Despairing Victims of Asthma

Find New Hope and Thorough

Cure in

Dr. Chase's Syrup of

Linseed and Turpentine.

Too many asthma sufferers give up their search for cure, believing that their particular case is beyond the control of scientific treatment.

It is unnecessary to describe the miseries of the asthma victim, with livid face and staring eyes, frantically gasping for breath. What we would do is to point all such to a new hope in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, the one great remedy which has proven its efficiency not only as a prompt relief, but also as a thorough cure for asthma.

The gratitude of scores and hundreds of cured ones is expressed in just such words as the following from Mrs. George Budden, Putnamville, Ont.:

"I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. As I had the Asthma very bad; could get nothing to do me good. A friend of mine persuaded me to try this remedy, as he had tried it and it proved successful. I tried it and it cured me. I am thankful today to say I am a well woman through the use of this remedy. I keep it in the house all the time, and would not be without it."

It is impossible to imagine a better treatment for asthma than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It soothes the excited nerves, clears the bronchial tubes, and, when used regularly, thoroughly and permanently cures asthma. 25 cents a large bottle at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

"Cold in the head" and catarrh, with its distressing symptoms, are promptly cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. 25 cents a box; blower free.

THINGS OF VALUE.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other.

We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when properly used, a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the faintest evidence are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restorative. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making actively a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite, nourishment and superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, regarded by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

"Some of the most successful men in politics," he said thoughtfully, have been those who have had little to say.

Naturally she was indignant. "Always doing your best to discourage women."

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is sometimes difficult to tell which is best. If we have a cough, a cold, or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would try Quinine Wine. It is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as syrup.

She said, "I am certain that Sue is engaged to Mr. Dinkley," said Miss Kittish to Miss Pipp. "Why, she never mentions him." "That is what confuses me." She used to make all manner of fun of him.

A Life Saved.—Mr. James Bryson, Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by the physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. THOMAS' EMULSION OF PURE OIL OF FISH, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on his advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

"I do not know how he is a lair leader?" "Well, I saw a union card in his possession. That shows he's a union man, doesn't it?"

"And I happen to know he never works. That proves him to be a leader."

Sure Regulators.—Mandrake and Dandelion are known to exert a powerful influence on the liver and kidneys, restoring them to healthy action, inducing a regular flow of the secretions and imparting to the organs complete power to perform their functions. These valuable ingredients enter into the composition of Falmesley's Vegetable Pills and serve to render them the agreeable and salutary medicine they are. There are few pills so effective as they in their action.

Real communications.—Alice—I do wish Edgar wouldn't associate with doctors.

Mamma—Why, daughter?

Alice—Oh, some doctor he knows has told him where his appendix is; and now he thinks he's got a pain in it.

They Wake the Torpid Energies.—Machinery not properly supervised and left to run itself, very soon shows lack in its working. It is the same with the digestive organs. Unregulated from time to time they are likely to become torpid and throw the whole system out of gear. Falmesley's Vegetable Pills were made to meet such cases. They restore to the full the flagging faculties, and bring into order all parts of the mechanism.

"The price of hard coal is down."

"Of course. That's always the way when I'm just through buying."
