FOREIGN NEWS.

Muskogee, I. T., March 21.—The house of Edward Chalmers, a negro, who recently married a white woman, was attacked at Wybark, five miles from here, last night by six white men, who had evidently determined to murder both the negro and his wife, both of whom had been threatened by white men who disliked the union. The door of their cabin was broken in, and both the negro and his wife were shot down, but not before Chalmers had made a fight against his assailants. The woman was killed outright, and though Chalmers succeeded in driving off the attacking party, they left him mortally wounded, and he died before daylight. This morning the body of one Matthews, an aged white man, was found near the Chalmers cabin, pierced with a bullet.

Bloomington, Mich., March 21.—Mr. E. G. Veeley of Bloomington has been very ill, and his doctor told him he could live but a few days at most. Then Veeley said: "You are sure I can't live, are you?" On being answered in the affirmative, the man said: "Then I have a confession to make." The confession was as follows: "Thirty years ago myself and another man, whose name I will not reveal, killed a man at Scott's Mill, south of Bloomington, for his money. We got only $39 for our trouble, and buried the money and have never used a cent of it. After that we took the body of the man and put it in the furnace of the mill and burned it up." A change of doctors has helped him, and now he has been told for a fact that he would recover. There is quite a bit of excitement over these facts. He lives about four miles east of this place.

The women of England according to a London paper have taken to smoking and drinking at a wonderful rate during the past year. It is not unusual says this paper to see a lady smoking a brier root pipe. If this kind of thing continues men will in disgust cast their pipes away for smoking is looked upon as a masculine habit not to be tolerated in the fair sex.

Guelph Herald: Over a week ago Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Township of Amaranth, saw a large wild cat near the barn. Mr. Hamilton being away, she ran for their neighbor, Mr. Gray, who came with a gun, but could not see the cat as it had taken itself off in the evening. Some time after he left, Mrs. Hamilton took a light and went to the barn to see if it was around. Not seeing it she went to the sheep pen where she saw the wild cat. She went back to the stables, got a fork, marched bravely back into the pen where the cat was. The brave woman stuck the fork through the animal's neck and held it there until she got it killed. How many men would have the courage to face a wild cat, their only weapon being a pitch fork?

It will be good news to many, to learn that the reports of the floods in London Ont., were, in some cases, exaggerated. While the facts were bad enough, still they were not so bad as printed. The London Advertiser, referring to these exaggerated reports, and especially to one that found its way into a Detroit paper, which said that 1,500 people were homeless, says: "We in London know how absolutely untrue this statement is. Neither 1,500 nor 15 people were rendered homeless, and not one bridge or building was swept away. The overflow never reached alarming proportions, though it inundated cellars and rendered it wise for a few families to move out of their homes on the flats for a brief period. The impression these false statements are calculated to give outsiders is that London is in a hole, and at the mercy of every flood that comes down the Thames. But the fact is that the site of almost the entire city is high and dry, with a soil that dries up almost as soon as rain falls or snow melts."
