on the afternoon train for Halifax. After a short wedding tour they will reside at Great Village, the Baptist church of which place Rev. Mr. Chipman is pastor. CHIPMAN-SHAFFNER.

R. Elliott. The young couple returned home yesterday.

No Bill Against Seaman Brown. ERBERT FULLER CASE BEFORE THE GRAND JURY—BRAM THE ONLY ONE WHO WILL HAVE TO ANSWER TO THE CHARGE

Boston, October 23.—The Herbert Fuller triple murder case took an unexpected turn late yesterday afternoon, when the United States grand jury which has been considering the case for the past three days, made a partial report of their findings to Judge Patnam in the circuit court, in which they reported "No bill" against Charles Brown, alias Justus Leopold Westerburg, one of the defendants. He was immediately discharged on the charge of murder, but on the recommendation of U. S. Dist.-Atty. Hoar, he was held in $5,000 as a witness, and in default of bail, was recommitted to jail. This leaves but one defendant, First Mate Thomas Bram, to answer for the charge of murder, and on Thursday next the grand jury will resume their work to determine whether or not there is probable cause to hold him for trial. Brown and Bram were held by the United States commissioners about a month ago on the charge of murdering Captain Nash, his wife, Laura, and 2nd Officer Bamberg of the Herbert Fuller on the high seas, after the vessel left Boston on July 8 for Rosario. Yesterday Brown and the witnesses who have been confined at the jail, with the exception of Finley, were taken to the post office building by two marshals to give their testimony to the grand jury. The seamen who were on board the vessel at the time of the murder were heard during the morning hours and after the noon recess, the few spectators who loitered about the corridors awaiting developments, were surprised to see Brown unbered into the secret chamber. He appeared unconcerned and walked with firm step as though nothing of importance was attached to his presence in that particular place at the time. Shortly after two o'clock he was placed on the stand by the district attorney, and until about 4.30 he told the jury all he knew in regard to the case. What he said in there belongs to the U. S. government and cannot be given out, but it is understood that his story was a sensational one.

There are six tickets in the field for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency of the United States. They are:

Republican—William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart.

Democratic—William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall.

National Democratic—John M. Palmer hur Sewall.

National Democratic—John M. Palmer and Simon B. Buckner.

Prohibition—Joshua Leveny and Hale

People's—William J. Bryan and Thomas E. Watson.

Mr. Bryan is, it will be observed, on two tickets for President, but he has a different colleague on each for Yice-President. It is not supposed that any of these tickets, except the first two, will carry a single state, but the National Democration ticket—which represents the Gold Democrats of the straight party—may do so. These National Democrats are, however, working with vigor. They hope to show when the silver craze is over that there was in the Democratio party a strong leaven of common sense, and that party was not wholly committed to the 'isms' of which Mr. Bryan is now the representative. They think it better that Republicanism should triumph for the moment than that the country should be a victim to the ideas which Mr. Bryan represents, hoping that in due time the sound principles of the democracy will again assert themselves in the national councils.

Divorce Granted.

MARY MILLS POOLE VS. CHARLES R. POOLE. The case of Mary Mills Poole vs. Charles Rupert Poole was finished in the divorce court, Halifax, last week, before Judge Graham. W. E. Roscoe, Q.C., appeared for petitioner, and J. A. McDonald was watching coupsel.

petitioner, and J. A. McDonald was watching counsel.

The petitioner belongs to Tupperville, in this county, and was married to the respondent by Rev. S. H. Cain, in August, 1892. They lived together at Bridgetown until Sept. 1st, 1894. She then made a startling discovery, and she threatened to take proceedings. They separated on Sept. 1st. The co-respondent was Alice M. Pride, then Alice N. Barteaux. A witness, a brother of a Halifax business man, swore that the respondent and co-respondent, who was his consin, lived together as man and wife in Quincy, Mass., in his house, for four days. Witness' wife discovered they were not married and turned them out.

A sworn statement was read in court from Mrs. Pride, then Alice N. Barteaux. She admitted committing adultery with respondent. She admitted that they had agreed to marry in the future. The petition for divorce was filed this year. A decree for the dissolution of the marriage was granted with costs.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 21.—Bogus Canadian half dollars made in China, as pure as the genuine and an almost perfect imitation, are in circulation. The banks first discovered the fraud. About $2,000 worth of these coins were shipped from China, and there is more to come. The coins bear the date 1894. They are whiter than the original and a shade larger and heavier.

Floods in Italy. Rome, Oct. 22.—Torrential rains have fallen throughout upper Italy and all railway trains are delayed in consequence. High tides have prevailed in the Venice district. The grand canal at Venice has overflowed into the Plaza St. Mark, submerging it to the depth of two feet.

The Primate of All England.

London, Oct. 15.—Right Hon. and Right Rev. Temple, D.D. Provincial Dean of Can-terbury, and Dean of Chapels Royal, has been appointed Archhishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England, in room of Rt. Hon. and Most Rev. Edward Benson, who died suddenly at Hawaden, Oct. 11.

Mr. Moody's Advice.

Mr. Moody having been invited by a num-ber of New York ministers to hold meetings ber of New York ministers to hold meetings address in the Collegiate Church, saying among other things:—

"I was invited to come here, and I thought I would drop over. I am always ready to follow the Lord's lead. If the cloud leads me, I am prepared to go. If we could get these three great cities united we could de a great work.

Stick to your manuscripts, if you will, on Sunday morning, and build up your flock, but throw away set and written sermons on Sunday night. Why, Mr. Eryan found that he could de nothing with a manuscript speech at Madison Square Garden, and he has thrown it away. I heard him speak to a crowd the other day up in New England, and he got right down to the people. I didn't believe a thing he said, but he reached the people.

There should be a thousand places in New York open for Sunday night meetings, and that night should be reserved for the conversion of the thousands of this city. Workingmen won't dress up and go out to Sunday morning meets. They want to rest; but they would come out in the evenings. If you don't reach them by Sunday night meetings you will not reach them at all. The church and the workingmen are separated. There is a gulf between them that has been growing deeper and darker every year. Fraying alone will not close it up.

"I don't believe any man is called to preach to empty seats. You may be sure that if he talks to empty seats, the Lord ham't called him. If your plan doesn't work, knock it on the head and throw it away, and take up a new one. If your quartette choir doesn't draw, do away with it, and put fifty or a hundred people on the stage to sing. They will draw. You will have to talk the kingdom of God as the politicians reach them. They have got their literature and speeches in every home in this country, and those who can't read are begging others to read to them about silver and gold. This political campaign has followed the field for us. It has got the people to reading and thinking, and we should be able to do better work than ever before."

GREAT DISRTESS AMONG THE PEOPLE. London, October 22.—The Standard prints a dispatch from Madrid saying that Queen Regent Christina presided at the meeting of the council of ministers held yesterday. Senor Canovas Del Castillo, the prime minister, presented a summary of the events which have occurred in Spain and the colonies within the past three months, and a forecast for the future. The outlook, he said, showed that great distress exists among the people in the southern and eastern parts of the kingdom, which fact would render the collection of taxes during the coming winter slow work.

the kingdom, which fact would render the collection of taxes during the coming winter slow work.

The withdrawal of 20,000 men from the plows and mills within the past twenty months, he said, was severely felt and Spain would, in consequence, be obliged to import large amounts of bread stuffs.

The prosecution of the war against the insurgents in Cubs and the troubles in the Philippine Islands had markedly diminished the exports of manufactured and agricultural products to the West Indies and the Philippine Islands, causing great distress and discontent. In the towns and districts there was a visible feeling of impatience and anxiety, all classes of the people having been led to hope for quicker and more decisive results from their sacrifices. Everybody, the premier said, recognised the fact that the drain could not long continue at the present pace. Patriotism and national pride alone can check the criticisms of the government's course. The liberals, democrats, Carlists, and even the republicans have a sort of instinctive presentiment that impels them to refrain from coercion with a view to averting international complications and the dreaded intervention of the United States government. The gloomiest feature of the situation, the prime minister declared, is the difficulty which the government finds in obtaining a lookin of 1,000,000 pessets to defray the expenses of the war in Cuba and the Philippine Islands and to strengthen the finances of the country.

The Spanish press is almost unanimous in approving the idea advanced by the premier of appealing to native capitalists and banks for funds to enable the continuation of the wars to a successful issue.

English and Scotch Farmers Want Protection for Their Live Stock.

London, Oct. 23.—English and Scotch farming interests are urging the board of agriculture to further protect the home breeders against foreign and colonial live stock imported by probibiting the landing of cattle and sheep for slaughter, thus compelling (lanada and the United States to send nothing but dead meat. Seeing, however, that Great Britain has imported already this year 72,000 cattle and 65,000 sheep from Canada, and 285,000 sheep from Canada, and 285,000 sheep from Canada, and 285,000 sheep from the United States, the hoard hesitates to adopt so decided a protective policy on the mere pretext of risk of disease. Rt. Hon. Walter H. Long, the president of the board, has however pledged the government to carnestly consider the proposals to brand colonial and foreign meat stores, hoping thereby to prejudice the consumer against them.

Seeing that there is such a small response from the members to their proposal to visit Canada next year, the British Dairy Farmers' association has abandoned the proposal for the present and decided to meet in Scandinavia. It is thought that Canada will have her hands full enough next year with the British association and the British Medical association meetings.

Halifax Military Cable.

The military authorities are laying cables for telegraphic connection between the various Halifax fortifications, which has heretofore been maintained by over-head wires. The headquarters station is in the Citadel and the cables radiate from this point to Fort Clarence, George's Island, MoNab's, Point Pleasant Forts, York Redoubt and Camperdown. In connection with the military cable system each fort is to be equipped with a cable office and men will be instructed and told off as operators. The system will be very complete and thorough.

How Incorporation Worked at Westville, Pletou County.

To the Editor of the Monitor:

Dear Sir,—I see you advocate incorporation of your town, and if the circumstances are such as prevailed here, and amaily prevail where communities of two thousand inhabitants or more are governed as country districts, you are doing good work. I write as a native of your town, with no axe to grind, but a sincere desire for its welfare. Perhaps it might interest some of your readers to hear something of the struggle for incorporation here and the arguments used for and against. In the spring of 1891 some gentlemen interested in the business of the town met in a place of public resort, without previous arrangement, when the conversation turned to the subject of incorporation, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the town. This resulted in a petition being drawn up praying the sheriff to hold a poll upon an early day. The proposition was to convert County Sec. No. 23 into the town of Westville. The necessary fifty names were speedily acquired and a voting day set. Meantime the "againsts" were getting in some fine work. The movement was uncalled for; it would inevitably increase taxes; it meant to make the poor poorer and the rich richer. Who was behind the movement anyhow? It must be some one with an axe to grind, and so on. Well, election day showed that distrust largely prevailed. The corporationists managed to drum up thirty-seven votes and the opposition six hundred and fifty. Thus was the idea of Westville becoming an incorporated town buried under a snow of ballots, so deeply, that even those who had favored the undertaking hardly hoped to see the attempt renewed. If you see fit to publish this I shall return to the subject.

Yours truly,

F. H. S. Cainek.

Worthy of Consideration. A correspondent to the Kentville Adverof that journal respecting the electric lighting of the town, and which, we think, will heartily commend itself to the ratepayer of this town:—

"Would it not be a good thing for the town to buy out the electric light company and run it in the interests of corporation? It is understood that the business pays at least six per cent. The money can be borrowed at say 4 per cent, and the difference would go a long way towards the cost of our street lighting. This assumes, of course, that the town could run the business as cheaply as the company does, an assumption which is not unreasonable. There is no more reason why the town should not furnish the citizens with their light than with water. The citizens are getting a much cheaper water supply than if the business were managed by a company; and under the present conditions we have an admirable fire protection, worth thousands of dollars annually, for a very insignificant tax. In the same way if the town owned the electric light plant as good a private service could be given and at the same time our public lighting would cost nothing."
