FOR THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The editor of the Record nominated Mr. Norman Ford as a candidate for the Board of Education. Mr. Ford is a skilled mechanic employed in one of our furniture factories. The idea underlying this was in view of the important part which Technical Education is to play in the near future, that it would be a good plan to have a mechanic on the Board to voice the needs of a large class of our citizens. Berlin is yearly becoming more important as a furniture centre and the number of woodworkers is increasing. The aim of the Board of Education should be to make our educational system fit the needs of mechanics in all the principal lines of industry. The work which has been done in the way of night class at the College should be extended to the mechanics' every-day life. The attendance attested the appreciation of those receiving it.

The Record wished to see Berlin continuing to make the best furniture, the best boots and shoes, the best leather and the best of everything else in Canada, and to continue to make them. To do this successfully in the future skill must be laid on a foundation of technical education.

Thus it appeared to us that an intelligent mechanic like Mr. Ford would be of assistance in determining the character of the industrial training which is to be introduced in the near future.

We recommend his candidature to your favorable consideration.

WALKS MUST BE CLEANED

Or The Town Will Do It And Charge It Up.

If you want to report to the authorities regarding citizens who do not shovel their snow, you must be careful to get the right party. The police department looks after these cases where householders do not keep their walks clean. When the snow is not shovelled in front of a house lot, the matter should be reported to Roadmaster P. K. Weber, who will send his men out to perform the necessary task, and the cost of the same will be charged against the property.

The police are making a careful investigation into all complaints, and those residents who do not keep their walks clean will be requested to attend an assembly in the Police Court room.

The Holiday Rush
Is Over

And we must thank the good people of the two towns for the splendid trade we had.

Every year since we came to Berlin has been one continuous advancement. We cannot afford to stand still, and we thank the people for appreciating so substantially our efforts to please them. The same progressive policy will be followed during the coming year—the same effort to please—and the same effort to give the best possible value to our patrons. In our lines it is not necessary to go out of town to buy anything—we can meet the city prices and save you the express.

We extend to everyone the best of good wishes for the coming year.

MacCallum's

A Splendid Meeting

effort was being made to lead the voters to believe that Mr. Schmalz was being brought out by the Employers' Association. This was not so. Mr. Schmalz had been urged to stand for office by all classes of citizens, and his candidacy was one of the few examples of the office seeking the man. Mr. Schmalz believed, had accepted the nomination having in view an effort to restore harmony between the two factions. The speaker said that he stood for the workingman every time. It appeared to Dr. Jett that the labor people were getting it in the neck and that the only man benefitting was Mr. Halm, who was using the cry to further his own interests.

The speaker said that he had known Mr. Schmalz for 35 years and that that there was no whiter man in Berlin. He would make a Mayor of which all classes of citizens could be proud.

A Manufacturer Speaks.
Mr. W. Sasse of the Berlin Interior Hardware Company, asked permission to speak. He stated that he sided to protest against the unfair manner in which the Employers' Association had been spoken of during the campaign. He was a member of the Employers' Association and was not ashamed of it. The association had absolutely nothing to do with the candidacy of Mr. Schmalz, and it was very unfair to speak of the association in terms used during the meeting. If the association had for its object the grinding down of labor the speaker would not remain a member. He was prepared to take his oath that the association had nothing to do with Mr. Schmalz accepting the nomination. Those citizens who were opposing the manufacturers were opposing their own interests. His company was employing 80 hands, and paying out $50,000 a year in wages, and still they were being abused by speakers who wished to further their own ends.

Meeting To-night

Mr. Schmalz will hold his final meeting this evening at the Margaret Avenue School, when all ratepayers are invited to be present.

We positively guarantee, in writing, to refund every cent paid any student who at any time during the first two weeks in our College will stand in the presence of the class and state that we have misrepresented the facts, or that he or she is dissatisfied with our College or our System.

To Toronto pupils this would hardly be required, as they are in a position to personally investigate, but out-of-town persons, who are to be pardoned for being somewhat suspicious of the 30-day shorthand, the above written guarantee will dispel all doubt. Enclose this advertisement for full particulars of an actual cash saving of $75 to $100 and four or five months' time for wages. Address Moon College, 282-286 Yonge St., Toronto.

Has a Novel Plan.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—Joseph Brucker, who has announced his intention of attempting in March or April next to cross the Atlantic from the Cape Verde Islands to the Barbados or Trinidad, in the airship Suchard, will utilize a novel system to keep his gas cool and prevent loss from radiation. This will be accomplished by sprinklers constructed at the top of the envelope, which will spray water over the surface of the balloon. The water supply will be hand-drawn from the ocean in torped-shaped cylinders, offering a minimum resistance to the waves, and after being taken on board will be pumped through a hose to the sprinklers.

Brucker proposes to carry a crew of six in his craft, which will be equipped with two motors, each of 100 horse-power. A non-sinkable lifeboat will be taken along. He hopes to arrive on the other side after four or five days, and six nights of the air, taking advantage of the trade winds as far as possible.

The Daily Smile

"When I order poultry from you again," said the man who quarrels with his grocer, "I don't want you to send me any of those aeroplane chickens."

"What kind do you mean?"

"The sort that are all wings and machinery and no meat."—Washington Star.

"The only thing I find to say against you is that your washing bill is far too extravagant. Last week you had six blouses in the wash. Why, Jane, my own daughter never sends more than two!"

"Ah, that may be, mum," replied Jane, "but I have to! Your daughter's sweetheart is a bank clerk, while my young man is a chimney sweep. It makes a difference, mum."—Tit-Bits.

What reason have you to think that your boss thinks so much of you?"

"He refused to let me have my vacation during housecleaning time."—Houston Post.

Thin-haired Man—What! A shilling for cutting my hair? That's outrageous!

Barber—But, my dear sir, the hairs on your head are so far apart that I have to cut each one by itself.—London Tit-Bits.

"Do you mean to say that you refused the millionaire who proposed to you?"

"No, I didn't. I got a ten days' option on him."—Cleveland Leader.

I give you my word, the next person who interrupts the proceedings," said the Judge, sternly, "will be expelled from the courtroom and ordered home."

"Hooray!" cried the prisoner. Then the Judge pondered.—Judge.

"I don't see any sense in referring to the wisdom of Solomon," said the man smartly. "He had a thousand wives."

"Yes," answered the woman tartly, "he learned his wisdom from them."—Buffalo Express.

Mrs. Tellit—Yes, she is a decided blonde.

Mrs. Knockit—Indeed! When did she decide?—Milwaukee News.

"It was Charles Reade, wasn't it, who wrote 'Nothing is so terrible as a fool'?"

"Yes, but he was wrong. I live next door to a newly-married couple. If Charles could see them he would at once admit that two fools are even more terrible."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I understand you are engaged," said Mamie.

"Not yet," replied Maude. "I have several offers, but the engagement rings have not all been submitted for inspection."—Washington Star.

Eating Four Hundred Years Ago. Four hundred years ago eating was practically confined to two meals a day, but in many parts the second or evening meal was of such a protracted character that laws were passed limiting its duration. Thus at Berno there was a law against sitting at table more than five hours. At Bale, from 10 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening was the maximum permitted, but the town council was unable to practice its own counsels of perfection and on great occasions finished by private. In Saxony the innkeeper was forbidden to serve more than four dishes at one meal.
