As individual tacklers, though, the local squad fell down. With the exception of Simpson and Savage, the Londoners generally resorted to pack tactics in bringing down the Aggie ball carriers.

A difference was apparent in the way the two outfits got their plays away. Conboy alone on the visitors' line-up put actual pep into his plunges. The Aggles were held up time after time owing to hesitation somewhere in getting the ball into action. The Western attack, on the other hand, was noticeably lacking in the careful, methodical tactics apparent in previous games. Instead, everybody seemed to know just what to do and when to do it and how to do it right, and this was what gave the local collegians the edge.

End Runs Good.

Western didn't go through the O. A. C. line with any marked regularity until the last quarter, but in the first three frames the Londoners' extended run proved a big weapon, and in almost every attempt considerable gains were made through its use.

A crowd of 1,500 people saw the struggle. The college element was augmented greatly by citizens at large who have been attracted to the Western team by its remarkable showing this season.

Richard Augustus Bowen, Western cheer-leader de luxe, knew not an idle moment, and all through the fray he was as busy as a one-armed paperhanger, keeping the enthusiasm of the Western backers at top heat.

Play by play:

Sarnia in the three games played to date has yet to cross London's touch line for a try. The Sarnia team has been outscored in the three games 17 to 16.

The playing of Perry who was reported out of the game with boils, was of great assistance to the Sarnia team.

A protest has been entered by the Sarnia rugby club against the try Stirrett made in the first quarter on the grounds that the play was made after quarter time. As the incident happened at the end of the first quarter London would still have retained the ball, the play by play:

First Quarter.

Warren kicked off. At about four minutes an O. A. C. fumble gave Western the ball. After an extended end run, Mowry was pulled down three yards in front of the Aggies' goal line. The O. A. C. line held, and then the visitors worked it out to their 25-yard line, but they were stopped. At five minutes Howell drop-kicked the pigskin between the O. A. C. posts to be the lead.

After the Aggies had kicked to Western's 25-yard line, the London team came up for air again on the O. A. C. 25-yard line, the London team came up for air again on the O. A. C. 25-yard line, after Calder had made a spectacular run. From there Warren kicked to the deadline to give the locals another point, and two minutes later he repeated. Western's total was increased to eight when Howell sent over another beautiful field goal just before the opening quarter ended.

Second Quarter.

This frame went scoreless, with longrange punting the order of the moment the content of the content of the content of the moment of the content of the line, but did not have the tacklers to bring down the feet-footed Irish halfbacks. "Nis" LeBet, rated among the best broken field runners in football, was a constant ground-gainer for the Irish, and he teamed well with Bob Lowrey and Sham O'Brien, the other halves. Varsity's rearguard, Howett, Parks and Creighton, were steady on catches and strong on punts, but lacked the running powers of the Irish tries.

With only ten Western men on the field, due to penalties, and the ball on the O. A. C. 20-yard line, the locals showed their worth by putting over a touchdown, with Warren on the business end of the play, which took the form of a well-oiled extended run, with the scorer interpolating a one-man hurdie en route ness end of the play, which took the form of a well-oiled extended run, with the scorer interpolating a one-man hurdie en route.

Near the end of this quarter Roxborough slapped Western's shut-out hopes for a loop of lemon peelers when he sent the ball over the Londoners' posts for a field goal. Western 14: O. A. C. 3.

Fourth Quarter.

Guelph tried two bucks. Conboy booted to Warren on Western's two-yard line. Warren kicked to Conboy, who was down by Savage on Western's 45-yard line. Roxborough kicked to Johnston, who was down on the 25-yard line. Guelph got the ball on a fumble. On the third down Roxborough made his second-drop kick from the 30-yard line. Western 14, Guelph 6.

O. A. C. gained yards on three oucks. Savage forced the Aggies back. Conboy kicked to Maxwell. who was downed on the 45-yard line. Western tried an end run, making a short gain. Dutch Simpson made a speculuar 50-yard run, passing the entire Aggie team with the exception of one man, and being downed on Guelph's tenyard ine. Western was penalized. losing yards and the ball. The young gridders of the University of Western Ontario definitely disposed of the O. A. C. threat for the season when they defeated the Aggies, 20—6, at Tecumseh park Saturday. This victory put them on the top rung along with St. Michaels, who beat Varsity in Toronto.

Gouriay Howell, Western flying wing ran his drop-kicking average up a few more points by putting the pigskin over the O. A. C. posts for two field goals. FINAL SATURDAY provided an interesting game and was well patronized, quite a crowd being on hand to see the Railroaders qualify for the final by beating the St. Thomas Vets, 2—0. The game was fast all through, with the Killroaders showing the better combinataion. McFarlane at outside right for the winners played a bright game all through, and was easily their best forward.

The game had been in progress about 20 minutes when P. Baker the Vets' left back, put the ball through his own goal, while the Railroaders were pressing. It was hard luck for the visitors. The home team continued to have most of the play, and from a corner kick taken by Askew. Whitelaw scored their second goal after Wright had saved.

The second half was well contested, although the home team kept the visitors well in check, and Wright in goal was ever on the alert saving time and again. There was no more scoring, however.

Once more the Leafs and Railroaders will be cup finalists and next Saturday's final for the Brisco charity cup at the Sackville street grounds should be a well-contested game between these two old rivals. F. G. Carr will officiate at the game.

The Railroaders' attack showed im-provement in Saturday's game, and 'Wee' Peter Macfarlane was in rare

Bill Knight was in goal for the Rail-roaders and although he was not over-worked, it could be seen he was no stranger in that capacity.

A little humor was injected into the game when one of the home team called on the "Wets" to play up and the crowd soon remembered that St. Thomas voted dry recently. It was a case of "Wets" losing again.

Jack Baker at center half was easily the Vets' best man, but Wright in goal was their big gun.

Laurie Davey was playing under a handicap with a damaged hand, and Jimmie Marr and Jumbo Marchant were unable to play for the Vets. The two latter were badly missed.

The international game is to be staged on Thanksgiving Day, and the council is meeting tonight to select the two teams. This match has been eagerly awaited, and a record crowd is expected, especially with the weather good, as the funds will be devoted to a good cause. The juniors are anxious to stage a similar game so the fans will have a double-header for the holiday.
