FROM PRISON TO "COPS."

After Doing Time, Forger Must Face Another Similar Charge.

Frank Tighe, alias Fred Pemberton, alias James Malloy, a drug clerk, was fined a six months' term in the County Jail this morning. When he leaves the prison he will be met by Detective Twigg, who will escort him to police headquarters. There he will be turned over to Detective Nash of Windsor.

Malloy is wanted in Windsor on the charge of forging a cheque for $24 and passing it on Bartlett & McDonald, drygoods merchants of that city. He was convicted in Ottawa for a similar offense.

JUST THINK! CONSCIENCE

TROUBLES ST. RY. PASSENGERS

Montreal, Jan. 8.—The Montreal Street Railway Company's officials are chuckling over recent reminders of conscience money. Last week they received one remittance of 70 cents and another of $2, and to-day they received from J. W. Cunningham, South Meville, Conn., the sum of $20, which the clergyman stated had been given to him to forward by a man whose conscience was troubling him because he had done the company out of the amount mentioned.

Attractive Haberdashery

Exceptional high grade in seasonable goods, hats, neckwear, shirts, etc., with the object of clearing them out before stock-taking. The most stylish, exclusive lines marked down to prices no higher than that of inferior goods.

English shirts, regular $2.50 and $3.00, for $1.00.

Ties, regular 75c, for $1.

and $1.25, at 5 for $1.

Broken sizes in all the new shaped collars, regular $3 per dozen, at $1.50.

Hosiery, regular $50, at 3 pair for $1. Big reductions in all lines of winter underwear.

TWO FAMOUS PLAYS

ENDORSED BY CLERGY

Both Will Be Presented in the City During the Torrey Alexander Revival Meetings.

In keeping with the work of the noted evangelist, Messrs. Torrey and Alexander, the local stage will also present two notable plays, which have been endorsed by the clergy in all parts of the country. These plays teach a lesson that reach the people more quickly than a thousand sermons, and so effective have they been that in all the cities where they have been presented revivals have been eagerly sought for.

The dramas to be presented next week are "Way Down East," and "The Volunteer Organist," the former at the Grand Opera House and the latter at the Lyric Theatre.

"Way Down East" deals with the life of a country girl, presented in a manner which never fails to have the good effect on the audience that the author intended. It is a story of a woman's play only; it is a story that makes the man think and sends him home with a resolution to do what is right.

"The Volunteer Organist" treats of the life of a village youth, who has fallen in the social scale through his fondness for the beverage that intoxicates and steals the senses. His conversion is brought about in a romantic manner while he is working on the village, and at an opportune moment drops into the life of the village, and is a play for someone to play the organ. From a real seat the tramp arises and volunteers to play the organ.

The organist, and the interest taken in the friendless man brings back to his memory the days of his childhood. He pledges himself to reform, and his life, and finally ends in a scene that is a citizen of the country is proud.

"Lovers and Lunatics"—Grand.

"Lovers and Lunatics" is the all-time favorite of a brand new "musical comedy" that has struck Toronto.

It was a crowded house that greeted it at the Grand last night, and on its showing it fairly deserves to continue playing to good business all week. It is a nonsensical jumble, and is quite as inconsequent in the way it handles its story as it is in the way it handles its characters.

It is a play that doesn't matter. Johnny Torrey, who has been here in vaudeville before, and is known as a clever dispenser of a mixture of profanity, double entendre, and singing and break-down. They have a company behind them now, but the great bulk of the work on their shoulders. The audience couldn't get enough of their specialty turn in the second act. There is an excellent comic vocal, and some catchy refrains pleased the audience, particularly "Automobile" and "Caroline."

Violin Allen's Comedy.

Violin Allen will present Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," at the Princess Theatre. The generally expressed opinion in the city is that Mr. Allen has appeared in the city with the best played play that he has written.

Miss Allen's triumph as Betty has been enormous. Mr. Fitch has, in staging the play, introduced many striking novelties, for which he is famous. The supporting company is one of the best that have supported Miss Allen in the city.
