L.A.A. Senior Team In Top Form To Take On Lucan Irish Nine

SOUTHERN CIRCUIT TO OPEN SATURDAY

London A. A. Crew Looks Good For Initial Game Here.

At Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon, Londoners who remember the Lucan Irish Nine which 15 and 20 years ago used to be strong rivals W. Askew of London teams, will have a chance G. Stevens to see the modern successors of the baseball history back in those days. Lucan, though only a hamlet in size, has never failed during the last quarter century in producing a baseball nine, and each succeeding team was heir to baseball traditions which have A. always set teams from that district E. slightly apart among amateur nines. traditions which are always at the B. back of rugby teams that hail from Petrolia and Dundas, the soccer
