LOCAL NEWS.

DIDA.—The mysterious, mystifying creation of a woman out of nothing.

Grand clearance sale of ladies' and misses' hats at John K. Storey's, Union Street.

Some person broke the glass sign in front of the Grand Union hotel early this morning.

The citizens and seamen are cordially invited to the song service at the Seamen's Institute (Shipman House), this evening.

Rev. C. W. Hamilton arrived in the city yesterday from Sackville, and left this morning for Boston, where he will supply for several weeks in the People's Temple.

Tomorrow morning at nine o'clock in the police court Peter Petropoulos will be asked questions regarding a charge made by Joseph Marcus, who claims that Petropoulos stole a gold pin from the lapel of his coat. J. King Kelley is representing the complainant.

Last night the men from the steamer Manchester Corporation, accompanied by a number of sailors from the other ships in the harbor, went to the Seamen's Institute. They took possession of the rooms and entertained all present with songs, recitations, etc. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

Of recent date a number of petty robberies have been spoken of and a number of cases dealt with. One of the latest is the theft of a quantity of junk owned by a man named Goldberg and reported as having been taken from a car at Reed's Point. The matter will probably be looked into by the police.

The police found Peter Gullman on Water street about 2:30 o'clock this morning suffering from a dislocated shoulder caused by a fall over the railway track on the Pettigill wharf. He was taken to the Water street lockup and Dr. D. E. Berryman was summoned and attended the injured man, who was shortly after able to go home.

The case of Peter Petropoulos vs. F. E. Williams was continued in the equity court this morning. The evidence of John Sperdakes, F. E. Williams, and Stanley Sugart was heard.

The evidence all went to show that the plaintiff had been tampering with the piano over which the dispute has arisen. The court adjourned until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when Mr. Sugart will be cross-examined.

The Frederick Glenier says:—A report has reached here from the North Shore that there has been a wild slaughter of moose and other big game in the vicinity of Chatham and that the hides have been turned over to a new tanning concern which has started in business. The report further states that Chief Constable Ward Robinson visited the aforesaid tannery and there seized the hides of moose, the carcasses of which had been allowed to float out to sea, and that the tannery people were fined $400 for having the hides on their premises. If such a state of affairs really exists the authorities should take drastic measures, if necessary, to see that a stop is put to such actions.

RIVER BOATS ON THEIR ROUTES AGAIN.

The May Queen which met with a slight accident to her boiler yesterday was delayed about three hours in leaving on her regular trip this morning, on account of the repairs not being completed. The Elaine which has been having a new propeller placed, came up through the falls last night and went on her regular route at a late hour last night. She arrived at Indian town on time this morning with a good freight and passenger list.

SAID A POLICEMAN
KEPT HIS MONEY

Hugh McIntosh Had Dreams—Mary Spellman Forgot the Way to the Jail.

In the police court this morning Robert Clayton, a small boy charged with stealing a roll of olefinth from Keane's store on Union street, was remanded. One drunk left a deposit of $8. Mary Simpson was charged with being drunk and begged to be allowed to go home but instead she went into jail in default of paying a fine of eight dollars. Charles McCarthy was fined $3 or two months for being drunk.

Hugh McIntosh, suffering under a heavy jag yesterday, was gathered by the North End police and when searched he had $5.86 on him. Policeman Marshall returned this amount to the prisoner in court this morning and McIntosh became indignant and said that the police had taken over seven dollars from him and there was a two dollar bill missing.

Mary Spellman, who was reported for acting disorderly and ejecting Mrs. Wilkes from the latter's house on White street, appeared in court with a fairly good amount of liquor in her, and was given a seat on the prisoner's bench. Mary denied that she was a law breaker and when told that she would be remanded to jail, she asked that an officer conduct her there as she did not know the way.

NEW WAREHOUSE TO BE EXACTLY THE SAME AS NO. 3

At a meeting this morning of the sub-committee of the board of works to deal with the new warehouse it was decided to recommend that the plans and specifications be the same as for No. 3 warehouse, that is that the new building and No. 3 warehouse will be almost exactly alike. In No. 3 warehouse there are only central posts. It was first thought that the new warehouse should be built without any posts at all, but the committee decided that this would require it to be much higher than is needed, and as centre posts are very little in the way that a warehouse similar to No. 3 would be preferable to any other kind.

A. O. H. DECORATION DAY TOMORROW

Two Fresh Graves to be Attended This Year.

Members Will Leave Their Rooms at Half Past One—Will Visit the Old and New Cemeteries.

The A. O. H. of this city will hold their decoration day tomorrow. At 1:30 p. m. the procession will start from the A. O. H. rooms on King street, headed by a band, containing flowers, and other decorations, including shamrocks and crosses. The band will be followed by the City Cornet Band. Next will come the Hibernian Knights under the command of Maj. Kichham and Capt. E. J. McLaughlin, while the division members will bring up the rear, wearing black, with black silk hats, and white ties and gloves.

The society will first proceed to the old cemetery, and then cross over past the Industrial Home to the new cemetery.

The order of ceremonies at the graves will be as follows: Knights and members will be drawn up in a line. The president will call the name of the member whose grave is to be decorated, and two members will step forward, take a pot of shamrocks, a floral cross and a flag, with whatever flowers are apportioned for the grave, and, escorted by three knights proceed to the grave. When the decoration is placed, and prayers recited, the knights give the salute and return and report to the president. While the work of decoration is going on the band will render appropriate selections.

There have been two new graves added to the A. O. H. list since last decoration day, those of Daniel McManus, engineer in the Public Hospital, who died last spring, and Daniel Donovan, ship laborer, of Dock street, who passed away during the winter.

The following is a list of the graves to be decorated:

To the old Catholic cemetery: Jos. O'Leary, Robt. Coleman, Thos. McFadden, John Mullin, John Murphy, Patrick Curry, Geo. McWilliams, Richard Martin, Edw. Burke, Patrick Sullivan, Edmund Quinn.

In the new cemetery: S. Duffy, J. L. McCoshery, Philip Hickey, Jr., P. Balin, Jas. McMahon, Thos. Burns, W. D. McNulty, John O'Grady, John Condon, J. R. Kichham, Edw. Connolly, J. R. Sullivan, Frank McCallough, Daniel Donovan, R. Rev. John Sweeney, Rev. Fr. Coughlin, Michael Delany of Div. No. 4.

St. Peter's cemetery, North End: Dr. J. P. Collins, who died from ship fever in 1847.

Sussex: J. Fred Quirk.

The decoration of the grave of J. Fred Quirk, Sussex, will be done by the president D. O. Laughy, of Norton Division, and that of John McFadden, in Brompton cemetery, by Thos. McFadden, of Butouche. The grave of Dr. Collins, at St. Peter's cemetery, will be decorated by some member of the committee.

PADDOCK STREET HOUSE THE SCENE OF A LIVELY FIGHT.

Bulldog and Terrier the Contestants—Two Bullets Parted Them and They Will Fight No More.

There was a lively fight in the kitchen of a Paddock street residence yesterday morning. One member of the family was the guardian of a heavy Yorkshire terrier, while another male member of the home circle sported a bulldog. By chance the two dogs got into the kitchen and took charge, and with the family cat to referee an unlimited contest, the canines clinched. There was only one hold for the bulldog had the Yorkshire terrier by the lower jaw and despite the screams of the women in the house and the beating over the head with a rolling pin by a neighbor the bull still retained his grip and was slowly killing the terrier. There was one way, however, of bringing the contest to an end. Policeman Ward Robinson, of the night and made a raid. He did not take the fighters to the police station but held a little court of his own in the back yard and sent both dogs to the happy hunting grounds with bullets from his revolver. A dose of lead from the police revolver might stop some of the curs from tearing up the flower beds in the King Square.

WILLIAMSON TO BUILD A NEW MACHINE SHOP

The Austin block in front of the Star line warehouse, North End, which has been unoccupied since the Indian town fire, is now a busy place as a large crew of men are at work there cleaning away the debris preparatory for building.

The structure, which is to be erected on that lot is being built by Mr. Williamson, who is the present owner of the machine shop on the wharf. Mr. Williamson is going to use it for a machine shop, as his present place is not large enough. The new building is to be ninety by forty feet in size and two stories high. It will be fitted up with all the latest and up-to-date machinery. Mr. Williamson expects to be occupying his new premises during the latter part of two fall.
