

able, genial, and
of course very well up in his subject. He would probably select
some aspect of
Public Administration.

You could keep
the other two names
in reserve.