BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Pinard: Madam Speaker, on a point of order concerning the business of the House. I announced last week that tomorrow we would undertake consideration of a bill arising from the last budget and providing for a reduction in interest rates for farmers. It will remain on the Orders of the Day while we wait for the consent of the opposition parties in connection with my proposal to begin tomorrow consideration of a special bill ordering the West coast longshoremen back to work. I delivered copies of the bill to the two House leaders and I hope that in due course we shall obtain their consent not only to introduce the said bill tomorrow but also. I hope, to discuss and pass it at all stages. Before obtaining that unanimous consent, I wish to confirm to the House that if we do not obtain it, the Orders of the Day will be as indicated last Thursday in reply to the usual question.

[English]

Mr. Lewis: Madam Speaker, on behalf of our party, I am prepared to grant unanimous consent to the introduction of the Bill now so that it can be printed and distributed.

[Translation]

Madam Speaker: Is there unanimous consent to have the special bill introduced at this point?

[English]

Mr. Deans: Madam Speaker, on behalf of my caucus, I would be prepared to give unanimous consent to having the Bill printed.

Mr. Nielsen: That is not good enough.

[Translation]

Mr. Pinard: Madam Speaker, I can assure my colleagues opposite that before noon tomorrow I will try to send copies of the Bill to the two Opposition spokesmen responsible for the business of the House. I will do my best to give them as many copies as possible to make it easier for them to consult their respective caucus. But we do intend to introduce the Bill immediately after the Question Period tomorrow but, for all practical purposes, that will not change anything.

[English]

Mr. Nielsen: Madam Speaker, obviously the Government is asking for consent to introduce the Bill now. As far as the Official Opposition is concerned, it has now received that consent from us. The House leader for the New Democratic Party seems to be waffling and giving consent to having it printed only. Surely we can assume that they are consenting to having it introduced now because the normal consequence of introduction is that the Bill is printed. Can we not have their consent to have it introduced now?
