Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York—Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: "Many men who smoke, chew or sniff tobacco, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, that your heart is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or sniff to quiet your nerves you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following Nicotol remedy. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets. Take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything else on the market. The remedy is recommended by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this country under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (1)

OTTAWA LETTER

The session continues much longer than was anticipated three weeks ago. The Grand Trunk Acquisition Bill is the cause. There has been much debate, a great deal of recrimination with regard to the railway policies of the past, and a good deal of valuable information has been obtained.

Mr. King, the Liberal leader, maintains that the proposition is not one of public ownership at all; that it goes no further than to give public control. Other members of the Opposition are frankly and openly opposed to public ownership as well as public operation, so that the fight against the bill is quite strong, though for varying reasons. Others feel that the final award of the arbitrators should be submitted to Parliament and that all the stock should be subject to arbitration, and not merely a part of it.

Mr. Burnham, Unionist M.P. for Peterborough, who moved to the cross-benches at the opening of the session, sang his swan-song the other day. Saying that he did not expect to be returned to Parliament and that the acceptance of his suggestion would probably mean political suicide for him, he nevertheless felt that there should be an election before the Bill becomes effective, in order that the Canadian people may express their wishes on so important a question.

Only one or two members applauded Mr. Burnham's remarks. Indeed, something like a cold shudder passed over the members, especially the Unionists. An election would be a terrible thing. Many of the members fear already that they will never help to take possession of the handsome new Parliament Buildings.

Probably the bill will pass. It surely will in the House of Commons, but there is some evidence that it may have a rough passage when it gets to the Senate.

In the meantime, the committee dealing with the question of soldiers' gratuities has finished its task, after six weeks of investigation. Their report, in effect, refuses the demand for further large cash grants, on the ground that the country simply cannot pay. We are so badly in the hole now that the Government hardly knows which way to turn.

I have given up guessing as to when the session will end. It may be by Nov. 7th or it may be weeks later. It cannot well be sooner.

DOINGS IN PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Deslauriers, M.P., proposes the following resolutions in the House of Commons.

That, in the opinion of this House, since Peace is signed and the Allies intend to abolish militarism, it is expedient to enact that participation in foreign wars is not in the best interests of Canada; that our Constitution be restored; and that the Conscription law be barred out of our Statutes.

That, in the opinion of this House, considering the critical circumstances which the citizens of cities now experience, the sacrifices which our participation in the last war imposed almost entirely on the city people, be it resolved that citizens who have contravened the Military Service Act in the cities, be pardoned as soon as possible.

Mr. Gauvreau, M.P., has asked the following questions in the House of Commons.

Is it the intention of the Government to advise the Imperial authorities that it would be desirable that His Majesty King George V should proclaim a general amnesty throughout the whole of His Empire, in favour of those who have violated the Military Service Act either in England or in the Dominions, on the day of the official proclamation of Peace?

If so, is it the intention of the Government to take advantage of the official proclamation of the Peace in Canada in order to proclaim a general amnesty to the defaulters of the Military Service Act, especially to the sons of farmers who have always understood that their services on the farms were just as valuable as those who had enlisted for overseas service?

Mr. Ethier, M.P., makes the following motion in Parliament.

Resolved, that in the opinion of the House a general amnesty should be granted to all those who, in failing to enlist, did not obey the Military Service Act, and that all fines paid by the defaulters who were convicted by the courts, be returned to them.

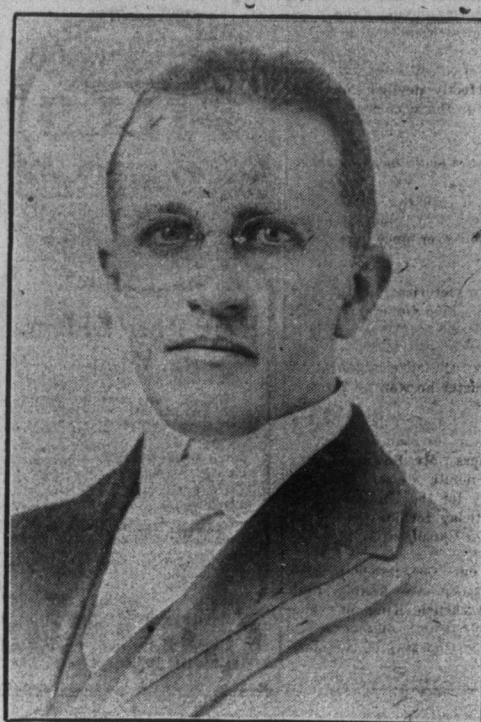

PHILIPSBURG.

A pleasant surprise party was held on Monday evening, Oct. 27th in honor of Mrs. Christian Berg. Some of the members of the ladies aid of the Zion Luth. church invaded their home to spend a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. Berg before their removal to Wellenley. The evening was spent in singing and a fitting address was read by Rev. Karl Ziegler, who also handed over to Mrs. Berg a beautiful Hymn Book presented by the Ladies Aid. Lunch was served after which the merry group went home wishing Mr. and Mrs. Berg a happy life in their new home.

The World's Judgment Day IS IT HERE?

Has the past Great World-War been God's judgment upon the nations, and if so, is His judgment over? What relation has it to God's judgment of the people?
