Bulgarians Cut Off Turk's Water Supply

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day.—The water supply of Constantinople was cut off to-day by a large Bulgarian force at Derkas and Tchatalja, from which they were driving the Turkish capital is drawn. It is stated that Bulgarians occupied the region between Tchatalja and Derkas, and completely surrounded the Turkish force in that district. Another column formed of detachments from Drama and other captured towns are marching on Kavala, a seaport in the Aegean Sea. The column includes Bulgarians from Kuruk and Greeks from Yenid Vardar and Salonica.

Turks Begging for Mediation.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day.—It is reported the Bulgarian attack on Tchatalja has already begun, doubtless the Turks may be fighting small engagements with a view to delaying the Bulgarian advance, but it is hardly likely the Bulgarian army is sufficiently recovered after its recent exertions to undertake a sustained battle. The Bulgarians are now a long distance from their base of supplies. A four days' battle must have necessitated a renewal of supplies of food and ammunition. That part of the Serbian army has been called to the aid of the Bulgarians is held by some to indicate the Bulgarians realize it will be no easy task to reduce Constantinople. The Porte is redoubling their efforts to save the capital, and has made a second appeal to France for mediation, but there is no sign the Powers will move in the matter, unless the Allied States make a similar appeal. In the meantime the Turks continue mobilizing in Syria and are taking all possible measures for a strong resistance at Tchatalja. Constantinople is quiet, but the Embassies have applied to the Porte for permission for the passage of a second cruiser of war from the Dardanelles. In reply to a Turkish request for mediation the Russian Government has informed the Turkish Ambassador that Russia was willing to mediate in co-operation with other Powers provided they were given full powers.

Best in History of Canada.

Sydney, Nov. 1.—The indications are that the Dominion Coal Company will break all records in output this year, and it will not be surprising if he five million ton mark is reached. The output for the month of October was 422,000 tons, the largest single month output ever raised in the history of any Canadian coal company. This output is 11,000 tons greater than any previous month's output at the collieries, and shows what splendid results are being obtained from the employees and the efficient and business-like manner in which the affairs of the Company are conducted by the management. The output at the collieries yesterday was 17,300 tons, which is an exceptionally good output for a day.

There's a Girl in The World For Us All!

There's a girl in the world for us all, boys,
Waiting somewhere to-day;
Waiting to share all our troubles and joys
Waiting to share our pay,
Girls who are pretty with hair black or brown,
Girls with complexion fair;
Why not look around in your own home town,
Perhaps, you'll find her there;
There's a girl in the world for us all, boys,
Girls who are as pure as gold;
Girls who like quiet and girls who like noise,
Girls who have feet that's cold,
If you to business will just settle down,
And with some sweet girl would pair;
Why not look about in your own home town,
Perhaps, you'll find her there;
There's a girl in the world for us all, boys,
Girls who are wise and good,
Girls who want manly men—not puppet toys,
Girls who rap not understood,
Girls; why there's dozens if you'd look around,
Dozens of 'em, I swear;
Why not look about in your own home town,
Perhaps, you'll find her there.

The Bloom of Youthful Purity.

Over the plum and the apricot there may be seen a bloom and beauty more exquisite than the fruit itself—a soft, delicate flush that overspreads its blushing cheek. Now if you strike your hand over it, it is gone forever, for it never grows but once.
On a frosty morning you can see the panes of glass covered with hand-scapes, mountains, lakes, and threes, blended in a beautiful fantastic picture. Now, lay your hands on the glass, and by the scratch of your fingers the tracery will be, immediately obliterated. So in youth there is purity of character which, when once touched and defiled, can never be restored—a fringe more delicate than frost-work, and which, when torn and broken, will never be reembodyed.
A man who has spotted and soiled his garments in youth, though he may seek to make them white again, can never wholly do it, even were he to wash them with his tears. When a young man leaves his father's house, with the blessing of his mother's tears still wet upon his forehead, if he once loses that early purity of character, it is a loss that he can never make whole again. Such is the consequence of crime. Its effects cannot be eradicated; they can only be forgiven.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Photographing Animals Und'r Water

Photographs of otters and water birds of various kinds have recently been obtained with a moving-picture camera by Dr. Francis Ward, of Ipswich, Eng. In order to secure the pictures and remain unobserved by the animals, Dr. Ward built a concrete tank fitted with a window and mounted his camera in an underground room behind the aperture. Among the pictures obtained are those of an otter engaged in a fish hunt, herons, penguins, black-backed gull and a water hen. The penguin was observed as a fisher, the photograph disclosing clearly how the bird uses its wings as oars both on the surface and while under the water. The air bubbles in the feathers of the water hen convert it into a mirror in which are reflected the colors of its surroundings. The fish are seen swimming around the legs of the heron which piece of carelessness enables the bird to gain a square meal without undue exertion.

Wilson Will Have a Great Majority.

Special Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, To-day.—Wilson was elected President and Thomas R. Marshall, Vice President, by sweeping majorities. They carried the country by a majority that will pass the 350 mark in the Electoral College with its total of 531 votes. The size of the popular Democratic majority is yet uncertain. Wilson has apparently 33 States, Roosevelt, 9, Taft, 6. The next Congress will be Democratic with big Democratic majorities in the House of Representatives, and the Senate will probably be Democratic. In nearly every State Taft ran third, Roosevelt apparently capturing the large majority of the old Republican vote. Democrats swept New York and elected Salzer Governor. New York gave Wilson a plurality over Taft of about 265,000 votes. Wilson's vote in the State was 638,000, Taft's, 493,000, Roosevelt's, 419,000. Roosevelt carried Illinois by about 55,000; Ohio, Taft's own State went overwhelmingly for Wilson, electing Cox for Governor. Wilson not only carried Massachusetts by a great majority but the State elected for the first time in her history a Democratic State ticket and a Democratic Legislature. Early returns gave Wilson and Marshall solid Southern States, Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, West Virginia, Indiana, Missouri.

As the night advanced returns from the West began to come. These early estimates were confirmed. Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico were added to those that seemed certain for the Democratic candidates, while scattering returns from San Francisco, Los Angeles made it probable that California might join the Wilson-Marshall column. Rhode Island also became a Democratic State, as the returns near midnight, based on better reports. Early returns gave an apparent victory for Taft in New Hampshire and Vermont, but the Taft pluralities dwindled as midnight approached to a very few hundred votes in each State and they seemed likely to be wiped out entirely. The vote in Utah as reflected in dispatches up to midnight gave indications that the State might be carried for Taft. The vote in Pennsylvania was amazingly close. Returns from over one hundred precincts embracing over 185,000 votes gave each of the three leading Presidential candidates more than 6,000 votes. Taft's leading in Philadelphia districts was offset by a heavy vote polled by Roosevelt and Wilson in other parts of the State. Many surprises were shown as the returns of New York State. The assembly seemed to be overwhelmingly Democratic.

Throwing the Boomerang.

Something More than Actual Muscle Is Required.

An Englishman who has been investigating the subject of boomerangs in Australia, and who has reported his results and made exhibition throws for King George says that by selecting a boomerang of suitable shape and by knowing the knack of giving it just the right twist the natives of Queensland and New South Wales can make them do things so startling that they seem bewitched.

The boomerangs are usually made from a limb or root of a tree that has the proper crook, or sometimes they are made by heating a green stick in the fire and then bending it. They are worked to the desired shape by scraping with flint instruments and smoothing with bias of glass. They are usually made rounding on one side and flattish on the other. One form of boomerang used in war has a hook at one end.

When this instrument is thrown at an enemy he puts up his own boomerang to ward off the blow. This action causes the hook to catch on his hooked weapon sideways in such a way that it deals him a hard blow on the side of the head almost in spite of anything he can do to parry it.

Making the boomerang perform a figure eight in the air is comparatively a common feat and all sorts of complicated figures are produced, including a double eight. The test of a sure thrower is to make the stick come back obediently to his feet after engaging in these flights, so he will only have to stoop to pick it up.

One very useful throw which is often used by the natives in hunting wild fowl and other small animals consists of standing behind some barrier which cuts off the view and then hurling the instrument in a direction away from the game so that it turns in its flight and goes straight among them, where it performs a number of gyrations and is pretty sure to cause considerable carnage.

The boomerang is a rather ticklish instrument to fool with, for unless a person is acquainted with their ways they are liable to turn in the air and give someone a rap when least expected.

In throwing the instrument more than actual muscle is required, though the movement must be rapid and straight. It is thrown at an angle usually of about 45 degrees in the air, and just as it leaves the hand it is given a slight, upward jerk which imparts to it a spinning motion. It is this spinning motion, the curve of a thrown baseball, that produces the eccentric results.

How to Live to 80.

Mr. Frederic Harrison's Health Maxims.

- Five golden rules of health were given to a representative of The Daily Mail by Mr. Frederic Harrison, author, critic, bibliophile, ex-professor, lecturer, historian, traveler, and amateur gardener, on his eighty-first birthday, celebrated at his home at Hawkhurst, Kent:
 1. Abstain from tobacco, spirits, made dishes, and all such dreadful things. I am satisfied with a little bit of mutton and rice pudding.
 2. Rise from a meal with an appetite. I believe people eat too much.
 3. Walk every day for two hours. This I am going to do as soon as I get through a pile of letters and telegrams from Florence and Rome. I am too old to play at tennis, and golf is too slow.
 4. Sleep eight hours. People cannot sleep who smoke themselves black in the face, eat too much, and have not walked enough.
 5. More important than all—be content with what you have got. Take things quietly.

Man-Eating Tigers.

About four thousand men were eaten by tigers in India between 1900 and 1904. A large proportion of these unfortunate perished during periods of famine, when the beasts are made bold by hunger and are driven to the plains in search of water. The deaths caused by tigers in India constitute thirty-seven per cent. of the whole number due to wild beasts. All tigers are not man eaters, but when a tiger has once tasted man's flesh he will not be content until he has had more of it. Where flocks and herds abound, however, man is rarely a victim of the tiger. An old man eater is usually very clever and tricky and can avoid the most skillful hunters. It is affirmed that a single tiger in Southern India has killed two hundred men, and that one in the Himalayas has killed more than three hundred. Extraordinary as it may seem, there is an authenticated case in which a tiger, holding a young bullock in his mouth, leaped a thirty hedge six feet high. In Southern India there are found tigers fourteen feet long. It is not remarkable, then, that such animals, when strong and ferocious, are able to do great damage.

Fire at St. Pierre.

Special Evening Telegram.

ST. PIERRE, To-day.—There was a serious fire here last night in the North American Gum Company's premises, completely destroying factory and four warehouses.

Had He a Gun?

Monday afternoon a man, evidently a foreigner, went into Steer Bros. grocery and asked Mr. John Duff, an assistant, for biscuits. As no money was forthcoming he threatened Mr. Duff and put his hand in a significant way in his hip pocket saying he would "cover" the clerk. Later he attacked a man near the Reid Co. station and acted as he had done towards Mr. Duff. It is believed that he is the party who flourished a gun on Queen's Street last night.
