

PANIC AND STAMPEDE.

PHILADELPHIA, April, 30.—An unfortunate accident to a deaf and dumb boy, Isidor Bacus, was to-day directly responsible for the death of eight girls and young women, the fatal injury of three others, and the serious injury of more than two score of girls employed in the cigar factory of Harburger, Homan & Co., a branch of the American Tobacco Co., at Tenth street and Washington avenue. The dead:

Mary Geneva, aged 15 years, Helen Tolini, aged 12; Elizabeth Tartine, aged 12; Annie Roschneider, aged 18; Louise Desopi, aged 16; Ida Green, aged 18; Annie Ford, aged 13; unidentified woman, about 25 years of age, whose body is at the morgue.

Fatally injured: Mary Mesino, injured internally, skull fractured; Josephine O'Ronoco, injured internally; unidentified woman, fractured skull, unconscious.

The injuries of the others are mainly bruises about the body and fractured limbs.

The building is a five story brick and reaches an entire block. Twelve hundred persons were at work, ninety per cent. of whom were girls from 12 years upward.

The trouble began on the fourth floor. Bacus who was janitor of the building, started for the fifth floor for a ball of twine. The elevator was at the top of the shaft and Bacus pulled the rope to bring it down. He opened the door leading to the shaft and leaned forward to see where the carriage was. As he did so the elevator, descending slowly, struck him across the back of the neck, pinning his head between the elevator and the floor. A stock boy released Bacus and cried for help. The foreman rushed from the building to call an ambulance and immediately there was a panic among the employees. Some of the young girls fainted, while others, not being able to control their feelings, cried fire.

Instantly there was a mad rush for the stairway leading into Tenth street. The girls rushed down the narrow staircase until they reached a bend in the exit, between the second and third floors. In their eagerness to escape, the frightened leaders fell. Others immediately following tripped over the struggling mass of humanity and in less than a minute there were hundreds of children and young women struggling in the passageway. The shrieks and screams of terror-stricken girls could be heard for a block or more.

During the excitement an alarm of fire was turned in, but before the engines could reach the scene, several of the occupants of the building had rushed to the windows and jumped to the street, a distance of more than 50 feet. Helen Tolini, one of those to jump was almost instantly killed.

When the firemen and policemen arrived every effort was made to quiet the terrified girls. The firemen rushed up the stairway and begged the girls to be calm, telling them that there was absolutely no danger, but the sight of firemen seemed only to add fuel to the flame. While the policemen and firemen were endeavoring to quiet the girls on the stairway ladders were being run up on the outside of the building and the employees who had climbed out on to the fire escapes and window ledges were quickly taken to the street.

After a few minutes the men were enabled to check the awful crush on the stairway and then began the work of rescuing those who had been trapped and crushed between the second and third floors.

The work of taking the girls from the windows was necessarily tedious. They were so excited that they did not seem to understand the pleadings of the firemen. At nearly every window of the huge structure were girls screaming and crying for help.

WHY CROUP IS FATAL.

When croup attacks your child you must be ready for it. It comes as an accompaniment to an ordinary cough, or it may attack without warning. All its children develop quickly, and when any kind of cough appears there should be something at hand to stop it with promptness. Many a child choked to death with croup because the right remedy was not convenient. Every one should know that the right safeguard for a child's cough or any cough is Adamson's Biotic Cough Balm. With this soothing compound in the house, croup is always easily checked and relieved.

To give a child's cough mixture containing a narcotic is a very serious matter, yet most preparations contain something of this kind. Adamson's Biotic Balm is prepared from the purest extracts of herbs and roots and gums of trees, and is health-giving in every component part of it. Wherever it touches an inflamed surface, it soothes and soothes it. Nothing ever compounded for cough is so harmless, and nothing so efficacious. Adamson's Balm is an old remedy and it has never lost a friend through failure to help. Keep it in the house. Try it on your own cough and do your child a good turn by being ready for any emergency. Beg pardon, said the suspicious looking fellow, meeting Subbubs in a dark street, but what time have you?

Just enough to catch my train, replied Subbubs as he hastened on.—Exchange.

Tess—You don't mean to say they have broken off their engagement?

Jess—Yes.

Tess—Why, I thought they were perfectly devoted to each other.

Jess—So they are. You see they have broken off the engagement, so that he may save enough money to enable them to get married.

WONDERS OF THE HEART.

All the blood in the human body passes through the heart in about three minutes. The heart beats 70 times a second. 4200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day, throwing out 2 1/2 ounces of blood a second, 366 lbs. an hour, 7 1/2 tons a day. It is only when supplied with pure, rich blood that the heart, an organ 9 inches long by 4 inches wide, can accomplish this enormous amount of work and rebuild its own wasted tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective treatment available for heart affection because it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood and gives to that life sustaining quality which is necessary to the health of every organ.

DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS CURE CONSTIPATION.

TOO TIGHT CORSETS.

LOMAIE, OHIO, April 29.—Tuesday morning Coroner French and Drs. Coe, Givore and Gilbert held an autopsy on the body of Frankie C. Friend, who died suddenly shortly after arriving here from Cleveland, and it was the verdict of all that tight corsets had been the cause of death. She had always worn them tight, and the result was that her heart was out of place and her lungs were congested. She left the Metropolitan at Elyria Thursday to visit her brothers, George and Will Friend, in Cleveland. She was on her way to Norwalk, it is believed, when she got here. Word was sent there to her mother. A brother-in-law of the deceased, J. H. Kelly, was here from Norwalk Tuesday morning, and ordered the remains shipped to that city.

A QUEER COMPROMISE.

That New Jersey clergyman who said that he did not believe the story of Adam and Eve had been ordained, after all. He still says he believes the story to be mythical, but he has agreed not to carry his views with him into the pulpit. This is a compromise which will strike most people curiously. It is as much as to say that the men who ordained him do not care what he believes, so long as he does not preach what they object to, and the man who is ordained accepts his office on the condition that while he believes certain things about the Bible, he will not preach what he believes.

NERVOUS AND SLEEPLESS.

There is just one cure and that is plenty of food for the blood and nerves, which is best supplied in Ferrozene, than which no blood builder, nerve tonic or strength promoter is better. Ferrozene promotes healthy digestion, which results in improved nutrition. The blood grows rich and red, furnishes stability to the entire system, and the store of nerve force and energy increases daily. A rebuilding of the constitution, new spirits, health and strength, all come from the use of Ferrozene. This marvelous renovation is sold by Druggists for 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Sold by A. E. Shaw.

The ship of an admiral who was the Duke of Wellington's near connection was wrecked. He was placed in command of a second ship, which was also lost, and he himself was drowned. Lord Charles communicated the disaster to his father, who merely exclaimed, with Spartan coldness and brevity: That's the second ship he has lost.

USE DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS FOR BILIOUSNESS.

A cynical bachelor listening to some women who were discussing female suffrage was asked by one of them for his views on the question.

He replied thus, with great deliberation: I once heard of a woman who was asked how she had voted at the recent election. In my plum colored gown, was the answer.

Then the cynical bachelor bowed and escaped.

IN THIS LOCALITY.

The medicine dealers in this place say that there is no preparation on the market to-day that has any thing like such an enormous sale as Dr. Chase's K. D. Liver Pills. Would this extraordinary demand for Dr. Chase's K. D. Liver Pills be due to the fact that they are so effective in curing all the ailments of the liver and gall bladder, and are so safe and pleasant to take?

Never is time more precious than when some member of the family is attacked by colic, dysentery or any bowel trouble. The doctor is distant but if Parry Davis' Painkiller is near all danger is soon ended.

Yes, said the ingenious girl heroically, I have decided to break with Horace for good and all.

Why, then, are you sending him your picture?

Well, I am sure that is the least I can do. He refused to take back his gifts, and I wanted to make some return, so I am sending him my photograph.

President—Poor fellow! He has been in the employ of our bank for a score of years or more and has performed his duties with unusual honesty and fidelity.

Director—We can all bear testimony to that, I'm sure, and I have no doubt you will join me in the opinion that we ought to do something for him.

President—Most assuredly, I will have a meeting of the board of directors called at an early day, and we will have a set of appropriate resolutions passed and presented to him as a token of our sympathy.—Boston Courier.

How a Snake Sheds Its Skin. The human skin is shed in such minute pieces that it ordinarily comes away unnoticed. But the skin of a snake comes away whole two or three times a year and is drawn off inside out from the head backward as the creature creeps through some bush, to which it is left attached. Before it is shed the skin loses its color and the eyes become dim, because their outer skin is cast with the rest. The snake emerges very brightly colored from its old skin, and its markings are then most distinct.

Testing Love. Southern children have a very pretty way of "telling fortunes" with the dodder vine, or love vine, as they call it. A piece is broken off and twisted around the hand three times, then dropped on a bank behind them. If the sweetheart is true, it grows. If it dies, he or she is false.

The mullet stalk is also used to learn the constancy or the fickleness of the lover. The stalk is broken, but not detached, and if it continues to grow the absent one is constant or vice versa.

The Irishman and Tammany.

This is a good Tammany Hall story. The new Commissioner of Works, finding numbers of men on the pay rolls of his department who drew a regular salary for work that was done by others or not done at all, struck them off. A Tammany "district leader" came to remonstrate. "Fwath have ye turned down Mulvaney and O'Meara for?" The commissioner explained that the offices for which Mulvaney and O'Meara were paid had long ago been abolished. "My policy," he added, "is simply this: Whenever I find men working at one tick, one of them's got to go." "Mother av Hiv-in!" said the astonished Tammanyite; "this may be good morality, but let me tell you, Mr. Commissioner, it wud be much better politics to discharge the pick."—Scottish American.

WINTER TREES.

Across the sky, across the snow, The sober rooks are winging slow grey rows in the rust-fringed pool. And winter trees are beautiful.

The west is now a garden-close, Pink roses and golden roses. With amber and with tender green, To let the throbbing stars between.

Against that world of rages stand—These are the woods of fairyland—Poplar and oak and elm to make A gold haze and a new haze.

Instead of silvery leaves of spring, The stars now make their marshaling For May roses and April white. The snow has lit them all the night.

The red sun hangs his lantern red Between the black houghs overhead, The evening clothes them with his mist Half-supplie and half-anthracite.

The dawn roses are scattered here As there a rose expeller Whose happy bonnie have borne for fruit Red roses all from head to foot.

Even the lamp that men have set To light the way for traveling feet Hangs in the dark tree glittering bright As chrysopease and chrysolite.

Down the long road's perspective so The dark tree in a delicate row, Shrouded with hazy light soft and cool, And winter trees are beautiful.
