It is ever thus from morn till night!
Who says that a mother's work is light?

Mother's Work

PART I.

PART II. At evening, four Little forms in white; Prayers all said, And the last good-night. Tucking them safe In each downy bed, Silently asking. O'er each head. That the dear Father In heaven will keep safe all my darlings, Awake or asleep.

Awake or asleep.

Then I think the old adage true ever will "It is easy to labor for those that we love."

PART III. Ah me!dear me!I often say
As I hang the tumbled clothes away,
And the tear-drops start,
While my burdend heart
Aches for the mother across the way,
Where, oh where are
Her nestlings flown?
All, all are gone,
Save one alone!
Folded their garments
With tenderest care,
Unpressed the pillow
And vacant the chair;
No ribbons to tie,
No faces to wash,
No hair all awry;
No merry voices. No narr all awry;
No merry voices
To hush into rest;
God save thern,
He took them,
And he knoweth best;

Ice-boxes and refrigerators in general are not half cared for. They should be washed in every part with hot soda water, rinsed with clean water, dried and aired each time before putting in fresh ice. Between times, wipe up any milk, gravy or vegetables that may be spilt.

It is well occasionally to deprive children of some article of food of which they are especially fond. The having of one's appetite under control is a grand thing, and if the inestimable lessons of self-denial and retraint were oftener taught in child. and restraint were oftener taught in child-hood, there would be fewer wrecks of men and women who are now slaves to passion and the appetite,
A good wife, according to Pope, is

"She who ne'er answers till her husband cools, Or if she rules him, never shows she rules, Charms by accepting, by submitting sways, Yet has her humor most when she obeys."

Beauty that depends only on peach-like cheeks and regularity of form will assuredly fade, but the pleasant expression that shows cheerfulness of temper may become more and more one with the face on which it shines, so that the advancing years ever deepen and increase the charm

Interesting Facts About Fish.

Every species of fish has its regular hours for feeding, but bass and pickerel digest their food the soonest, and are therefore most always hungry. A pike or pickerel weighing ten pounds will pull a dead weight of twenty pounds off a level bank when hooked. These same fish have been known to jump at least four feet clear of the surface and to four feet clear of the surface and to throw themselves from one pond into another. Fish can see at night just as well as a cat. Does a fish ever sleep? He does. If you will watch a gold fish for a day or two you will find him taking occasional naps. If man could invent some way to get up a race between fishes the result would astonish you. A pickerel is probably one of the swiftest of our fresh water fish. He moves for a short distance so tast that you simply see a flash. Almost every species of fish can see on all sides and behind him as well as in front. Their gills are the can see on all sides and behind him as well as in front. Their gills are the most delicate filter in the world. Every tooth in the mouth of a fish which preys upon other fish is set in such a way that every attempt to escape fastens the victim more firmly. A redhorse or mullet, weighing five pounds, could not take a small apple into its mouth. A pike weighing three pounds could almost swallow a man's fist. When a bass is first hooked, he will run towards you. A pike or pickerel will run from you. A pike or pickerel will run from you, A sheephead or dogfish will jump for the surface. A mullet will dive for the bot-
