The court has given judgment de-claring property held by Dr. A. C. Sin-clair of Port Elgin liable to satisfy the judgment for some $800, held by Bar-rister W. A. Geddes and the executors of the Hogaboom estate.

The Divisional Court dismissed the eppeal of J. E. Lebel to strike out the counter-claim of D. Ross in the former's suit for $10,000 damages for alleged libel and slander. Both are jewelers and reside at Palmerston. The former was formerly manager for the latter, who also seeks various sums to the amount of $1000 by way of counter-claim.

PARAGRAPHS FROM PARKDALE.

It was understood that on the completion of the new Union Station the C.P.R. shops and roundhouse at Parkdale would be abandoned, and trains would be made up at the Union instead of at Parkdale. So far, however, no arraagements to this end have been made, and the present inconvenient system seems likely to continue for some time yet. It is probable that shops will be built at John-street for the accommodation of the engines now housed at North Parkdale.

The Queen City Bicycle Club, Parkdale's cycliny organization, last night held its annual election of officers. The choice fell on these gentlemen: Hon. pres., W. D. McVey; president, J. J. Ward; vice-president, Sydney Simpson; secretary, H. S. Salt; treasurer, E. Dodds; captain, W. Macready; first lieutenant, E. Megginson; second leutenant.

Hamilton, March 4.—(Special.)—The Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville railway directors recently engaged Engineer R. H. The route is through private property, which will necessitate the purchasing of right of way. The engineer's report will be considered at a meeting of the directors next Friday.

Wheat opened quiet. A slight downward tendency developed, which was quickly buoyed up on continued buying by a well-known broker who has been prominently identified with many bull movements. There is a fair demand for red wheat for interior mills. Reports of a cold wave developing in the west seemed to stimulate the bull-ish sentiment among holders. The world's visible shows a decrease of about 2,300,000 bushels. Bradstreet's reports a decrease of 846,000 east of the Rockies and a decrease of 1,338,000 in Europe. This is less than expected, and it had a stimulating effect on the market, prices reacting to the highest of the day and closing strong. Wheat looks as if it had seen the bottom, and a good rally is due. Northwest receipts 432 cars, against 277 cars a year ago. receipts 432 cars, against 217 cars ago.

Corn and oats continue duil. Oash prices remain unchanged.

Provisions duil. Would advise buying on weak spots. Trading was only moderately active. Under the influence of lighter receipts of hogs than anticipated, the market opened rather strong at higher prices for all the leading articles. A fairly good business was done temporarily, after which a weaker feeling was developed and the improvement in prices was lost.

McIntyre & Wardwell (John J. Dixen) received the following despatch to-day from their branch office in Chicago:
Fluctuations in wheat to-day were decidedly erratic. May wheat sold between 66%c and 67c and had about a dozen "ups and downs" between those prices. The pit sentiment continues very bearish, and we think that short interest is growing larger and that most of the longs have unloaded. Outside trade has grown, still there is nothing in the situation at present pointing to any radical change in prices. There were some crop damage reports from Ohlo and Indians. It is probable that growing wheat in the first named State has suffered some deterioration, but as a whole we think that the winter wheat prospects are favorable. Some talk of demand from Toledo, all rall shipment. There was, however, nothing done, and as wheat can be shipped via the water route at 3s less it is improbable that any will be worked that way. Bradstreet's statement was a surprise, as many expected that it would show an increase; it made wheat stocks show an increase; it made wheat stock east of the Rockles show a decrease of 466,000, and amount afloat for and in Europe decrease of 1,336,000 bushels. Pacific coast stocks for month of February decreased 1,593,000 bushels. Foreign advices were duli and depressed, and there is mimprovement to note in export demand. Provisions—Market opened strong and higher on 5000 hogs less than expected. Two packers bought in about a million pounds of May ribs. Cudahy's brokers sold. Armour sold May land. Foreign at the close. Market closed steady at at the close. Market closed steady at the close. Market closed steady at the close.
