

MRS. H. KNOX IS KILLED IN ROAD

Thrown From Auto by Collision in Rothersey Avenue

Family Car and One Driven by Chipman Schofield Crashed

Mrs. Lillian Knox, wife of Harry Knox, 81 Sewall street, was killed last evening about 6:30 when she was thrown from an automobile in which she was riding with her husband and two children, by the force of a collision with another automobile, driven by Chipman Schofield, son of F. B. Schofield.

The accident happened near the Crosby Malapase Company plant, Rothersey avenue, a spot where other fatalities have occurred recently. Near here Louise Amburg was killed about three weeks ago and last year Lawrence Currie was fatally injured in a fall from a motor cycle at about the same spot.

Mr. Knox was driving toward the city and Mr. Schofield was going toward Rothersey. The cars were thrown about twenty feet through the air by the force of the collision and struck on the paved portion of the road. From the condition of the cars it was thought the left front wheel of the Knox car struck the Schofield car just back of the wheel.

DID NOT SEE CAR.

Mr. Knox, reporting to the police following the smash, said that he had not seen the other car until after the accident. He did not know whether there were any other automobiles on the road or not.

Mr. Schofield said that he did not know how the accident occurred. He had tried to pass between the street car and the Knox automobile, which was his right-of-way, there as the line hugs the side of the road. He knew nothing of what had caused the crash and knew nothing of what happened after the cars struck. He was very little hurt, a few scratches being the extent of his injuries. He was stunned momentarily, however, when his car turned over but was able to get out the left door, then above his head.

His car was righted later, the tire was put back on it and it was driven to the city.

The motorman of the street car said he had seen only two cars. He had known nothing of the accident until he saw Mrs. Knox flying through the air out of the car.

The ambulance was called and rushed to the spot but the unfortunate woman had been conveyed to the hospital in a touring car by Albert Stackhouse. Mrs. Knox was pronounced dead on arrival there, a fracture of the skull being given as the probable cause.

Coroner H. A. Porter was called and, after investigating the accident with Sergeant Detective John T. Power, Detective Patrick F. Biddiscombe, County Constable Shortell and Provincial Constable Robert Crawford, decided to hold an inquest, probably on Tuesday.

The resolution praised Mr. Patenaude's activities in the local legislature and expressed the belief that he would be a worthy representative of Quebec in Dominion affairs.

Weddings

Bedford-Whitely.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Canon R. P. McKim in St. Luke's church this morning at 11:45 o'clock, when Miss Gladys Martha Whitely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Whitely, of Saint John, became the bride of Cyril Francis Bedford, of Boston, son of Thomas Bedford and the late Mrs. Bedford of Somerville, Mass., formerly of Saint John.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a dress of amethyst charmeuse, trimmed with grey squirrel, with hat of pearly satin and grey stockings and slippers to match her gown. She carried a bouquet of Columbia roses. Little Jean Wood, of Chester, Penn., made a dainty little flower girl in a faded dress of pale mauve organdy and crinoline skirt. She wore a mauve nosegay. George Lanyon, organist of the church, played the wedding music and Miss Emma Rand sang "O Promise Me" while the register was being signed. The ushers were Ernest W. Whitely, a brother, and G. Eric Gidding, a cousin of the bride. Miss Ruby Morrison and Ernest Whitely signed the register as witnesses. The church was prettily decorated by girl friends of the bride, with a profusion of flowers of autumnal tints. Many interested friends assembled at the church for the ceremony, besides the invited guests.

After the wedding a buffet breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 82 Sydney street, the bride's parents, and immediate relatives of the bride couple. Mr. and Mrs. Bedford left by motor for a honeymoon trip to Boston, via the White Mountains. They will reside in Boston. The going-away gift of the bride was a traveling dress of redolent velvet, with hat of Copenhagen blue.

Many lovely gifts were presented to the bride and groom, among them silver cut glass and articles of furniture. The bride received a case of silver from the New Brunswick Telephone Company, where she had been employed in the office of the manager. The groom is employed by the Studebaker Car Company, of Boston, and received from his associates in the first of the ring of gold.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Gladys Bedford, of Boston, a sister of the groom; Mrs. Frank Cunningham and Mrs. A. E. Frame, of Arlington, Mass.; William Magee, of Middleton, N. S.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wood, Jr., and daughter Miss Joan, of Chester, Penn.; also Mrs. Walter Lillo, of Calais, Maine, grandmother of the bride.

Wignmore-Fitzpatrick.

The wedding of Miss Marjorie Fitzpatrick, daughter of Captain and Mrs. David Fitzpatrick, of Hillsboro, Albert county, was solemnized this morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, when she became the bride of Roy H. D. Wignmore, B. Sc., son of Hon. and Mrs. Rupert W. Wignmore, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Hazel Megarity, Wright street, sang appropriate solos, accompanied by Miss Margaret Barrett, of West Saint John. A wedding luncheon was served after the ceremony, following which the bride and groom left by motor for Moncton, where they took the train for northern New Brunswick and Quebec. Those going from Saint John to the wedding were Mrs. L. Hoar, Albert Hoar, Miss A. Daniel, Miss McCrearty, and Miss Barrett, as well as the parents of the groom, who expect to return this evening. The bride was recipient of many showers, and lovely gifts, both at home and in Saint John, where she was a popular visitor.

Cusack-McManus.

The marriage of Miss Annie Kathleen Cusack, daughter of Mrs. Sarah McManus, and Edward Joseph Cusack, son of Mrs. Mary Cusack, was solemnized this morning in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, by Rev. William M. Duke, with nuptial mass. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, William McManus, was prettily gowned in a navy blue velvet with hat of sand and tangerine and handsome fox fur, the gift of the groom. She carried bridal roses. Miss Mary McVulley attended the bride, wearing a pearly Canton crepe with black hat and fox fur and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, 90 Prince Edward street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cusack left for a motor trip through the province. Going away the bride donned a sand-colored traveling dress with coat of rosewood shawl and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Cusack will reside at 202 Watloo street. Among the many gifts of cut glass, silver and silverware was a substantial check from the bride's brother, Harry McManus of Montreal.

ENTITLED TO "V. D." AFTER THEIR NAMES

Order Issued Relative to Colonial Auxiliary Forces Officers' Decoration.

Recent militia orders from Ottawa publish the following order issued by the War Office, London, containing an additional rule and ordinance to the government of the colonial auxiliary forces' officers' decoration. It provides that the decoration shall not confer any individual precedence, but shall entitle the recipient to the addition of the letters "V. D." after his name.

Following this the officers of the Militia Council at Ottawa have published the following dated August 1, 1925, as a new paragraph to the regulations issued some years ago when the officers' decoration was authorized for 20 years' service in the Canadian Militia as an officer:

"The award of the Colonial Auxiliary Forces officers' decoration shall not confer any individual precedence, but shall entitle the recipient to the addition of the letters 'V. D.' after his name."

When the grant of the officers' decoration was made in Canada some 20 years ago it was felt that those officers who received it after serving in commissioned rank for 20 years, should have some public recognition, as a similar decoration issued in Great Britain entitled such officer to "V. D." after his name, and later on decorations for 30 years' service were granted to the Territorial Forces, which authorized the letters "T. D." and to the Royal Naval Reserve with R. D., and all these are generally used in England and duly recognized, so, many all recipients in Canada may be addressed with the addition of "V. D."

Among those who are now entitled to the distinguishing letters are Major General McLean, Colonel Murray, Colonel Laren, C. M. G., Lieut. Colonel Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Colonel Edwards, Colonel Sturdee, Senator Daniel, Dr. Walker, Lieut. Col. Armstrong, Lieut. Colonel McLeod, Lieut. Colonel Massey, D. S. O., and many others.

Mrs. Siebert was a corroborating witness for her daughter, Mrs. Mary Noble of 61 Ashland Place, Brooklyn, who asked for an Enoch Arden decree of divorce from her husband, Carl Noble, who has been missing since 1920, four years after their marriage. The court reserved decision.

Announcing Fall Opening In Our Men's Shops

Neckwear

Men who dress well will be wearing ties of silk and wool crepe, Irish poplin, Italian mogador, Swiss hand loomed silk, British Liberties or knitted silks. And they may choose from a great variety of color effects and patterns.

Gloves

M. R. A. Glove stocks are something to be justly proud of, for they comprise best makes in chamois, suede, suedex, doe skin, mocha, buck, cape, knitted wool and others. Among the most fashionable colors are putty, grey and beaver.

Hosiery

Special attention is called to cashmere, worsted and silk and wool hosiery in plain colors and heather mixtures. Also checks, plaid, embroidered stripes and ribbed effects in popular weights. Golf hose in many makes include the celebrated "Jaeger" woolsens and others.

Shirts

The new season's novelties include pleated and corded fronts, the much talked of detachable, reversible cuffs and shirts with separate starched or soft collars to match. Patterns, fabrics and colors offer very pleasing varieties.

Hats

The new, wider, curling brim shapes are going to be in great demand for the fall and winter seasons. These may now be found here in Bardley hats, Borsalinos, Brocks, Biltmores and others. Grey will be an outstanding color.

Autumn Suits With New Style Points

Much that determines the quality of a suit isn't apparent on the outside. It's in the construction—the way the haircloth and felt padding are put together, and the canvas foundation shaped and sewn. The careful attention paid to these points make M. R. A. Suits have proper lasting proportions.

Suggestive of autumn are Suits with peak lapels. Coats have easier fitting lines following closely the English styles. Mixed Tweeds in light and dark shades are fashionable and perfectly styled. You'll find nothing but fine quality here—and values that are bound to please.

Topcoats Of Best British Makes

Of course, not all of our Topcoats are British make, but British makes are strongly represented in our stocks and many models bear the label of "Burberry" or "Maeson"—names well known to men who have made a study of the style question.

At the very first of the season we couldn't have said with so much assurance just what styles would be best. The way men have taken to certain models proclaim their new qualities to be correct.

Plain colors promise to be in greatest demand and offer diversity enough to please men of all tastes. Among the most popular numbers are navy blue and grey Chinchillas and Nap cloths, however, Tweeds are also shining in the honors.

Coats in many cases are slightly longer than for previous seasons. A few very smart models are forfitting with velvet collars, others are half belted or free hanging.

An Invitation

Men of Saint John and vicinity are cordially invited to visit our men's shops any day this week and look over the new fall stocks at their leisure. Our salesmen are prepared to give reliable information on questions pertaining to the style-trend for the coming colder seasons.
