The proceedings on Saturday commenced with an "illuminated march" at dusk. The illumination consisted of torch lights, oil lamps and Chinese lanterns and was effective.
It was a united march, the respective corps from the Temple, and Yorkville, Riverside, Richmond, Lisgar and Lippincott Barracks taking part. To the enlivening strains of martial salvationism, the tour of Queen, York, King and Yonge was made, quite as much attention being attracted in the busy streets as the projectors of the show desired.

In the Temple there was a big gathering and brave show, alike of audience and active participants. To the uninitiated the array of officers and orders was a surprise, for there were: The Dominion Commissioner, chiefof staff, majora, divisional officers, the French brigade from Quebec, the War Cry brigade,
training home cadets, headquarters staff, rescue home department, and a juvenile trumpeter. These were each in their respective uniforms, and a strange, vari-colored aspect the large platform presented.

Equally effusive was the nature of the proresedures; the trumpets blazed the drums

The music had a stirring effect, hymns to the tunes of "Men of Harlech," "John Brown's Body," "The Old Chariot," "O it was Love," having a decidedly stimulating power. Zeal sometimes outran knowledge, as ombes wished it to be—"a rattling salvation is." One testified that he was going "to the devil," another was saved from "the mned drink," an officer sang in music-hall le "Good-bye, Old Devil, Good-bye," and er could not restrain himself and certainly ated if not danced.

imorous mien and, above and the most ration of well-nigh soner gave ocular demonstration of well-nigh perpetual motion.

The meeting was a "welcome home," the Toronto Temple being the centre from which a bost of officers have gone forth to the war. Mimic war there was on Saturday night. Tremendous volleys were fired—a combination of unmelodious sounds, broadsides were sent into the devil's camp, the cries of "war to the knife," victory or death, and "no surrender," met with stentorian choruses of "amen." And anon the roll-call was mentioned, in which there were blanks of those "promoted to glory." Victories were recounted, battles described and persecutions sketched. Now and scribed and persecutions sketched. Now and stentoriou turned to zeal and a vocal declaration of readmess to suffer, bleed and die in the holy crusade.
