MRS. MARY ANN DUVAL.

Mary Ann Mayfield Duval, the beloved wife of J. W. Duval, departed this life in the faith and hope of the gospel, at Forest Glen, N.B., Nov. 24th, 1882, in the 78th year of her age. She was an unobtrusive Christian, beloved by all who knew her, a Mother of the third generation. Her father, seated on her grand-father's shoulder, witnessed the Rev. John Wesley lay the foundation stone of the first Methodist Chapel built in Halifax, Yorkshire. Her mother received her first ticket from Rev. J. Benson, M.A., Duval received her ticket in the year 1824-5. She was a devoted mother, and her love for the people of her choice until death. She has left behind her an affectionate husband, four children, and a large circle of friends. Her trust was in Christ. Her end was peace. She was in her usual health on returning from her last illness, but after a few days' confinement she passed into the possession of her Lord. After fifty years' life she obtained her wish and "rested at one to work and live."

WELDON TUTTLE.

We have again been called to pass through grief, only about ten months ago, my old and true friend, Weldon Tuttle, after a brief illness passed away, leaving only one surviving son by his first wife. That son has now been called to join the family above; called, too, just as he was about to receive his share of the paternal estate, and when all arrangements had been made for marriage, which was fixed for only one week after his lamented death took place. Thus has the bridegroom been summoned from the bride just before their nuptials were solemnized, and thus have flattering hopes and prospects been dashed to the ground. His death was startlingly sudden, after a week's brief illness, induced by too much exertion and violent cold. His funeral took place last Thursday. He was followed to the grave by perhaps the largest procession that ever attended a funeral at the Head of the Bay, and his death was witnessed at my mother's residence by a crowd of weeping relatives and friends who could scarcely find access into the house. Weldon, it is believed, experienced the converting grace of God some years ago, but did not follow the Saviour as closely as was his privilege and duty to do. However, however, evinced an interest in the cause of Christ by succeeding his father in the stewardship of the Church; and by his labors in the Sunday-school. Another sphere of his labors was the Division of the Sons of Temperance, who honored him by attending his funeral, and walking before the corpse in regalia.

I am sorry to inform your readers that Bro. England has been sorely stricken in the death by fever, of his eldest child—a lovely boy of five or six years. We committed his mortal remains to the grave yesterday, Bro. Craig just arriving in time for the funeral. Our brother and his stricken partner will have the warmest sympathy and prayers of his brethren and numerous friends.

G. W. TUTTLE. Wallace Bay, Dec. 11, 1882.

MINNIE RAWORTH.

Born January 6, 1860, died September 24th, 1882. A short life, but long enough to make preparation for the life that never ends. In early days she was thoughtful and careful, but of very decided character and a self-sacrificing spirit. She was ever ready to do anything needed, and often preceded the request by bringing the thing required. The very large attendance at her funeral proved that she was "beloved by all who knew her."

In April, 1881, the writer was engaged in special services in the Upper Cape, Bayfield circuit, when a large number of young persons proposed to find salvation through Jesus. Among them was Minnie. On the 8th of April, while in conversation with her at her home, she found that she was not one of the mistaken ones. She revealed by its brightness and that the great work was done, but her sins were forgiven, and she was saved. This joyful experience she but "His loved ones know." That night in the public service she made "profession with the mouth," and soon began to speak to others about the great change, and to lead them to her Lord.

Of this delightful change she never lost the assurance. In the following summer she left home for Moncton. Here she taught her first and real spiritual battle. Cast into society and altogether congenial to her new life, she was in danger of leaving her home through fear of the world, but through the advice of her spiritual guide she conquered, and went to church, and to the class, prayer-meetings and Sabbath-school. After from Bro. Duncan showed that she continued a faithful follower of Jesus. But she was to return home soon to leave Moncton full of longings for home, she, in her eagerness to see her friends, contracted a cold, which soon developed into typhoid fever and inflammation of the brain. After three weeks' severe suffering, two of them in unconsciousness. "She died like going home." She left no testimony behind but her life, and this was enough. Many letters from intimate friends prove that she always tried to "adorn the doctrine of God her Saviour in all things." We mourn the departure of one so young, and likely to be so useful, yet with the bereaved family we say, "They will be done." W. J. K. Bayfield, Dec. 12.

TEMPERANCE IN SCHOOLS.

Dr. Willard Parker, of New York, who is justly called "the Nestor of American Physicians," recently said; "We shall never control alcohol until we have taught the people—1. What alcohol is. 2. What it will do if you drink it. 3. What it will make us do. I can see no way of doing this except through schools." Remark upon this important declaration, the editor of the "Journal of Education," says: "A textbook teaching these elementary facts, in the hands of every child in the land as soon as it is old enough to read, is what we want. A law requiring such teaching in all our public schools would be the wisest kind of legislation. It is a question of intelligence in the beginning, exactly controlled if we then let on the light; but no easy task if we wait until it becomes one of impetuous appetite. If we can imbue in the intelligence of the children of this generation, before they are contaminated by it, the scientific facts about alcohol, they will banish it and its vendors from the pale of human society when they come to be voters in our places. The star of Bethlehem of the Temperance Cause stands over the school-house."

TAKING COLD.

Here is a list of a few of the many petty acts of commission and omission, the result of forgetfulness, or more frequently of carelessness which almost surely originate colds, which we take from Dr. Rumbo's little book on the "Hygiene of Catarrh." "Sitting on a stone doorstep in a cool evening to a late hour in the night; sitting up late after the fire in the room has gone out, then going to bed with cold feet; getting out of bed with bare feet and in a night dress to wait on a child sleeping in a cold room; making the fire on a cold morning in an undressed condition; standing in an open doorway during cold or damp weather, with the head and shoulders insufficiently protected, to speak a few words to a friend who is too slow in making his or her departure; stopping to speak to a friend on the sidewalk, long enough for the feet to become cold, and to experience a chilly sensation between the shoulders," etc.

To sum up the whole matter, freedom from throat disease is a matter less of climate than of attention to the rules of health which should govern the daily life of every person. How a man lives is of quite as much importance as where he lives in his wrestle with throat troubles.

USEFUL HINTS.

To render thick paper quite translucent, saturate it (while warm) with Canada balsam, or castor oil.

Sods are the cream of the soil, containing the very elements of plant food that make soil so productive.

Pretty and inexpensive screens can be made by covering an ordinary clothes-horse with dark felt or plush, upon which Chinese crape pictures may be mounted.

Special marks of kindness and attention should be received with discretion, for it is far better to refuse them than in accepting to assume privileges which were never intended.

Square tables are now fashionable for dining-rooms; usually they are supported upon one central column, extending into carved lions' heads, breasts and feet. Mahogany is coming into favor again.

In the course of an article on milk as a curative agent, the editor of the Scientific American says that the emollient effects of milk warm from the cow are well marked in cases of chronic or winter cough.

To cure carache take a pinch of black pepper, put it into a piece of cotton batting dipped in sweet oil, and place in the ear, tie a bandage round the head, and it will give almost instant relief.

A nice way to prepare potatoes for breakfast is to cut cold boiled ones in square pieces and dip them in beaten eggs, and put them on a buttered pie plate in the oven; when they are hot and brown send them to the table.

An Eastern paper, says an eminent Swiss physician, as a result of finding that out of 23,200 infants examined for this purpose, only 122 possessed any abnormal peculiarities, argues that, as a rule, a child is straight when he goes to school for the first time. He further attributes to the enforced maintenance of one attitude for a length of time the corporeal deformations which are displayed at a later period. We advocate more attention by doctors to the medical aspect of school life.

In this present age, when the life battle is so fiercely fought, and when upon even the strongest the tug and stress of it tell so heavily, how necessary it becomes for us to provide for the keeping up of our reserve stock of mental and physical stamina by the use of such a nervous tonic and vitalizing agent as "Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto Phosphate of Lime."

Its gently stimulating and nutritive tonic properties supply the materials, and assist nature in her efforts to keep up with the exhaustive demands upon her reserve. PAIN IN THE SIDE.—Mr. W. A. McMillan, Waterville, N.S., says: "I had for ten years suffered with pain and soreness in my side, caused by a strain or stress, and was so weak that any extra exertion would cause so much pain that I could hardly use my arm, until some sixteen years ago when suffering unusual pain from a recent stress, that I used Graham's Pain Eradicator and Pills and was completely cured by using them a few times."

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States.
