Bob Barnes Is Assured For Pro Fight Card -:- De La Salle Gridders Are Eliminated

St. Louis Lightweight Is Signed To Meet Bob Barnes

Bobby Keane Will Be Test For Ex-Londoner at Arena Saturday Night.

BANTAMS SICN

The supporting card to the V cent-Thompson embroglio at the L don arena Saturday night has been lin. , up with the assurance of an oppount for Bob Barnes, the former London amateur, who, since his debut in pro a comer. Bobby Keane of St. Louis, among a host of possibilities, was finally chosen, and the tilt should give London fans a real line on Barnes, who was exceptionally popular as an amateur. Keane has been fighting amateur. Keane has been fighting professionally for several years, and is experienced and crafty. He's a hard hitter and clever, and he should make the pace for the more youthful Londoner, although the latter will be hard to outpace in the condition he keeps.

On a card that promises more real earnest action and local appeal than any other bill staged in the last few years, the Barnes-Keane mingle promises to feature.

years, the Barnes-Keane mingle promises to feature.

First Appearance.

As it is Barnes' first appearance since he left the Forest City and proceeded to get himself a reputation abroad, the bout has a big appeal but to those fans who followed Barnes while he fought as an amateur, there is the promise of real action, for Barnes takes no bicycle into the ring with him, and he has no pretentions to being a marathoner. Barnes likes fighting for the game's sake and the closer the mixing, the better he likes it.

Smiling Gardner of St. Thomas has been signed to meet Art Woodham. This is going to be a real neighborhood brawl, as Gardner, starting out his second campaign, cannot afford to lose his first fight, and young Woodham, who has kept steadily in training, despite lack of competition, wants to make a favorable start, his first in professional ranks.

Last of Shorts.

It is a four rounder and will probably be the last of the short breathers these two take, as Gardner on his form of last year is semi-final material for small local cards, and he'll have to take to the skround mills. If Woodham gets a draw with him or beats him, a return engagement between the two should be a be extraction.

gagement between the two should be a big attraction.

Jackie Jones was billed to appear here last spring, but the card was cancelled at the last moment. This will be the Welsh phenom's second fight this year, and he meets a clever boy in Lou Palmer of Columbus. Ohio.

This should be a sizzling match at the junior lightweight limit of 12s pounds. Jones has a punch lurking in both gloves, and so has Palmer. Palmer is the more experienced of the two, although Jones is said to be a natural fighter, so he won't be handicapped here much.

Grid Gossip

of Western and the intermediate squad.

London, it is believed, realizes, as a result of the Sarnia game, that one system is better than two or three, and they should display the promise they show on paper the next time out against the Sarnians. They'll have their backs to the wall to pull up even with the Sarnians.

As the result of lost drop-kicks on Saturday, everyone out at last night's workout essayed the stunt, even to the linesmen.

Western campus yesterday was still alive with excitement after Saturday's two victories. The junior team, which has received little of the spotlight, now stacks up as a formidable contender for Intercollegiate honors. That victory has made them formidable.

The results of football games played on Saturday showed that the races in all three unions are going to be anything but one-sided this season. The teams in the Interprovincial are on even terms, each having won and lost a game, and the figures in the matter of points scored for and against also make the teams rate even. Queen's was very lucky to win from Varsity on Saturday, and may meet with a reverse in the return game at Tremet The make the teams rate even. Queen's was very lucky to win from Varsity on Saturday, and may meet with a reverse in the return game at Toronto. The Presbyterians play at McGill next Saturday, and may meet with a surprise. In the O. R. F. U., Balmy Beach is out in front with two victories and no defeats, while Hamilton Rowing club and Camp Borden have each won and lost one. The Oarsmen play the return game with Balmy Beach at Toronto next Saturday, and, if weather conditions are at all favroable, there is every reason to look for them wining out the defeat they met with at home on Saturday. Tigers play Montreal at Hamilton on Saturday, and should come through with a victory while Argonauts invade Ottawa for the return game with the Senators. The Ottawas held the Scullers down well for two periods on Saturday, and will be hard to beat on their home lot. It looks like Tigers and Ottawa to win in the "Big Four" this week.

Saturday was a sad day for Varsity. The Intercollegiate team lost to Queen's 8 to 5, the O. R. F. U. team dropped a as a result of Saturday's games, the following was observed of St. Thomas teams:

"The local squad have to cover some ground if they expect to be a factor in the coming series. Their general-ship needs improvement, and some real hard schooling in tactics will have to be brought into play if they expect to oppose Sarnia with any degree of success. Melcaife as quarter is a capable punter, but their back division is weak.

"The juniors showed up better, and came across with some real work. Peacock and Wagner, on inside, carried a lot of weight against the Simcoe line. The junior team, while still light, turned in a good game, a d should prove a fund of raw material for next season's senior team."

New Welsh Light Heavy Is Comer

Frank Moody Has Beaten Some Good Men.

New York, Oct. 12.—Frank Moody, the light-heavyweight who came over from Wales in 1923 without a brass band and a press agent, is being flooded with offers these days for two or three reasons. The principal one is that his manager, Billy Ames, hasn't raised the ante simply because his scrapper has shown real ability, and another is that Frank has that real ability.

Billy is taking them all on and is going to keep Moody busy until he gets a chance at the light-heavyweight title. Frank has a pretty sound record. He once knocked out the Australian heavy, George Cook who was being talked of as an opponent of Harry Wills. Then he beat Roland Todd and Ted Moore, the chap who gave a good account of imself against Champion Harry Greb in twelve-round fight.

His first bid for real recognition came when he knocked out Lou Bogash, who bimself had met no less than four when he knocked out Lou Bogash who bimself had met no less than four when he knocked out Lou Bogash, who world's champions—Harry Greb, Mike O'Dowd, Mickey Walker and Jack Britton.
