JUVENILE COURT

In the juvenile court this morning six youths appeared before Magistrate Ritchie. Four were charged with doing damage to an express wagon owned by William London, in Acadia street. The boys admitted that they had damaged the wagon. The owner said he had got the wagon in an exchange for a rubber tired driving wagon in a yard off Acadia street and it had been removed to a north field and damaged to the extent of $10.

The magistrate told the boys that, one assisting the other, no matter how little he played in the affair, all were

PANSIES; THEN SNOW

Yesterday afternoon St. John had pansies; today it has snow. Yesterday afternoon a large bouquet of pansies was picked in Mrs. Bell's garden in Acadia street and presented to Mrs. B. C. Estabrook.

NEW POLICEMAN

A new policeman was added to the local force this morning in the person of Edward Quinlan. This fills one of three vacancies caused by recent resignations. Magistrate Ritchie administered the oath to the new men.

SOLDIER LOSES MONEY

Private Anderson of the 222nd Battalion lost his purse on Sunday evening out of a train window. It contained $10 and a bank check. The owner would kindly return the purse to L. R. Toss, station agent of the I. C. R., it will be forwarded to the owner.

SOLDIERS ENTERTAINED

St. James' church Badminton Club entertained about twenty members of the Siege Battery last evening in the church hall, the guest of honor being John LeCain who has returned recently from the front on furlough. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

DENTAL SOCIETY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the St. John Dental Society was held last evening in their rooms, Germain street, and well attended. Dr. J. Manning read an interesting paper on "Humor in Dentistry." This was followed by an excellent paper on "Anesthetics" by Dr. W. P. Bennett, followed by discussion. The latter part of the evening was taken up with a table clinic on "Steel" interchangeable porcelain facings for bridges. This was a very excellent clinic and was much appreciated by the dentists present.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte E. Reed took place today from her late residence, 7 St. James street. Services were conducted by Rev. D. J. McPherson and interment was made in Fernhill.

BANQUET BY STAFF

The Ben Lomond House was the scene of a jovial gathering last night when members of the staff of the local branch of the Ford Motor Company tendered W. C. Feiwings, accountant, a banquet in honor of his approaching marriage. M. S. Smith, local manager, Charles E. Ryder, district organizer for Nova Scotia, and Mr. Feiwings gave addresses, also a musical program was carried out. Those taking part were: Messrs. McGuire, Riches, Pugsley, Wisley, Wright, Elkin, MacDonald, Hansen, Geldard, Phillip, Dever, Hants and Cottingham. The programme consisted of vocal solos, readings, duets and quartets.

YOUNG SOLDIER HAD FRIENDS IN ST. JOHN

Hiram F. Delaney of Yarmouth, Who Gave His Life, Formerly Lived Here

Friends in St. John have received word of the death of Hiram F. Delaney of Yarmouth, N.S., in the war. He was for two years a resident here and had many friends in this city. A Yarmouth paper has the following:

Mrs. Walter Delaney has received the following letter from Rev. E. E. Graham (formerly of Acadia), chaplain in No. 7 Canadian Hospital, France, and dated October 9.

Dear Mrs. Delaney:—

It is with deepest sympathy and regret that I write you the death of your son who was buried by me at Mont Heron cemetery here at Trepot on Saturday last. You will be glad to know that he did not suffer greatly during his illness. During the past few days he was unable to speak but he apparently understood what was said and would hold out his hand and smile his recognition when I came to see him. He died bravely as a Christian soldier should. May the Lord be a strong comfort to those who miss him.

By the same mail another was received from Sister L. E. Coombe who nursed him during his last illness as follows:—

Dear Mrs. Delaney:—

It is with regret I write to tell you your son passed away last evening at five p. m. in my ward of this hospital. I was with him when he breathed his last, but previous to that he had been unconscious for twenty-four hours, and I do not think he could have suffered a lot as you will have heard. I believe from Sister Hannah he was admitted about three weeks ago, suffering from a severe wound in the head. I am sorry for your loss but I am sure he had every care. He had very few things in his possession when he arrived here. These will be forwarded to you in due course.

MILITARY MEDAL FOR SERGT. FRANK WILSON

News of Distinction Won By Soldier Comes to His Brother Here

Thomas L. Wilson received a letter yesterday from his brother, Sergt. Frank Wilson, who is in France with a Canadian unit. He said he was about to go into the trenches and had not much time to write, but wished to let him know that his brother, Sergt. Frank Wilson, who was recently wounded for the second time and who is in a hospital in England, and who was recommended for commission, has been awarded a military medal for conspicuous gallantry in action.

Sergt. Frank Wilson enlisted in the west and his wife still resides there. Sergt. Wilson is a veteran of the South African war.

ONE MORE HERO GIVES UP HIS LIFE.

This grim-visaged bleeding war has claimed no finer type of young Canadian than Hiram Delaney, who died of wounds October 4. He was a native son of this town which has given so generously to the great cause to those who must be free or die. His father, Walter Delaney, received the following despatch from Ottawa today:—

Deeply regret to inform you No. 67309, Pte. Hiram F. Delaney, infantry, officially reported died of wounds at No. 16 General Hospital, Letrepot, France, October 4, from gunshot wound in back. Hiram enlisted with the 25th Battalion and was in his twenty-second year. His family recently received notice of his being wounded in head, shoulder and leg, on September 29, making three times he had been wounded. He leaves besides his father, mother, five brothers and four sisters.

His response to his country's call was characteristic of an unselfish patriotic nature conscious and attuned only to the highest ideals of duty. There was no thought of himself or of his own personal sacrifices. He saw the way, and followed unwaveringly. In the translation of such as he and also the late Garner David Roy, whose death is found in another column, we lose what is hard to replace, for in their departure they take lives of real heroes with them. To the bereaved families of both young men our heartfelt sympathies go out. They are the real sufferers and may they be consoled and sustained as they deserve.

FURTHER WORD OF DEATH OF LIEUT. KERR AND GR. C. ASHOOD

Letter Comes From Murray Latham to Aunt of Harold Christie Who Had Narrow Escape at Same Time

Further details of the shell explosion in which Lieutenant Kerr and Charles Ashwood were killed and Harold Christie buried and shell shocked have been received by relatives of the latter. There was a report around the city last evening that Harold Christie had died of wounds, but this, apparently, is without foundation, as the letters tell that he was not seriously injured and was on the road to recovery.

Murray Latham of this city, sergeant in charge of signallers with the battery, writes to Mrs. George Dismart, Christie's aunt, with whom he made his home, as follows:

"Just a few lines to let you know about Harold and that there is no reason whatever to feel anxious about him. You have, no doubt, heard through the regular military channels about him being sent to the base military hospital for nervous strain due to shell shock, but I thought you might like to hear more about it from one of his friends, as the military reports usually are very meagre. It happened on Wednesday morning, October 23. He, with an officer, Lieutenant Kerr, and Charlie Ashwood, a fellow-signaller, was out to one of our observation posts when a German shell blew it up, killing Mr. Kerr and Charlie Ashwood and also killing and wounding several infantrymen in a trench close by. As Mr. Kerr and Harold were very close friends, he naturally felt it keenly and the unaccustomed sight of dead and wounded made a severe strain on his nerves. The doctor said that a rest would make him all right again in a short time and thought he had better go to the hospital, as this locality is not very conducive to peace and quiet just now.

"I trust he will be away only for a short time, as he is one of the best signallers we have and we shall miss him very much indeed."

In a letter, written on October 29, Christie tells of his recovery and says: "You have also heard of Mr. Kerr's death and my narrow escape. I am certainly lucky to be all right again so soon, much for him. I asked Murray (Latham) to write, because I was afraid somebody would exaggerate the awful news. We certainly are going to miss him and I don't think I shall ever be the same for me, but if ever a man was prepared to go, it was him. I can't say too much for him, because they don't make them any better."

"I was in the hospital for four days, but outside of getting a little shaken up, I am all right."

"Mr. Kerr and Charlie Ashwood were buried together with full military ceremony, and a gross is to be erected at each of the graves. The boys of No. 1 section are writing a letter to Mrs. Kerr (his mother), and every one is going to sign it."

TO JURY TODAY

The trial of the civil jury cause of The International Stock Food Company vs. Elmore & Mollin is being continued in the County Court before His Honor Judge Armstrong today. The case for the defence closed this morning, and the counsel addressed the jury. The case will be over in the hands of the jury this afternoon.

JOINS NAVAL RESERVE

Ernest Gunn, son of Mrs. G. Gunn, of 4 Blair street, will leave this evening for Halifax, having joined the Canadian Naval Reserve. This is the second son of Mrs. Gunn who has seen clear duty to do his bit for the empire's cause. His brother, Private Harry G. Gunn, is now in England, a member of the 140th Battalion.

THIS TWENTY-SEVEN YEAR OLD MEN'S CLOTHING STORE IS BUSY AS NEVER BEFORE

Busy every hour of every day, fitting new clothes on to men who are tired of the habiliments of summer.

Busy talking over fashion points and prices and value comparison with men who came here with faith; but want to make sure we were up to the mark.

Busy convincing the shrewdest, keenest buyers that these great stocks of ours represent not only the last word in men's fashions, but represent just as well the lowest price of men's good clothing.

Convincing them not with any sort of claim or talk, but with the goods. And all the time selling, selling, selling these fine suits and overcoats until it looked as if the store would be swept bare.

Yet come in today and find the dustless crystal cases and wardrobes filled up to capacity with
