

The Van Horne Farm Shorthorns

This herd was founded 15 years ago by the late Sir Wm. Van Horne, when selections were made from the herds of W. D. Flatt, Hon. M. H. Cochrane and the Watts.

The high quality of the herd has been maintained by the use of such rated bulls as "Spicy Marquis" (imp.), "Prince Sunbeam" (imp.), "Shenley Adonis" (imp.) and "Margrave" (imp.). At present our herd comprises 70 head of choicely-bred cattle, representing the following Scotch families: "Princess Royal," "Matchless,"

"Lovelys," "Lavenders" and "Lester's Pride," and headed by the "Lavender"-bred bull, "Count Lavender," 100569 a grandson of "Cicely's Pride."

Authorities are agreed that the demand for good livestock will be keen for some years to come. The shortest route to and the most economical method of improving existing herds is by the use of good bulls.

We have them—12 head—sired by "Royal Bandsman" and "Count Lavender." Sappy, well-developed, thick-fleshed youngsters, good enough to head any herd.

Also booking orders for spring delivery of Yorkshire and Berkshire Pigs, both sexes.

Inspection invited.

The Shorthorn is the Breed for YOU

They are popular and profitable, are a wise investment and will make you money

No man ever went broke breeding and properly caring for good cattle

The Shorthorn has amply demonstrated its superiority the world over as a beef producer.

Shorthorn steers are preferred to all others by the largest buyers of feeders in America, and a carload of steers sold for the highest price ever paid in Canada on the ordinary market.

No other breed possesses the reputation of the Shorthorn for grading up or crossing purposes.

The Shorthorn for quality, scale, hardiness and early maturity stands in the forefront of the great beef breeds.

GLENALMOND SHORTHORNS

Some of my Shorthorns at Pasture.

I wish to inform my numerous friends and patrons, that after military service in France, I have again taken over the personal management of my Shorthorn herd at Glenalmond Stock Farm. My herd includes a fine lot of young cows and heifers, representing the most desirable lines of breeding, and these are mated to high-class herd bulls. I will have some choice young stock for sale next spring.

Quality and Individual Merit are the Outstanding Features of the Glenalmond Shorthorns.
