to British refugees from the Transvaal declaring that a large force of Boers was advancing on the town. The rumor that Newcastle has been occupied by the Boers is without confirmation.

The latest advices from Mateking say that every precaution has been taken against attack, and that all the streets are barred to wagons. The Boers, it is said, intend to shell the town before delivering their attack. They are said to possess 12 gun. The convent sisters and many ladies have elected to stay and norse the wounded, and many houses have been converted into hospitals.

The searchlight on the fort is kept Weyreuse, Oct. 12 — (Afternoon). A body of Boers has cut the border fence, advanced to the railway and cut the telegraph wires. Two thousand Boers are now occupying the railway line.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 12—The cabinet was in session all forencor. Those present were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Henri Jolly, Sir Richard Cartwright, and Mesers. Fielding, Sifton, Scott, Borden, Tarte and Mulcok.

It was generally understood that the question under discussion was to the despatch of Canadian troops to the Transvaal. At the close of the meeting ministers said that there was nothing A Chaplain from Halifax

HALIFAX, Oct. 13—Rev. Father Emanuel Morgan, Roman Catholic chaplain of the forces here, left hurriecly this afternoon for London via New York under orders from the war department to leave at once for England to join his regiment and proceed to the Cape.

Loyalists Loyal.

Toronto, Oct. 12—At a meeting of the United Empire Loyelists' association to-day after a lecture by Sir John Bourinot, on the Loyalists of 1812 14, the following resolution was adopted:

"The members of this society, descendants of those who fought and suffered for Unity of Empire, hereby express their sympathy with, and their loyal support of those men who are defending the unity of the British Empire in South Africa."

Montreal Excited.

Montreal, Oct. 11—The officers and men of the various Montreal corps were on the qui vive today owing to the announcement that a contingent was to be sent from Canada direct to South Africa almost immediately. No official confirmation of the news was received at the brigade office. The opinion, however, is general that the news is true. Many offers of enlistment were made at the brigade office today, but although in some cases names were taken down no official enlistment was begun.

La Patrie Approves. Montheal, Oct. 11—La Patrie, Mr. Tarte's organ, says this evening: "The Canadian contingent which is going to the Transvaal is composed of men who have voluntarily tendered their cervices. We applaud heartly the action."

What the Times Thinks. TORONTO, Oct. 11-A London cable to the Telegram says: The Times, referring to the offers of help from the colonies in case of hostilities, says in anticipation of any malevolent misinterpretation of Canada's not having yet followed the example of Australia that it is not the example of Australia that it is not on account of any lack of unanimity in legislation or enthusiasm of the people, which is all on the side of Great Britain, but it is solely on account of the hesitation on the part of the government, which, though its reasons may be legitimate, already excites impatience throughout the dominion.

Hamilton, Oct. 11-The Sanford clothng manufacturing company are working night and day on a hung up order received from the militia department for clothing for the Canadian rifle corps to be despatched to the Transvaal. The order is a large one and must be comple ted this month.

Made a Better Showing this Year than Ever Be fore-The Attend ance was Large and the Displays Unusually Fine-List of the Prize Winners.

The Simonds and Loch Lomond Agricultural Society held their annual fair Thursday in the Agricultural Hall, near the Ben Lomond House. The weather was exceptionally fine and, as a result there was the largest crowd of people that has yet attended this fair, and every person was much pleased with what was to be seen.

The hall was filled with produce and hand-made cloths, and presented a fine appearance. The produce was as good as ever shown at the fair, while the

The horses, cattle, sheep and other animal exhibits were above the ordinary stock shown at similar fairs.

As early as 8 o'clock the visitors began to arrive and before noon there was not a chance in the Ben Lomond House stables to put a horse. Those who arrived after noon were obliged to have their horses looked after outside the stables.

The dining room of the Ben Lomond House was crowded for a couple of hours after noon. The menu offered by the proprietor, Mr. Sterling Barker, was never before equalled, and the dinner was quickly served.

After dinner a large number of persons arrived from the city and surrounding neighborhood and at 2 o'clock the hell was crowded with men, women and children, while in the rear of the hall a large ring was surrounded by large numbers who eagerly watched the judging of the horses.

The following is a correct list of the prize winners:

St. Anderw's, Oot. 12—Martha Shaw, the 16 year old daughter of Mr. Harry Shaw, was burned almost to death yesterday afternoon by her clothes catching fire, and her recovery is quite uncertain. The unfortunate girl was working in the yard in the rear of her home when the accident occurred and how her clothes got on fire is a mystery as she had no matches about her person and there was not any fire in or about the premises at the time. The clothing was at the time. The clothing was a she are a severed to expect some breat of the parish politician. I had a right to expect from Mr. Foster some breadth of vision. He might have claimed his at entity of the parish politician. I had a right to expect from Mr. Foster some breadth of vision. He might have touched the great issues of the day. The Angli-Saxon mission and Canada's part in it, might justly have claimed his at entition. The unification of the empire and kindred matters might fairly have been discussed. But no, there was the old and threadbare political speech—the lavish praise of Conservatism, past and present—the somewhat acrid and sour fault-finding of a man who seems hastening towards mental atrophy, judging him by this speech.

Now, in all fairness, does Mr. Foster believe his own doctrine? Mr. Laurier has worked his way from obscurity to the highest political position in Canada. Does such an achievement bespeak him a fool?

Is anything to be gained for Canada by stigmatizing her statesmen thus? As to Mr. Blair does any man in Canada believe he is not a business success? What about his career as a lawyer? Was he a failure? And as to his career as a politician Mr. Foster does not surely consider him. a failure, there. Even politician Mr. Foster does not surely consider him a failure there.
