narket on Tuesday afternoon, following enormous receipts at Monday's trading, coupled wifh about 800 fresh cattle on Tuesday, found the market in a fairly strong position. Heavy steers were from 25c to 40c lower; butcher cows steady, with a strong demand for this class of cattle, and a good enquiry for stockers and feeders of quality. Other classes were about steady.

Altogether, considering the very heavy deliveries of the last two days, a very satisfactory trade was done.

Altogether considering the Very leavy deliveries of the last two days, a very satisfactory trade was done.

While there were probably between 1000 and 1200 head left over from Monday's selling, the alleys were apparently pretty well cleaned up last night. Good quality light, handy butcher cattle were not too plentiful, and more would have found ready sale at the market. Stockers, unless of quality and a breedy class, were inclined to be easier.

There was a fair demand for milkers and springers of all kinds, but, of course, anything extra was more sought after, and commanded a relatively higher price.

The lamb trade was a little easier for both the light and heavyweights. The sheep ard Lambs.
