travagant wife and the wife who makes herself independent by "going to business." But it doesn't preach about it. First and foremest, "The thirteenth Commandment" is a forceful and intensely dramatic motion picture. The big cabaret episode and the scene in which an automobile is wrecked in a smashing accident are real "thrillers." The vaudeville embraces: "Temptation," with Bobby Vail and a Broadway beauty chorus; Quigley and Fitzgerald, comedians; Arthur J. Finn & Co., in "Bagpipes Opposite to her personal feelings." The Walk-Offs" is from the successful Oliver Morosco stage-play, and is a satire on gay studio and society life in New in the Trenches;" Gus Erdman, the song jester; Lew and Edna Miller, in on gay studio and society life in New York. At the Star.

From funny Bert. Bertrand the scream producing "Yiddisher," down to the cute little girlie that purses her pretty lips and rolls her naughty eye, every one of the "Tempters" big company is an artist. The Star theatre will be the home of this big organization of entertainers next week and artists will make their first Cana tan appearance at this concert.

The choir will sing compositions by the following composers: Palestrina, Elgar, Stewart, G. B. Nevin, N. Dett. Arkhangelsky, Saknvosky and Faning.

Excrange tickets may be purchased at the music stores, or from members of the music stores, or from members of the chorus. Plan opens at Massey Hall Saturday morning, April 3 for ticket holders, and Monday, April 5 for the public.

What every mother should know, so as to understandingly warn her daughter, is set forth so graphically and so grippingly that the beholder can never forget. This picture is shown under the auspices of the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases. Picture of Mystery at Strand.

Strand Theatre patrons will be offered a most unusual mystery play next week. It is "The Cinema Murder," one of the most gripping novels ever written by the famous English writer of thrill stories, E. Phillips Oppenheim. A play within a picture is a novel feature of this production. The heroine is an actress starred by an unscrupulous financier in a new play in a theatre which he has constructed especially to display her talents and beauty. The details of the performance are shown on the screen, even to the fashionably-clad audience, the properties behind the scenes, and the action of the play. The strong cast is headed by beautiful Marion Davies, supported by Nigel Barrie and other players of note. The Strand program next week also includes part 3 of the ires of the Prince of Wales' Canadian tour, showing all the big events of the prince's visit to Toronto. Great list, the management are receiving interest will be taken in these pic tures, and large crowds are expected at the Strand next week to see the living record of his royal highness' historic sojourn in our own city.

Celebrated Violinist. Mischa Elman, the celebrated violinist, is coming to Toronto to give a recital in Massey Hall on Tuesday, April 12 White the musical public of April 13. While the musical public of Toronto needs no further invitation than the announcement that this great VICTORY BOND PRICES musician is to be here, Mr. Elman is Particularly desirous of reaching those Who have never heard good playing good music. Mothers Did Not Know.

Up to a few years ago, mothers could not adequately warn their daughters against the danger of indiscreet association with contaminated young men, because the mothers themselves were itstened to and the funniest book ever staged; this show should prove the season's record breaker at the Star theatre.

NO SALARY RAISES FOR POSTAL CLERKS

Delegation Which Waited on Federal Commission Told Nothing Could Be Done.

Ottawa, March 26.—The delegates of the Dominion Postal Clerks, who expressed their determination of getting a definite answer from the civil service commission regarding the changing of the new salary scale new existent failed in their object. Yesterday afternoon they were given the as-surance that the matters taken up would receive the fullest consideration and that there was a possibility of better wages in the near future, but no definite promises were given.

Strong representations were made Strong representations were made to the commission and cases were cited of men with families earning less than $1000 a year, but it was pointed out that for the present nothing could be done. The meeting lasted several hours and the discussion was at times warm, but at five o'clock last evening little headway had been made and the representatives were forced to leave without any great encouragement.
