The Master Workman.

We have preached the doctrine of the hardship of work until we almost believe in it ourselves, and yet work gives to life all that is to make life worth while. Work of itself has fur aished to mankind more happiness han any other one thing. All work is not happiness, but life with no work would be unbearable. My idea of the feal aristocrat, the man who can from within his own soul look down on others, is the master workman, no matter what his line of work may be matter what his line of work may be.

A job well done gives pleasure to the man who does it. There is happiness in the pride of being a master workman.—H.L.D.

LOSS OF STRENGTH THROUGH INDIGESTION

The Stomach Can Only Do Its Work When the Blood is Rich and Red.

Indigestion means loss as well as suffering to many people. Loss of strength, loss of time and loss of strength, loss of time and loss of money follows indigestion and debility continues as long as the indigestion remains. Workers suffer from indigestion because their hours are long, and often they cannot give proper time to meals. Then the appetite becomes fickle, digestion becomes feeble and the blood becomes impoverished. So the general health
