MARKHAM VILLAGE

MARKHAM VILLAGE, April 4.—
(Special.)—To-day's meeting of the East York Farmer's Institute held in the town hall, under the presidency of W. G. Rennie of Agincourt, was not very largely attended, but the gathering was full of interest and instruc don, and a movement was advanced which cannot fail to have a good ef-lect. This was in regard to the formation of Farmers' Clubs, and the no immediate action was taken, later in District Representative Hart of Wa terloo County gave an eminently prac-tical address along the lines of 'Seed Sowing." and the but 4 few samples were shown, the farmers present gath-pred many useful points.

Referring to the organization of farmers' clubs, Mr. Hart pointed out some of the good things to their credit Waterloo County, as the getting of oncessions in rates and extensions on the Bell Telephone Company, the lacing of railway stations at more onvenient points, advanced ideas and action in regard to railwry crossings, and increased interest in local matters generally.

Mr. Hart also outlined briefly some of the most valuable varieties of apring and fall grain, and in field roots. In fal wheat, he favored Dawson's Golden Chaff, the O. A. C. No. 21 Mansergh's; in oats, the Banner; in peas, Early Briton; in potatoes, the Empire State and Burpee's Early; and so on down the line. He counseled the farmers present to secure their stock of mangold seed early, in view of the scarcity of the crop, regretted the introduction of Manitoba oats among Ontario farmers for seed on account of the many bad weed seeds, and general-the many bad weed seeds, and generally made an excellent impression.

Mr. Steckley of Newmarket, district representative for York County, spoke briefly, advising the establishment of farmers' clubs, and after some discussion the meeting adjourned. The interest shown was gratifying, and Mr. Rennie and Secretary A. J. Reynolds and the officers are looking forward to increased interest among the farmers generally. The lack of more seed exhibits is easily traceable to the exexhibits is easily traceable to the ex-traordinary conditions of last harvest.

the best interest of the city and the producers.

The question of price provoked the most discussion, man after man getting up to state there was nothing in the business financially this winter. The high price of food has removed all working profit and unless a substantial price is paid during the summer months, they would quit business. After much discussion the price was fixed at $1.25 per eight-gallon can for May, June and July and $1.50 thereafter, nearly all the milk-producers claiming they are feeding full winter feed after August nearly every year.

A committee of four, the president, vice-president, E. Stonehouse, and Sec. E. Shean, were appointed to attend the meeting in Toronto to represent the Islington branch. Judging from the interest taken and the attendance at this meeting the farmers are at last coming to the common ground of alliance amongst themselves for mutual benefit, and good results are looked for from this branch, which is the strongest around Toronto. strongest around Toronto.

Church union is much in favor here, as this is one of the many towns most affected. The Methodist congregation are practically unanimous in favor of it; while only a few Presbyterians are opposed, and it is said that these are from outside points.

The mammoth covered skating rink is still in full sway. Quite a crowd enjoyed themselves on Wednesday evening. It is expected that Saturday evening will be the last of a very enjoyable season, when the band will be present as usual. There are still eight inches of good ice, and if this cool weather continues. April will be a record for this kind of amusement.

Steel, St. Paul, Union Pacific and General Electric. The market moved up with wonderful ease, showing absence of supply. We have at no time recently been pessimistic on the stock market, altho allowing for some setback. It does not look at present as back. It does not look at present as if we would get much break. If we do, there will be a rush of investors and others to buy. Sentiment has changed for the better in so great a degree that we look for a sustained buying power in the market.
