

THE CITY AND VICINITY.

THE DAILY ROUND OF LIFE AND ABOUT TORONTO.

What the People are Doing and Saying and Thinking about - here Notes Gathered Everywhere by Wide-Awake World Reporters.

Hay on the market continues dear in consequence of the limited supply.

The newspaper offices are to have boxes of their own in the post-office tomorrow.

Among the items in the markets and health committee's accounts yesterday was one for "stove pipes for dog-smothering apparatus."

The gentlemen of the Jolly dogs camping party, Muskoka, dined together on Thursday night at Mr. Tottenham's, Albert street. They had a fine time.

The property committee yesterday decided to recommend a further appropriation of $1500 for dredging at Mead's wharf and $500 for planting trees on the island.

It is said that some of the Torontonians who went to the St. Thomas fair in the early part of the week were so well entertained that they have not yet returned.

Mr. S. N. DeFries of this city was elected grand junior conductor of the grand division of the order of railway conductors at its annual meeting in Buffalo yesterday.

A brakeman on the Credit Valley had his hand crushed yesterday afternoon at Waverton while coupling cars. He was taken off duty and is now under the doctor's care. Clancy was the conductor.

At county court chambers yesterday, before Judge Mackenzie, in the case of Dain v. Geo. S. Street, an order was granted setting aside the arrest of the defendant on a capias, the defendant not being any action for illegal arrest.

According to agreement, the Grand Trunk have delivered over to the Toronto, Grey and Bruce railway six locomotives, seventy box-cars and about one hundred and twenty-five pairs of tracks, all new-built and of the standard gauge.

A copy of the Garfield memorial resolution passed by the Council, handsomely illuminated by Mr. J. G. Owens and surrounded by a portrait of the late president, was shown at the executive chamber yesterday. It is to be forwarded to the family.

For the information of those who are contemplating matrimony, we may mention that wedding cards this winter will be of the square, paste-size, heavy paper, engraved with running script or hand-written letters; no embellishment of any kind on either card or envelope, not even a monogram.

Rossie house arrivals: W. H. Hutchins, Lacan; A. Macnab, Winnipeg; J. A. McIntosh, Brampton; A. J. McBrien, Wilson, N. Y.; Beazford, Galt, Bradford; E. B. Foster, Lowmanville; Geo. Abell, Woodbridge; R. B. Campagne, J. Stewart, Chas. Somerville, J. H. Hamilton, E. H. Campbell, Montreal; G. F. Smith, G. D. Ellis, London, Eng.

Neil Campbell, from Caledonia, arrived in the city yesterday night. He entered a saloon, got drunk, and was found on York street station about one o'clock yesterday morning and taken to Court street station. When he came to his senses he discovered that his watch, valued at $35, and $12 in cash, had been stolen from him. He informed a detective, who set to work to look up the case.

The change of time on the Credit Valley railway goes into effect on Monday next. Trains will leave as follows: 7:45 a.m. from Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Orangeville, Fergus and Elora; 12:50 noon (daily) for Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, the West and Northwest; 4:30 p.m. for Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Orangeville, Fergus and Elora; and arrive at 8:40 a.m. from Orangeville, Fergus and Elora; 10:40 a.m. from St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit; 1:10 p.m. (daily) from St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit; 6:25 p.m. from Orangeville, Fergus and Elora; 9:25 p.m. from St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit.

An inquest was held yesterday at the Royal Arms hotel, to inquire into the cause of death of the boy Victor Hart. The jury was empaneled, and the evidence of a lamp-lighter named Nicholas Mitchell, who carried the boy home, was heard. He detailed the circumstances, and remarked that the carman whose vehicle passed over the boy might have taken him home. The coroner, Wm. Bread, explained that he was driving a quartette in the G. W. R. depot and was afraid of missing the train if he stopped to take up the boy. Victor Glasgow, the little fellow who was alleged to have pushed the car in front of the car, said he did not know the sidewalk. Deceased ran out in front of the car. Dr. Barrick testified as to the cause of the boy's death - rupture of the bladder - and the jury after hearing the coroner's review of the evidence, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Barry & Fay's comedy company, that are to appear at the Royal opera house on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week, are spoken of as follows by the Cleveland Sunday Times: Since the dedication of the Academy of music to the service of the muse, a grander reception was never accorded a company than that received by The Barry & Fay Comedy Combination, in Muldoon's Picnic. Despite the oppressiveness of the weather the house was packed from floor to ceiling with a select, eager and appreciative audience each night, standing room being at a discount. The wonderfully talented company held their patrons in one prolonged embrace of mirth and ecstasy. Their success was complete, and well they deserve the thundering applause accorded very specially brought out each member thoroughly controlling the humor and mirth of the house for his or her delectable benefit.

MARKETS AND HEALTH.

The committee met at 3 p.m. yesterday. Present: Ald. Clarke, Blevins, Love, Fleming, Crocker, Lake. In the absence, through illness, of Ald. Ball, Ald. Love took the chair. A requisition was received for $333 45 for supplies of clothing for the poor. Ald. Blevins thought the prisoners should make their own clothing. The requisition was adopted. Ald. Crocker moved that the council be recommended to instruct the city solicitor to take such steps as may be necessary to regain possession of the walks and gardens' property on the west of the cattle market, leading to Mr. Silliman, but from which no revenue is now being derived, with a view to a portion of the land being used for the purpose of enlarging the said cattle market.

Carried. A communication was received from Thomas Dennis, Allen, Joseph, Ball and John Cooper, trustees of the property of the said cattle market, asking to be supplied with coal for the winter months. Mr. Allen appeared before the committee and represented that the trustees of the turkeys had been very arduous during the last six months. After he had left it was decided to let the matter stand for a week. Mr. A. B. Wright, turnkey at the goal, wrote to the committee asking that he had first been suspended and afterwards dismissed without pay, and that the case be considered, and decided not to entertain the application. A letter was received from John Clyne, saying that he had been for thirty years a convict in the city, that it had been the custom to remit the license fees and asking a similar indulgence this year. It was decided that the application could not be entertained. It was ordered that the work at the goal be proceeded with by the commissioner, with the assistance of Mr. Hardy. The commissioner asked whether it would not be well to ask for another appropriation of $200 for catching dogs. It was decided to make a recommendation accordingly. The commissioner said he had a couple of horses to dispose of. It was decided to send them to Grand's for sale. The committee then adjourned.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. A meeting of this committee was called for four o'clock yesterday, but it was considerably after that hour before those members arrived to form a quorum. Those present were Mr. Dunsen, Clarke, Eoswell, Fleming and Love. A communication was received from Mr. Scott with reference to his arbitration with the city, and that gentleman subsequently appeared and stated his grievance to the board. It appears that some two years ago a street was opened up through his property, and an arbitrator was instituted to ascertain what amount he was entitled to for compensation. The arbitrators awarded some $1500 to him, but the award was afterwards set aside, as he says, on account of a mere technical point. The city claim that it is a matter between Mr. Scott and the property holders on the street, who were merely allowed to use the name of the corporation in the proceedings. Mr. Scott, on the other hand, says he dealt with the city and knows no one else in the transaction. An offer of compromise has been made by the property holders, but Mr. Scott says the effect of it would be that he would simply be clear of costs, and would get no compensation for his land. The chairman informed him that unless the city could mediate in some way between the parties, they would have to take their own course.

Several items of clothing for prisoners at the goal appearing in the report of the committee on markets and health were referred to the solicitor, in order to see whether the city was liable to provide such clothing.

Mr. T. G. Blackstock appeared on behalf of the Toronto Grape Sugar company, and objected to two provisions in the by-law enjoining the company from creating a nuisance, which he maintained was onerous to the company without any corresponding benefit to the city. It was decided that he should draft new clauses to be submitted to the committee.

The committee then adjourned.

YESTERDAY'S ASSIZE COURT.

Taylor v. Davison was referred to the arbitration of Mr. David Kerr. In Danielson v. Dodson plaintiff obtained a verdict of $569 89 with immediate execution. In the uncompleted action of North of Scotland mortgage company v. Blackstock for and recovery of arrears due on a mortgage for $250, with interest at 8 per cent., a verdict for $250 70 was recorded for the plaintiff. An order for immediate execution was applied for, which his lordship said was not usual unless the securities were shown to be insufficient. Mr. Nathan, an employee of the company, testified that defendant's mother had a life interest in the property, on which there were arrears due to her. The solicitors of the company had advised that the life interest belonged to the plaintiff, Mr. James W. Henderson, valuator for the company, considered the property not worth more than $3500. The defendant's mother relied on the property. Mr. Falconer, for the company, said that they had offered to make a considerable reduction if the money was paid in ten days. He asked for the issue of execution at the end of that time, which was granted. The trial of Mead v. G-ides, an action about Mead's wharf at island, was postponed until after Tuesday. How v. Reeves was an action to recover premises on the southwest corner of Queen and Portland streets leased by plaintiffs to defendant, Mary Reeves, and sold by her to defendants Jolliffe and James Clough, the ground being non-payment of a year's rent. Hason W. M. Murray appeared for plaintiffs, James Clough, T. J. W. Jones for defendants. Verdict for plaintiffs. The case of Gouin v. Hartigan, by consent of counsel, was postponed until Wednesday, a settlement being expected meanwhile. Woodson v. Shibles was postponed until next Tuesday. Chamber v. Lawin was transferred to the chambers of Justice.

AGAINST THE COURSE LIVES.

The Justice's assize last evening received most gratifying proof that the citizens do not approve of the action of the bad keepers in their shabby treatment of the people. There was a crowd of house and a lighted audience, which, if it had been allowed its own way, would have numbered each number and as it was, the people were actually requested almost every one of the people of the United States to be a temperate man.

THE DEATHS OF A NIGHT.

The death of a night, a woman, known as Diamond Hall, at 148 Yonge street, died last evening at 11 o'clock. She was 45 years of age, and had been ill for some time. Her husband, James Hall, is a well-known publican in the city.

A WEDDING THAT WASN'T.

No Cards - No Cake - No Bridgroom - But the Wedding Trip Goes on all the Same.

That there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip holds good in matrimony as well as in betting on the fastest (?) horse. A short time ago a Stamford girl of the mature age of 18 or 19 years was married to the man of her acceptance - to speak guardedly. The hour arrived, likewise the minister, who had been summoned all the way from Bridgeway to tie the knot matrimonial, but the bridegroom came not. Instead of waiting and crying and going hysterics over it, our heroine, who by the way is an elegant tressuree ahead, pluckily packed her trunk and took her "wedding tour" along with some friends to the provincial exhibition (whither the "happy pair" had proposed to have wended their nuptial matrimonial footsteps) and kind of stuff we like to see girls made of. It is rumored that the gentleman, who has just left his farm to this country and conveniently goes west, took this mode of getting even with her ladyship for some exacting caprices which he had been subjected to.

James Wilson was arrested for abusing his wife and turning her out of doors. Fined $1 or thirty days. Alexander Turnbull pleaded guilty to breaking some window glass, saying it was his first offence; fined $4 without costs or thirty days.

Simon Dean was charged with stealing some oatmeal from Mrs. Farley, and with breaking windows in John McFadden's store. Mrs. Farley failed to identify the meal produced, and Dean was remanded till the 10th inst.

David Neilly was charged with stealing $175 from Martin Neelon. The latter said he lived in Ingersoll, and came to the city on a visit. He went with others into the street, where he saw Martin Neelon's store. When coming away Neilly says his pockets were picked. Prisoner was committed for trial.

Yesterday what was supposed to be a horse was hauling a wagon on Beverley street. Constable Metge ordered the driver to unhitch the beast, which had hardly done so when it was run over by a number of boys collected and shoved one another on top of the carcass. Knowing, one of the young offenders was charged with removing her furniture while owing Francis Lewis a month's rent. Mrs. Stocks said that she was willing to pay the rent as soon as her husband returned from Montreal, but was unable to do so now, and asked for an adjournment for two weeks until his return.

Mary Wilson pleaded not guilty to the charge of using insulting language towards Thomas Morrison. Mary said that she had her pass-book to Morrison to read up; it did not agree with the account he had rendered, and she told him so, whereupon he told her to get out of the store, and she took it and returned to her home. Morrison said that Mary called him a low loading drunkard on Saturday last. She was fined $2 without costs.

PRESENTATION.

Yesterday afternoon the bugle won by the military band of the city at the drill competition held during the industrial exhibition was presented by Mr. J. J. Wishrow, president of the exhibition association. At three o'clock the boys were drawn up in the form of a hollow square with one side open, the girls being arranged on the outside. They were presented by Mr. Withrow, Mr. Jas. Bain, chairman of the board of school trustees, Messrs. E. P. Roden, James Galt, and Mr. J. J. Wishrow, Mayor Beatty, and the teachers of the school. Mr. Bain introduced Mr. Withrow, who said he had not been present at the competition, but that he was interested in the result. He then presented the bugle, which was a handsome silver one, made in Paris, and valued at $100. It was presented to the city by the girls of the squad. The captain read an address in reply, expressing the pleasure of the boys at receiving this mark of distinction, and saying that if over the country should be involved in a war the training they were now receiving might prepare them to do their duty in the defence of their liberties and their homes. The boys were then addressed by ex-Mayor Beatty and Messrs. Roden, Bain, McGee and Houston, and the presentation was concluded by a cheer for Mr. Withrow and the directors of the association, ex-Mayor Beatty and Mr. Roden. The girls then played a march, and the presentation was concluded by a cheer for Mr. Withrow and the directors of the association, ex-Mayor Beatty and Mr. Roden.

Gen. Garfield's Noble Wife.

A correspondent says it was but a few months before President Garfield was inaugurated that, in speaking of some public man whose domestic affairs had crippled his course of usefulness, he said: "I want to say a word about my wife. I have never had to explain away any word of hers. She has been so prudent that I have never been diverted from my work for one minute to take up any mistake of hers. She is perfectly unimpassable. When things got to the worst and there is the most public clamor, and there is the most danger to me and to us, then she is the coolest. Sometimes it looks a little blue before me, but I get courage from her perfect bravery." He then apologized for having complimented his wife.

Making Room for Their Table. A funny report from Chamounix, says London World, that a millionaire American had four times attempted the ascent of Mont Blanc, and had been four times repulsed; that, exasperated by his successive failures, he had sworn that, living or dead, he would be on the summit of Mont Blanc; and that he died. Before his decease he made a will, bequeathing his immense fortune to his three nephews on the condition that they would transport his body to the top of the mountain, and that the three nephews have arrived at Chamounix, and are making arrangements for a magnificent funeral procession to the summit, where they will find room for their meal.

A French Spectator. Amongst recent arrivals at Winnipeg was Count de Londe, of Paris, France. This gentleman is a member of a French syndicate that has purchased 200,000 acres of land in the Northwest, which they intend to have cultivated and houses erected thereon, and afterwards divided up and sold as improved farms. It is probable that the area of the tract will be doubled. The count is there now to select the land - this being his second visit to Manitoba.
