SOUNDS A WARNING

Sign Proposed Agreement

on Hands

The first plan broached was the tentament of James Stewart, former chairman of the Canada Wheat Board, and F. W. Riddell, of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company of wheat marketing and report to the Government. In making the appointment the Government announced that it "did not necessarily mean opposition to the scheme produced by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. Following this Ottawa despatches bring to the West rumors that the Dominion Government is considering the situation "seeking, if possible, to spear the various farmers' co-operative enterprises in the West and dividing the farmers' vote." As far as the plan of the Council of Agriculture is concerned officials of katchewan Grain Growers are opposed. J. B. Musselman, managing director of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers and also a member of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, declares that the Council's tentative contract, which has been published with the sanction of the Council, never came before the Council as a whole and the Council as a body still knows nothing about it.

could ask a farmer to sign such a contract," says Mr. Musselman. In sounding a note of warning he says the farmers in contracting to deliver all their wheat for five years to one all their wheat for five years to one would be blinding the farmer hand who has been spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. He was wounded in South Africa, shell shocked in the last war, and was sent to Cuba on engineering work by Mr. W. Perkins Bull, who has large interests there.
