An Appreciation.

To those who were personally acquainted with the late Mrs. John Anderson (nee Miss Amelia Murray) her passing away will come as a shock, as in the natural course of life, with ordinary good health, she might have lived years before reaching the allotted span of life. But the inscrutable wisdom of Providence decreed otherwise. An internal malady, against which she struggled bravely for several years assisted by the skill of the world's best surgeons and physicians, finally triumphed over an indomitable will and stout heart.

She died in Edinburgh surrounded by loving relations and friends, resigned and peaceful. Her body was consigned to mother earth in the beautiful cemetery of Warriston at Edinburgh, far from her island home, but in the land where dwell her Scottish forefathers of long ago.

Mrs. Anderson's large circle of friends will mourn the loss of a trusty and true personality, and those most who knew her best. Unobtrusive and retiring by disposition, she endeared many by her sincerity and truthfulness and helped with all her heart any deserving cause without ostentation, preferring rather to do good by stealth. By temperament she was of the artistic type, and some beautiful poems from her pen show her mental bent. Some of these have been set to music. She was educated in St. John's, Edinburgh and Germany, and by her scholastic achievements did full credit to her teachers.

Many of her contemporaries now 'getting on in life' who see with sadness that 'From Love's shining circle the gems drop away' all too swiftly, will be sorry to hear of dear 'Amelia's' departure, and will hope to meet her in the 'Sweet bye-and-bye.'

As old Omar Khayyam says:
 "So! some we loved, the loveliest and the best
 That Time and Fate of all their Vintage prest
 Have drunk their cup a round or two
 And one by one crept silently to Rest."

Wanted, An Electric Light.

An electric light is badly wanted at the corner of King's Bridge and Circular Roads. Some years ago an electric arc light was put in position there but was later removed—why, nobody knows. The residents of the roads in question are debating the advisability of petitioning the Council for an electric light, and it is hoped their reasonable request will be granted.

Skin Boots Exported.

On making further enquiries this morning we learn that by almost every outward mail and freight within the past two months packages of skin boots are forwarded to Canada and the United States. Seeing that this article is already made by several firms in the Dominion, the importation of the "Newfoundland turn-out" speaks well for home manufacture, and with all things taken into consideration why should it be otherwise? Our local tradesmen are fully qualified to turn out as fine an article in any class as his foreign competitor. Which reminds us that those who can afford, and have not already done so, send a pair of the much desired skin boots to their boys in the trenches should do so. They will be glad, and so will you, and so will the Telegram for reminding you.

Woman Thrown From Carriage.

A woman named Kelly, of the West End while driving down Water Street, opposite the Gas Works, was thrown from her carriage shortly before noon to-day, when the pony which she was driving took fright at the municipal steam roller and bolted. The carriage striking a "hopper" the woman was thrown to the sidewalk but fortunately escaped without breaking any bones and with the exception of several cuts on her face and body she was otherwise uninjured.

Schooner Caught Fire

Deputy Minister of Customs LeMessurier received a message to-day stating that the schooner Rupert, 78 tons, Capt. J. Vardy, caught fire on Nov. 28th in Trinity Bay while on the way to St. John's. The schooner made towards the land and sank near Ram Head. The vessel and part of her cargo were insured.

Here and There.

ANOTHER DAILY.—And now somebody says we are going to have another daily newspaper about the beginning of next year, presumably a morning edition. There are now five daily papers published, and the approach of the sixth sheet will possibly make the thoughtful man sit up and ask, "What is it all about?"

BETTER EACH YEAR.—Last year's Christian Brothers' collection was the largest yet realized, the sum exceeding by over two hundred dollars all former collections. The good Brothers are doing great work for the youth of the city, and may to-morrow's sum be so large as to show the appreciation of all kinds and classes.

MUD IS THE NAME.—Owing to the recent wet weather parts of the streets and sidewalks which had been recently opened for the repair and laying of water pipes are in a sorry condition. In many places the ground has sunk several inches, with a surface of mud remaining to remind the stepping-over pedestrian that he must be careful of—his language.

SMALL FISH CARRIER.—It is said that one of the smallest vessels to leave here with a fish cargo to go across the "herring pond" is the Ophelia, which sailed yesterday for Oporto with two thousand quintals of fish. The Ophelia is 68 tons nett.

Admiralty Accuse Buns of Murder.

London, Nov. 25.—Not a life was saved when the British liner Rappahannock, from Halifax, bound for England, was sunk by the Germans in the Atlantic, the Admiralty fears. An official statement issued yesterday says that there is no longer any hope that any of the officers or crew were saved, unless they were taken aboard the submarine or another vessel.

Berlin has already announced the sinking of the liner. The official statement issued here points out that the German pledge not to sink merchant vessels without providing means of saving the lives of those aboard is evidently flagrantly broken in this case.

The following is the official statement:

"The Furness-Withy liner Rappahannock left Halifax for England on Oct. 17th. Nothing has been heard of her since. A Berlin official announcement of November 8 stated that the ship had been sunk."

"Unless any of the officers and crew, who numbered 37, were taken on board a submarine or transferred to another vessel—neither of which courses was followed, as far as known—there is no longer any hope for their safety. If the crew were forced to take to their boats, it is clear that it must have occurred so far from land or in such weather conditions that there is no probability of their reaching shore."

"The German pledge not to sink vessels without saving human lives has thus once more been disregarded, and another of their submarines has been guilty of constructive murder on the high seas."

MAN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT.

A machinist named Northcott met with a serious accident while working at a drilling machine at the munition works at 11 o'clock last night. It happened that his apron got caught in the drill and drew his body with great force towards the machine inflicting several cuts about the left shoulder. Several workers who were operating various machines nearby rushed to his assistance and picking him up did everything possible to relieve the pain until the arrival of Dr. Roberts who attended to Northcott's wounds and ordered him to be sent home. The victim is doing well to-day and within a few weeks will be back at the job again.
