GENERAL NEWS.

The Sad Fate of a Leper.

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

Conducted by the Ladies of the Sackville

W. C. T. U.

Saving The Boys.

In the North American Review,

David R. Locke (Patriotism V. Nasty) had a trenchant article on prohibition, in the course of which he related the following incident:—The best argument

I found in Maine for prohibition was by an editor of a paper in Portland, who was, for political reasons, mildly opposed to it. I had a conversation with him, which ran something like this:—Where were you born, in a village about sixty miles from Bangor, in the State of Maine?

"Yes, sir, in the village of Bangor."

"What was the effect of prohibition?"

"It shut up all the rum shops, and practically banished the liquor from the village. It becomes one of the most prosperous places on the globe."

"How long did you live in the village after prohibition?"

"Eleven years, or until I was twenty-one of age. Then I went to Bangor. Do you drink now?"

"I have never tasted a drop of liquor in my life. Why?"

"Up to the age of twenty-one I never saw it, and after that I did not care to take on the habit. That is all there is to it. If the boys of the country are not exposed to the infernalism, the men are very sure not to be. The man and his school mates were saved from ruin by the fact that the could not get it until they were old enough to know better. Few men are drunkards who know not the poison till after they are twenty-one. It is the youth that the whisky and beer men want."

Twenty-two states and territories in the United States have school suffer-age."

Alcoholism in one generation is often followed by epilepsy in the second.

In France there are thirty-six factory inspectors fifteen of whom are women.

Hereafter the women teachers in St.

Paul's school will be women.

Two hundred women are employed by Edison in working on the delicate details of his inventions.

There are sixty women's societies in Paris, constituting what is called the Société des Femmes.

When drunkenness is hereditary, a family will die out, sometimes in four and at the outside in five generations.

A beer canton, which has been in operation at West Point, has received eighteen hundred dollars in one month.

The British Medical Temperance

Association has 415 members and 81 associate students who are total abstinence.

An abstinence society at St. Peter's burg has six hundred members. They have established eight tea houses in the most thickly populated part of the city.

The Post Office Total Abstinence

Branches in London have twenty-five branches in metropolitan and provincial districts, with sixteen hundred members.

Delegates met quarterly with the officers.

It is said that the oldest inebriate asylum in the world is at Danneberg, Germany. It was founded in 1851 for the protection of released prisoners.

There are five or six more such asylums in Germany.

The figures of the license vote of 1891 in Boston reveal many interesting facts.

Sixty precincts voted no license, and in seventy-two others the majority for license was less than ten per cent of the registration.

A sample of one of the chief exhibits in American politics might be exhibited at the World's Fair in the shape of the largest group of shops in the world, which was run in Minneapolis during the Republican convention.

The Baroness Gripenberg, of Finland, a temperance woman and suffragist, who has organized a woman's council in her native country, writes: "Look out or you will be left behind by the council of women who are Finns."

A local option campaign is about to take place at Augusta, Georgia. The registry books closed on the twentieth of June. Rev. Sam Jones will be present on election day, July 21. The ten-
