Boys Working on Farms Will Be Given Big Frolic for Three Days.

TO CAMP AT KILWORTH

Vacation for Lads Helping With Farm Work Has Been Arranged.

The last day of June and the first two days of July have been picked as the dates on which schoolboys who have been working on the farms will enjoy their first real vacation since beginning their share of greater production work last spring.

All the "teen age" boys working on the farms in Middlesex and Eigin counties will gather at Kilworth, five miles west of Springbank, on Saturday evening, June 30. Around the camp fire camp stories and songs will make up a program, which will be followed by an address from Taylor Statten, national boys' work secretary, Y. M. C. A., and a number of war stories by Lieut. William McQueen, a returned officer.

Sunday morning, C. F. Watson will give an address and in the evening W. H. Vaughan will speak.

Also a Happy Smile.

Monday (Dominion Day) will be spent in fishing excursions and games. Farm Service Corps badges will also be presented on this date, Invitations extended to the boys advise them to bring "blankets, small frying pan, granite cup, plate, knife, fork, spoon, any the first share of greater production work in the Station of the same of the product of the same of the same of the product of the same of the same of the same of the product of the same of the

"Vudor" Shades Convert the Porch Into a Living-Room

The pleasure of living in the open air and at the same time being excluded from public view is attained by hanging Vudor shades around your porch. The Vudor is so constructed as to let in the air and light, but at the same time excludes the view. They add an attractive and aristocratic appearance to your home, as well as a healthful atmosphere, making the porch the most popular and most used room during the summer months. Vudor Shades come in widths from 3 to 12 feet, and can be had to fit almost any inclosure. New stock just received-a shipment which has been for weeks delayed. There is no other porch shade so durable, strong and satisfactory in every way as Vudor, so simple to hang and easy to operate. A child can

Mr. Cockin was in much demand in recent years as a public speaker. He took an active part in politics, and was an organizer of ability, conducting very successfully several local option campaigns on behalf of the antis. He was particularly well known as a newspaper writer, contributing regular articles to both the Guelph Herald and Mercury. He wrote under the penname of "The Blacksmith." He was born in England, had traveled widely on the continent, but had resided in Guelph for the past 25 years.
