

THE BOND STREET PULPIT

DR. WILD DISCUSSES PEACE AND WAR.

A Great European War Foretold, in which England Takes no Part—He defines her position towards Egypt.

Reference was made by the doctor to a sermon preached by him in 1852 from the same text, and he read a quotation from it to show that he had clearly defined God's purpose in reference to Egypt.

In that discourse the coming conflict was forecast, and the assertion made that Egypt's destiny would be in the hands of England.

The course pursued by Mr. Gladstone has foretold the defeat of the Beaconsfield government and the elevation of Mr. Gladstone.

The query is, how could these things be so foretold? The reply is, that certain events were indicated by the contrast between the policies of these distinguished political leaders.

God also has a policy, and it is one of peace to all men. His ministers are the lost tribes of Israel—England and the United States—and these people have recognized the universal brotherhood of man.

They have freed their own slaves, and have helped to break the shackles of those of other nations.

Quotations were given from prophecy in aid of the contention of the identity of the lost tribes.

Reference was made to the purity of purpose of the Gladstone government, but the assertion was added that the purpose was not always subservient to the divine law.

The speaker declared himself in favor of the laws of God as ignored.

Prophecy was adduced to show that Egypt must fall into the hands of England for educational and moral purposes.

The course pursued by the nations in reference to the recent conference was reviewed, and the result was a warning to the nations.

The sending of an additional force to the Sudan, including a Canadian contingent, was said to be a part of the campaign mapped out in this pulpit years ago.

The criticism was made that if England had only acted in the past 50 years in accordance with the laws of God, she would have been saved.

The speaker declared himself in favor of the laws of God as ignored.

The liberals of England, who claim to be the peace party, have been during the past 50 years the cause of the most bloodshed in the world.

The conservatives can only be charged with the responsibility for five during the same period.

Would it not pay England—would it not pay the world—not to attempt to pay the world not to attempt to help in hastening the day of universal peace by opening their hearts to the indwelling of the holy spirit.

England and France, and these powerful nations will never act in concert again.

The next great movement of the world will be a struggle between France and England, and this struggle will be a struggle in which England will take no part.

Austria and Prussia will ally themselves with France, and these will be the powers of the future.

Walk in the light of the Lord and obey His laws and you shall be saved.

They lived together in Germany until ten days ago, when she learned that her parents and husband had ascertained their whereabouts. They immediately started for America, and she was found on the steamer Ebe.

It was learned by her own admission that the couple were not married, and as the girl will soon become a mother, the Committee of Immigration refused to permit her to land.

Movements of the French Fleet in the East—The Short of Cannon—The Latest Reports.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—The report that Germany has protested against the action of the French in not landing troops from the men-of-war to protect the interests and lives of foreigners at Foo Chow during the late bombardment is not given much credence here, although it is known that general disaffection exists. Attacks of the ministry of marine point to the fact that it was impossible to land troops. He had not a sufficient number to make a landing effective, and he was not certain of being opposed by a much superior force of Chinese. He could not afford, they say, to risk any serious loss of his available troops, having only a small number. These he had been instructed to save for an emergency. He is likely to arrive with the number of men-of-war he has at his disposal. A despatch from Shanghai says that as soon as the French fleet began to ascend the river, the Chinese began to repair the damage the French had inflicted upon the Min river and the Chinese army intended to erect forts and breastworks. If they had had these, says the despatch, the French fleet would not have found such easy work silencing the guns. The bursting of the Krupp guns by gun cotton has inflicted irreparable damage on the Chinese artillery service. They were the largest and best pieces of ordnance the Chinese had, and in fact the only one at all effectively used. It is of course impossible to replace them, and if another attack should be made on the place before the Chinese can get new ordnance, they have received imperial orders to attack all French war ships and to enter the treaty ports. Those in port are ordered to depart immediately.

The Chinese military commanders everywhere have received imperial orders to attack all French war ships and to enter the treaty ports. Those in port are ordered to depart immediately.

GLADSTONE IN SCOTLAND.

He Addresses an Immense Audience at Glasgow.

EDINBURGH, Aug. 30.—The town council and liberal associations of this city presented addresses of welcome to Mr. Gladstone this afternoon on route to the Glasgow exchange, where a meeting was held. The exchange was thronged with people and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The hall was lavishly decorated in Mr. Gladstone's honor. It is estimated that 5000 persons were present at the meeting. Mr. Gladstone made a speech of ten minutes. He recounted the franchise bill, which had been conceded to Tory ideas in order to avert a conflict, laying particular stress on the fact that the bill should not go into operation until 1885, in order to allow the passage of a redistribution bill. He stated that the subject of complete electoral reform involved too many questions to be considered. He said that the passing of the franchise bill before bringing forward the redistribution bill. He hoped the lords would listen to reason and enter upon the question of reform in the house of lords until found satisfactory to the commonsense of the country. The admission of an congress his whole attention. He was not adverse to an admittance of hereditary principle in the commonsense, but those who denied the right of lords to decide upon appeals to the crown, he considered to be in principle was treason to British liberty. He would rather abandon his share in the franchise bill, than sanction such an innovation. A vote of confidence closed the proceedings, which were most enthusiastic.

Mr. Gladstone delivered a political address to the citizens at night in the town hall. The hall was immensely decorated and very enthusiastic. The premier appeared to be in better health than he has for a long time, and his voice was clear and resonant.
