

A REGATTA VICTORY.
Marvellous! Stupendous! Hear them talk about this

Sale of 960 Bengaline Ties,

75c. at any other time. Smash! goes the price

Regatta Week, 50c. each.

I'm living up to my reputation for doing unique things in an unique way. I'm not satisfied with giving better value than others; I like to make one supreme effort once in a while. This is it!

Try to match this value elsewhere—and they'll tell you you want the earth. No, I don't believe there's a 50c. tie in the city of any kind that'll wear longer than a month. But Bengaline "wears like a board"—that's it. If you're a terror on ties, save your money and temper by adding a few Bengalines to your collection. Two ties free to the man who can put a lasting wrinkle into a Bengaline Tie while in the store. Buy four, buy six, buy a dozen, for after the Regatta the price goes back to 75c.

Protest Against Reductions.

Civil Servants in practically every department of the Government are strongly protesting against any reduction in their salaries. The Telegrapher's Union have already sent in a strong protest to the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs who has promised to bring the matter to the attention of the Government to-day and an answer is expected on Monday. Similar action will no doubt be taken in other departments.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

INGONISH THREATENED.
SYDNEY, N.S., July 29.
First reports of the destruction of the village of New Haven, sixty miles north of here, were exaggerated, according to information received here to-day. The fire burned an area twenty miles in length and five in width, in the District of New's Harbor on the Cape Breton Coast, but destroyed only a few buildings and houses in New Haven. New's Harbor was not damaged. The fire is said to be threatening Ingonish.

WOMAN EXECUTED.
LONDON, July 30.
Mrs. J. W. Lindsay, widow of a Cork land owner, who was kidnapped from her home in Coachford on February last by three armed men, was executed as a spy, according to information received this evening by Daily Eireann Authorities.

AGREES WITH BRITAIN.
The committee on foreign affairs of the Chamber of Deputies to-day discussed the Silesian question, and decided to adhere to the British view point of not sending more troops to Upper Silesia prior to a meeting of the Allied Supreme Council.

AN INVOLVED CASE.
LONDON, July 30.
Eamonn De Valera still is silent. Another day has passed with no word from the Irish Republican leader. Temporarily, peace negotiations have been overshadowed by the extraordinary action of military authorities in Ireland. With General Sir Neville McCready, Major General Sir Edward Strickland and others, in defying the Master of the Rolls, by failing to comply with writs of habeas corpus, which he ordered in connection with the sentencing to death of John Egan, reported as the spiriting away of Egan from Limerick fall to an unknown place, what action the court will take is the subject of discussion, as the arrest of those concerned for contempt of court, it is believed, would involve legal technicalities connected with the operation or otherwise of martial law.

UP TO CANADA.
OTTAWA, July 29.
Cancellation of war legislation in the United States, including the right granted Canadian fishing vessels to use United States ports equally with American fishing vessels, is it is understood, now engaging the serious consideration of the federal cabinet. In 1916, to assist in the successful prosecution of the war, Canadian and United States Governments granted Canadian and American fishing vessels the right to make equal use of ports of both countries. The withdrawal of the United States, which became effective July 15, leaves fishing vessels of that country still enjoying privileges of Canadian seaports, while Canadian vessels are refused the courtesies of American ports. Just what decision the federal cabinet will reach is not known, but as nearly as can be ascertained in circles close to the Government, it is probable that inasmuch as United States Government has withdrawn privileges hitherto accorded Canadian fishing vessels in United States ports, the Canadian Government will adopt a similar policy.

BRITISH YACHTS WIN.
RYDE, ISLE OF WIGHT, July 29.
Great Britain won the first race, sailed to-day, in the international six metre yacht race for the British-American cup. British yachts outscoring those from the United States on points. The race was sailed in squally weather.

YOLUNDA WRECKED.
SSYDNEY, July 29.
At 2.55 this morning the steamer Yolunda, 1055 tons, Captain James Melkie, went ashore on New's Harbor Point, while bound from Sydney to Montreal, with twenty five hundred tons of coal, and is expected to be a total loss. The Yolunda is owned, and was built by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co.

RETREAT CUT OFF.
SMYRNA, Asia Minor, July 29.
The retreat of Turkish Nationalists, operating on Irmid Peninsula, is reported to have been cut off by Greek columns, which have appeared some ninety miles north of Eski Shehr, according to advices received here to-day.
