London Spectator Suggests U.S. Become Peace Buffer Outside Nations League

Canadian Press. LONDON, Feb. 6.-Under the caption "Why not a Coolidge doctrine,"

The Spectator makes the noval suggesless entirely dependent upon the comtion that President Coolidge, by a mes-pany's stores for food. If the provis-sage to Congress or otherwise, should openly inform the world what is the United States' attitude toward the eternal problem of "Last Resort."

The newspaper suggests that the United States should act as a buttress outside the League of Nations and lay down that, wherever there is a breaker of the peace who refuses to recognize the sanctity of a new treaty concluded between powers, there the United States sees an enemy to mankind.

On the other hand, the paper says, it should be emphasized that wherever the United States finds a follower of peace, a country which fulfills pledges and treaties, a nation anxious to reduce armaments and rely on right, not might, there she recognizes a friend and fellow worker. fellow worker.

In conclusion the article says: "If President Coolidge should find it possible to do this, and only he can judge the time and method, he would do as great an act as that of President Mun-
