Underwriters Meet For Social Evening

Present Prizes to Essayists from High School and Hear Toronto Expert Speak

Underwriters and their friends gathered last evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and enjoyed a rare evening of (1) very excellent things to eat, (2) a fine speech from Mr. Carpenter, of Toronto, agency manager of the Great West Life Insurance Co., and one of the big men in the insurance business; and (3) some excellent music by Messrs. Burrows.

There were ladies present and they seemed to enjoy it every bit as well as the men.

There was also a novelty in the presentation of prizes to pupils from the High School who won them in a contest, and the contest was the writing of an essay on the subject: "The Needs and Benefits of Life Assurance in the Home."

The first prize was won by Miss Muriel Embury, 171 Victoria avenue. This prize was presented by Col. O'Flynn. The second prize was won by Master Robert Boyes, and was presented by the Rev. A. S. Kerr. Miss Hazel Horton, 153 W. Main street, won the third prize, and Mr. Geo. F. Cole made this presentation.

Mr. Carpenter's address was on the subject of Life Assurance as a stabilizer in the home, in business, and in the community. He showed that though the head of the home might die, that the widow and family were not necessarily forced out on the street if the husband had provided himself with insurance. In the business world many firms were taking out policies on their valued employees; and again, insurance was counted as good security by banks.

Short speeches were made by several visitors from Picton and Napawa, including Messrs. Storms, Williams, Sword, Pine and Elliott.

He had tried his hand at burglary in many places and knew what he was talking about. "Anyone can take a chance in this place from what I have been about," he said, "and a short visit. I wasn't in that job though," said he, referring to the robbery of Mahood Bros. store. "I got out of prison down east last July and have been in the United States since. There is no work there for anyone for conditions in business there are far worse than in Canada."

COL. PONTON WELCOMED AS HEAD OF 90,000 MASONS

Grand Master Col. W. N. Ponton, ruler of five hundred Masonic lodges in the Province of Ontario and head of ninety thousand Brethren, was welcomed home to his mother lodge, the Belleville Lodge, No. 123 A.F. & A.M., at the Temple, Province, last evening. Members of the lodge and of the sister lodges of the city, prominent figures in the Prince Edward District, No. 13, and officers of Grand Lodge were present to greet their respects to the grand master and join in the reception.

It was perhaps the most important night in the history of the Belleville Lodge. To few lodges the honor comes of having a grand master. And this is doubly so in view of the position which the present head of the order has already held in caputular masonry.

The lodge room was crowded when the reception to the Grand Master began. The officers were all taken by men who had filled places in Grand Lodge.

After the work, a presentation was made to the Mason who had so brought glory to Belleville. The honor fell to Ver. Wor. Bro. Col. David Barragar to present a beautiful cut glass reading lamp on behalf of the lodge. The Grand Master replied with his usual grace and feeling to the expressions of fidelity, goodwill, pleasure and honor which the craft felt in the exaltation which had come to crown the services of Col. Ponton in the cause of the brotherhood.

A banquet was served in the hall before the brethren and the guests, at which the presiding officer was Rt. Wor. Bro. H. J. Clarke. The function was one never to be forgotten by the members as the grand master sat among his fellow Masons. Choruses were sung by the company and solos rendered by Bro. H. C. McKay and Bro. W. H. Wrightmyer, Bro. W. E. Wheatley presiding at the piano.

CHURCH FILLED AT PLAINFIELD

BAND ASSISTED Hunter Get Ready for Deer Hunting—Other Items of News

PLAINFIELD.—It is an unusual thing in these days to have a church nearly filled, but for three Sabbath evenings recently that has been the case at Plainfield. However, the climax was reached on Sunday evening, when not only were the usual seats and chairs occupied to the limit, but nearly a hundred more chairs were carried from the Orange Hall next door, and many of the congregation stood in the hall and even some outside.

The pastor, Rev. L. M. Sharpe, believes in advertising, and being all things to all men if by any means he may gain some, and the recent attractions beginning with Rally Sunday, have been anniversary, Rev. E. Farnsworth aiding, and an evangelistic evening, in which Evangelist Duetta assisted. Then, Sunday evening, Oct. 30th, the Rednersville band furnished the music for the service.

The address given by Mr. Sharpe was subdivided to deal with the introduction of music in the early stages of the world's history, the development and popular uses of music through the generations, and the effects of music (a) for national inspiration, (b) as a toning, mellowing community asset, (c) in the arousing, arrest and transformation of individuals. He paid a tribute to the work of the Salvation Army in this particular and expressed the opinion that the church today can ill afford to ignore the object lesson of the organization. The offering was cheerfully given to the Band, along with an unanimous standing request that they might pay another visit in the near future. Bandmaster Stafford and his faithful fellows deserve compliments and support in the endeavor to use their talents, investment and time to thus forward the cause of the Cross in these days of so much discord and unrest.
