THE TONIC OF HEALTH

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well. There is one medicine that is both a food and a tonic—it aids digestion, promotes assimilation, converts food into nutriment that builds up nerves, blood, brain and bone. That tonic is Ferrozone, which contains exactly what a run-down system needs. Ferrozone supplies oxygen to purify the blood, phosphorus to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscles. No wonder makes such vigorous men and women. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using Ferrozone: try it—now. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty chocolate coated Ferrozone tablets, at all dealers.

Oxford Chancellor Range

The Oxford Chancellor Range is built to stand the wear and tear of years of usage. The body is constructed of heavy patent rolled steel plates, interlined throughout with asbestos millboard. The steel body is closely riveted together with specially clinched rivets, so that no matter how hot the fire the body will not warp and allow the heat to escape. This construction makes the Oxford Chancellor Range perfectly and permanently airtight. No leakage into the flues, stopping the draft and impairing the oven heat, is possible.

The asbestos interlining insulates the heat of the range the outside of the range never getting overheated. If you would know more of the Oxford Chancellor Range write us, and we'll tell you all about it and where you can see it.

PERSONAL BEAUTY.

Every Time a Woman Worries She Loses a Little of It.

There is a saying that "Every time a sheep bleats it loses a mouthful of hay." Every time a woman worries she loses a little of her attractiveness and takes on marks of age.

If your servant scorches the soup or overcooks the meat, never mind. You cannot afford to worry about it, and if you could her you make up your mind to lose some of your beauty, to let go some of your magnetism.

If the members of the family are habitually late try to remedy it, but don't worry about it. If you do you will grow older in the process.

If your husband or children do things which do not please you do not nag at them. This will only aggravate the evil you complain of and it will cost you some of their love and respect. Every time you nag you will lose a little of your power to charm and attract them to you.

If the cleaners spoil your favorite dress don't get angry about it. An outbreak of hot temper will take away much more of your attractiveness than your dress could supply.

If you lose your pocketbook don't worry about it. Worrying will not bring it back, but it will take out of your face and disposition that which money can never replace.

If you meet with bitter disappointment don't fret, don't cry over it. If you do you pay a penalty which you can ill afford. No woman can fret and nag and worry and keep away the marks of age—or retain her beauty and power to please.—Success.

VALUE OF LAUGHTER.

Merriment in the Home Leaves No Room for Heartaches.

If more women realized the saving grace of laughter there would be fewer tragedies and heartbreaks in this world.

If you, dear madam, were able to make your lover laugh you might consider yourself clever. But if you can keep your husband laughing you are still more clever.

You see, a man's life is usually full of duties and cares that you possibly cannot realize. If you could, perhaps you might try to chase the heaviness from the spirit of moodiness from the mind of your best beloved, in place of sitting silent and grieved at his want of cheerfulness.

Sometimes you feel that so much merriment may be beneath your dignity. Don't believe it. Men often long for the joyous spirit that so charmed them in sweethearting days.

It seems a little thing to provoke laughter, does it not? Somehow you think it hardly within the lines you have drawn for the conduct of a wife.

But it is a saving grace you may depend. A man rarely reaches a period of life when there is no more of the boy left in his nature. The mischievousness is still there, or, rather, the spirit of it, and you need but give the opportunity to bring it forth, with great benefit to the family generally.—Chicago Journal.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

A good cure for indigestion is a full teaspoonful of glycerin in a little water, to be taken at or food.

For tender eyes make an infusion of one handful of cornflowers in a pint of hot water. Let it stand one hour. Strain and use either tepid or cold.

Ointments should always be kept in a cool place, for if the lard becomes rancid serious irritation may result in the case of skin diseases for which they are prescribed.

Cloths wet with alcohol and water or laudanum and water and laid on a hot water bottle will relieve neuralgia when the painful part is steamed over the bottle covered with the cloth.

Bolting vitægar applied as hot as can be borne to the gum and cavity of an aching tooth will allay the pain. Use a bit of absorbent cotton to pack the tooth cavity and apply until relief is obtained.

Athletic Womanhood.

The new woman can take care of herself anywhere; she wants no kisses, nor does she resort to womanish screams in time of peril. She wastes no words, but proceeds to knock the man down. Could all women learn this art of self defense it would doubtless be a very good thing, for the revolver is never where you want it, but the lady would carry a knife. But our fists we have always with us, and with a few lessons in boxing or jiu jitsu we can feel ourselves equal to all occasions.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Hold Your Head High.

Nobility has difficulty to express itself in a sunken chest. If the knees are bent and seemingly too weak to support the body it is easier for them to shake with fear than if they are straight. Therefore, wives and business girls, stay-at-home misses and engaged lasses, keep your heads up. When the chin is raised, the chest high, courage and hope are indicated. The mind follows. It is true that a woman keeps her head up because she is hopeful; but even if hope is wanting, lift up the head, and it will come the sooner.

Violet Dentifrice.

A dainty and refreshing violet dentifrice is made from 400 grains of distilled water, 10 grains each of bicarbonate of soda, alcoholate of peppermint and essence of violet and 1 gram of carbonate of magnesia. Dissolve the soda in the water and peppermint, beat the magnesia and essence together and pour the liquid on it little by little and filter.

PANDORA GRATES

The Pandora Range has more labor-saving features than any other range. Its labor-saving features are practical, real, muscle-saving devices.

The grates are triple, that is, there are three instead of two as is usual in common ranges. The grates are geared into each other at the shaker. Because there are three instead of two wheels gearing into each other, the leverage is twice as great and the effort of turning them is just one-half, so that is why the labor of shaking down a Pandora Range is just one-half of that in common ranges.

Then, when a grate burns out you can remove it in half a minute with a ten cent piece for a screw-driver.

In common ranges it takes an expert mechanic and a big plumber's bill to renew the grates, because the common range must be practically taken apart to get the old grate out. That is one big reason why the Pandora is the best range ever used in a kitchen, and it has dozens of other good parts. It actually does

"make kitchen work easy."
