

heads of government meetings. This maturity was important not just for the successful outcome of the last meeting but important for the future of our unique association.

Another feature that is indispensable to the value of the Commonwealth is the successful combination of governmental with non-governmental activities. Organizations such as yours are very much a reason why the Commonwealth is such a going concern today.

* * * *