

- 102; speaks in favour of Lovel, 105; stops the runaway express, 132; interrupts the duellists, 182; conceals Lovel in his cave, 188; tries to comfort him, 190; the sneeze, 196; refuses Lovel's bounty, 201; recognises the ram's horn, 218; assists at the search for treasure, 218; induces Dousterswivel to renew the search, 225; meets him at midnight, 232; flight with Steenie, pursued by the mute, 248; sent to Lord Glenallan by old Elspeth, 252; at Glenallan House, 255; interview with the Earl, 262; seized by the constables, 270; in the prison, 337; his declaration, 339; Oldbuck and McIntyre come to his assistance, 340; tells about the treasure found in St. Ruth's, 346; bailed out, 351; accompanies Oldbuck to Elspeth Mucklebackit's, 354; questions Elspeth, 362; sets off to Tannohurgh for the needful letter, 378; returns with good news, 387; explains to Oldbuck about 'Search No. 1.', 398; is left in comfort, 412; prototype of, xi
- Oldbuck, Griselda, description of, 45; altercation with her brother, 74; questions Lovel how he passed the night, 91; sorts the fish-wife, 124; excitement at Lord Glenallan's visit, 314
- Oldbuck, Jonathan (the Antiquary), encounter with Mrs. Macleuchar, 2; his pedigree and circumstances, 10; entertains Lovel at Monkbarns, 18, 72; his sanctum, 19; invites Sir Arthur Wardour to dinner, 38; disputes with the Baronet, 51; comes to his assistance on the crags, 67; altercation with his sister about Lovel's bed, 74; lights Lovel to the haunted room, 82; altercation with his sister at breakfast, 92; relates the story of Aldobrand the printer, 95; buys fish at Mussel Crag, 99; visit with Lovel to Knockwinmock, 107; interview with Sir Arthur, 110; cross-questions Lovel, 117; sketches Lovel's literary career, 120; proposes to help write the Caledonian, 122; opinion of, at the post-office, 127; visits Fairport, 136; calls on Lovel, 138; at the picnic at St. Ruth's, 145; Edie's opinion of his wisdom, 189; complains during Hector's illness, 203; visit from the Wardours, 206; interrogates Dousterswivel, 214; puts him to the test at St. Ruth's, 218; interrogates Caxon about Mucklebackit's funeral, 272; destruction of the lachrymatory by McIntyre's dog, 274; contempt for the Celt, 278; attends the funeral of Steenie Mucklebackit, 283; finds the father repairing his boat, 307; serious interview with Lord Glenallan, 309; his first love, 310; brings his Lordship to Monkbarns for the night, 314; throws light on Miss Neville's story, 321; essay on the Quickens Bog, 325; assists Edie at the court-house, 340; visit to Elspeth Mucklebackit, 354; stops the warrant of distress, 381; gossips with Edie Ochiltree, 398; buckles on his sword to meet the French, 405; prototype of, vi
- Oldenbuck, Aldobrand, the Monkbarns ghost, 81; the printer, 95
- Orchard, monastic, 27
- Ossian, Oldbuck's attack on, 278
- PEASANTRY, Scotch, simplicity and pathos of their language, v
- Phoca, Hector's encounter with, 281, 350, 353
- Picta, angry discussion upon, 52
- Post-office at Fairport, 125
- Potter Row (Edinburgh) bedesman, xii
- 'Prætorian here, prætorian there,' 31
- Prætorium* at Kiuprunes, 28, 122, 415
- QUEENSFERRY diligence, 1; inn, 9
- Quickens Bog, Oldbuck's essay, 325
- RAB TULL's communication with the goblin, 78
- Ram's horn found in St. Ruth's, 198, 209, 215, 218
- Ratton's Skerry, 62
- Ringan Aikwood, 240
- Rutherford, Jenny, Oldbuck's maid-of-all-work, 19; visit to her sweetheart's cottage, 232
- Robert, Sir Arthur Wardour's servant, 371, 378, 382
- Roland Cheyne, 360
- Roman camps, favourite subject with Oldbuck, 6, 30
- Roxburghe, Duke of, story of his funeral, 418
- Rutherford's, Mr., dream, 415.
- SANCTUM SANCTORUM, Oldbuck's, 19
- Scot's Discovery of Witchcraft, 417
- Seal, Hector's encounter with, 281
- 'Search,' H.M. gun-brig, 201, 346
- 'Search, No. 1.,' 227, 346; explanation of, 388
- Servants, Oldbuck's ideas of, 47
- Shedbarachemoth, Schartachan, Dousterswivel's spell, 194
- Shorteske, Mrs., at the post-office, 125
- Snuffy Davie, book-collector, 23
- St. Augustine's apparition, 81
- St. Ruth's priory, description of, 146; duel at, 182; cave under, 188; entered at night by Sir Arthur and Dousterswivel, 193; casket found in, 198; great discovery at, 218, 347; search for the remaining treasure, 232, 346, 398; Countess of Glenallan's funeral, 238
- Sweepclean, the bailiff, 379, 384
- TAFFEL, Lieutenant, his relations with Jenny Caxon, 126; acts as Lovel's second, 180; receives him on board his gun-brig, 201; evil tidings of, 346; in defence of Fairport, 406
- Tapestry in Monkbarns Green Room, 84
- Teresa, the Countess's Spanish servant, 365
- 'The herring loves the merry moonlight,' 350
- 'They saddled a hundred milk-white steeds,' 360
- Treasures, each with their story, 27