

Sanitary and Convenient

THE PEERLESS INDIVIDUAL COMMUNION CUP SET is, above all, Sanitary. Not only is there a separate cup for each communicant, but the set is absolutely dustproof. The cups can be readily sterilized after the service.

Its next important feature is its Convenience. The Trays are light and easy to pass. Being built on the interlocking plan, they require no extra table space. The cups are an improved shape that empty without making it necessary to tip back the head.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY at Kingston used a Peerless Individual Cup set. The Moderator (Rev. M. Macgillivray, D.D.), who presided, says of it :

"At the Assembly Communion, Kingston, June, 1915, the Individual Service provided by the Church Publication Board, was used, and in every respect gave perfect satisfaction.

"The attendance was unusually large, but the serving was noiseless, expeditious and impressive. This was the more noticeable, because in the Assembly Hall there were no pew brackets for the empty cups as in Churches, where they may be left till after worship, and so they had to be collected immediately after use.

"The simplicity and decorum of the arrangement were afterwards freely remarked upon. For such an occasion, and for general Church requirements, I cannot imagine how any Individual Communion Service could be more suitable than this." (Signed) THE MODERATOR.

The set is handsome looking, though quite inexpensive. The best way to judge of its merits is to try it at your next Communion.

We have a FREE TRIAL OFFER which allows you to do this without placing you under any obligation to purchase.
